PRES. SETZER OF ALUMNI ASS'N DIES IN GREENSBORO

Local Educator and National
Head of Alumni Association
Was Firm Believer in A.-T.

WAS BURIED IN SEDALIA

Funeral Services at St. Matthews Church
Under Dr. Weatherby—President
Bluford Pays Tribute.

The Prof. James L. Setzer, a staunch member of St. Matthews M. E. Church, Greensboro, N. C., and an active supporter of all movements at the A. and T. College, passed away at the L. Richardson Memorial Hospital, September 21, 1931. At the time of his death he was principal of the Gibsonville Graded School and president of the A. and T. Alumni Association. Mr. Setzer was active in Masonic and civic activities.

He was born in York County, Clover, S. C., in 1893, and entered the Academy at Kings Mountain at the age of 16 in 1909, finishing there at the expiration of four years. He then entered the A. and T. College in the fall of 1913. He was one of the foremost members of his class and was its president at graduation. Mr. Setzer had lived well to the motto of his class, "Not Wealth, But Service," as is exemplified in his itinerant experiences.

After graduation he accepted a position at North Carolina College for Negroes (then N. R. T. School). He went from there to Harrison Agricultural College in Irma, S. C., and from Harrison to Sedalia Institute as academic instructor for one year and later as teacher of vocational agriculture. This position he held for four years. He was then appointed principal of the Thomasville Graded School, Thomasville, N. C. He went from there to the George Eastman School in Halifax County as principal and teacher of vocational agri-

AG. DEPARTMENT HAS ANNUAL FAIR

Teachers and Students Co-operate in Staging Most Successful
Event of This Kind.

A NOVEL ARRANGEMENT

The Ag. Fair, which is held in connection with the home-coming game every year, was on display Friday and Saturday, October 16 and 17. The fair, conducted by members of the Agricultural department with teachers as advisers, showed marked improvements over the one of last year. There were on exhibit some of the modern ideas in the farm of dairy displays, corn selection, poultry keeping, farm crops, and a number of others.

The booths were under the direction of Seniors with teachers of the Ag. department as advisers, and student committees. James Moffitt, interested chiefly in dairy products, displayed the dairy exhibit in such unique manner as to portray economy and the food value of milk. There were shown some of the many things which could be made from the chief center of dairying—milk, such as cottage cheese, butter, cream, and a number of other good things.

The agronomy booth was under the direction of W. H. Stone. Good seeds, and the things to be grown in order to keep the land fertile, were exhibited.

The poultry exhibit was at its best under the direction of M. J. J. Mitchell. It presented balanced as against unbalanced rations and the effect it had on eggs.

The chemistry exhibit with L. C. Colson as head showed the intricate relationship between agriculture and chemistry, in that there were a number of

SIXTH ANNUAL DUDLEY DAY IS OBSERVED

Dr. J. M. Gandy, Virginia Educator and Personal Friend of Pres. Dudley, Is Speaker.

PRES. BLUFORD PRESIDES

Observance Is Held on Monday, November 2, on Birthday of Mr.
Dudley.

James B. Dudley Day, which has become an established custom, was fittingly observed on the campus Monday, November 2 (President Dudley's birthday). The entire plant came to a standstill promptly at 11 o'clock to assemble in the new Dudley Memorial Chapel for the program.

In the absence of Mr. W. M. Williams, '07, one of President Dudley's former students who had been secured to talk on the life of the late president, Dr. Bluford made very touching remarks along this line before presenting Dr. Gandy, president of Virginia State College, and a close friend of the deceased, who delivered the principal address.

The speaker took as his subject "Education in a Machine Age." He declared that today machinery was capable of satisfying most human wants, and that this has made a "higher level" of education necessary because "ignorance and machinery don't mix."

Dr. Gandy further declared that we "were just on the fringe of the machine age" which is destined to revolutionize our social and economic life. He urged that education must play a greater part in training, both for vocations and leisure; and that President Dudley was a vigorous champion of this very type of education.

Mrs. Vivian Jones, the only child of President and Mrs. Dudley, was present. Mrs. Dudley, who has been in ill health during the last few years, was unable to be present.

Classes were suspended for the remainder of the day, and President Bluford urged the faculty, students, and friends to pay a visit to Mrs. Dudley.

Music was furnished by the Choral Club. A large number of alumni, former students and friends were present and expressed themselves as being gratified with the program.

ELLIS F. CORBETT GOES TO JOURNAL AND GUIDE

Former Editor-in-Chief of Register Is Given Important Position With Metropolitan Weekly.

WAS SUCCESSFUL AT A. AND T.

Ellis F. Corbett, '31, who was editor-in-chief of the Register last year, is now a member of the staff of the Norfolk Journal and Guide. We wish to congratulate Mr. Corbett on this appointment. He is worthy of it. We also wish to congratulate the Journal and Guide on securing the services of this young man. It will mean business to them.

Mr. Corbett completed a course in Journalism while at A. and T. His position on the staff of the student publication gave him contact with newspaper methods and problems. He has a natural love for this work. We believe he will carry the same enthusiasm and energy that he displayed here with him into this larger field, with the same success and satisfaction.

A. M. OVERTON GOES TO RUSSIA AS INSTRUCTOR

Anthony M. Overton of Hertford, N. C., and an A. and T. graduate of the class of 1929, has been called by the Russian government to teach the Russian boys cotton raising.

Since his graduation from the Agricultural department, Overton has been engaged as a teacher of Vocational Agriculture at Rich Square, N. C., where he gained national recognition. In a convention of Agricultural students held in Washington, D. C., in 1930, Overton's students won second place in a national stock judging contest.

He is working under a two-year contract with renewal option. Graduates from several other leading colleges have responded to the call of the Soviets, and are now in that strange land as teachers.

PRESIDENT BLUFORD TALKS TO ALUMNI

Returning Graduates Enjoy
Hour of Reminiscence and Inspiration.

SPAULDING PRESIDES

The A. and T. Alumni met in the Agricultural Auditorium at 6:30 Friday evening prior to the home-coming game. The meeting opened with a word of prayer by Mr. S. T. Brooks. A few opening remarks were given by Vice-President M. F. Spaulding. Dean Helmes, of St. Augustine College, made a short talk. He stated that all alumni should be able to be counted on to send in to the college bright minds to cultivate.

Following this a representative of each class present was given two minutes to express himself. In their expressions it was brought out that the decorated arch and the words of welcome made them feel better than they had felt toward the institution since leaving. Following this President Bluford gave words of welcome and briefly emphasized the recent accomplishments of the school. He also outlined his plans for the future. Brief mention was made of the fact that he was expecting the Alumni to do something worth while in the near future to help the school in its struggle upward.

Mr. T. A. Hamme, '29, of Durham, made brief mention of the relationship committee which he heads and of their recommendation, namely, of fostering scholarships to worthy students.

Those present left the meeting with the feeling of brotherhood and good will and determination to do. Vice-President M. F. Spaulding has received several letters from various members pledging themselves to back up any move we might foster for the school. Members attending the meeting were given complimentary tickets for the game.

ATHLETIC SEASON PASS BOOK REPLACES CARD

The Athletic Board of Control, headed this year by Professor T. B. Jones, has gotten a very unique season pass book.

The book about 3x2 contains thirty cover numbered pages, each with a unique design. Being perforated along connecting edge, is easily detached upon entering an athletic contest.

The outer page or back contains the student's name and student number. It is used on same condition as of former passes non-transferable, and no student admitted with pass book, etc.

A. AND T. GAINS STRENGTH IN NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Prof. Weaver Was Member of Harvard Debating Team
Where He Won Distinction.

MISS F. BYRD LIBRARIAN

Prof. Knox, New Bedford, Mass., Was Noted Football Player at Bates College.

A. and T. gained three new faculty members this year. Prof. Robert Weaver comes to the head of the department of Economics with his B. S. Cum Laude, and A. M., from Harvard University, where he has also completed his resident work for the Ph. D. While in college Mr. Weaver was a member and secretary of the Harvard Debating Council and winner of the following awards: Coolidge Debating Medal, 1928; a Boylston Speaking prize, 1928, the Pasteur Debating Medal, 1928, and one of the three men to receive medals as Eastern Inter-Collegiate Debating League champions, 1927-1928.

Professor Weaver was the first Negro to pass the general examinations for the Ph. D. in Economics at Harvard.

Mr. Weaver had been assigned as coach of the debating teams for this school year.

Prof. L. H. Knox, B. S. Bates College, and M. S. Stanford University, comes to us as head of the department of Chemistry. Professor Knox brings a rich scientific experience. He was distinguished in chemistry both in Bates and Stanford.

Mr. Knox has been requested to become the faculty adviser of the Gamma Tau Scholarship Society.

The new librarian is Miss Florence L. Byrd, B. S. Tufts College, B. S. in Library Science, Hampton Institute. Miss Byrd is faculty adviser for the Y. W. C. A.

Registrar T. B. Jones, who was on leave of absence for a year's study on his Ph. D. at Columbia, has returned as head of the Department of Education.

Prof. H. B. Crutcher, of the Dairy Industry Department, who was also on leave of absence last year at Iowa State College, where he won his M. S. degree in Dairy Science, is back to his laboratory this year.

HOME COMING DAY IS OBSERVED OCTOBER 16

Campus, Beautifully Decorated in the Old Gold and Blue, Was a Pretty Scene.

MANY FORMER STUDENTS RETURN

Home-coming day was a decided success, being observed here on Friday, October 16. Events of interest, including the football game against Lincoln University, a meeting of the Alumni Association and the annual agricultural fair, drew graduates and former students, not to mention friends of the institution, to the beautifully decorated campus.

The morning of the 16th found a committee headed by C. W. Williamson (and E. J. (Red) Jones, perched on the arch at the entrance, busily painting "Blue and Gold," our new few hours the entire campus adorned with them.

The leading event, the football game, was lost by a score of 14-0 (page). In spite of this, the day was manifested.

The agricultural fair at the Agricultural Auditorium was a success.

Our Policy

In assuming the responsibility of producing the REGISTER this year it will always be our aim to publish the activities of A. & T. College in a spirit of fairness to all.

We want to urge all students especially to express themselves in print more frequently and more effectively.

We shall always aim to maintain the high standard achieved by the REGISTER in previous years, and do all that we can to make it even greater.

We believe that with full co-operation of all, these things can be done. We shall appreciate your encouragement and support.

THE EDITORS.

Encouraging

We take pleasure in calling attention of our readers to an Editorial appearing recently in the Charlotte Observer on Education. This great daily rates our own A. & T. as one of the "best in the country, white or colored," and is willing to say so. This great editorial is reproduced elsewhere on this page.

From New York university comes a similar rating in its list of institutions of higher learning recognized by the Board of Requests. And wish to add that all of this is encouraging.

AMONG THE ALUMNI

During the present year, notwithstanding the depression, four recent A. and T. College graduates have registered in some of the country's leading universities for graduate study.

W. H. Williamson, '28, brother of our own Troy, is working on his Master's degree in Agricultural Economics in Cornell.

C. L. Spellman, '29, is out on the Pacific coast in Oregon State College taking his Master's degree in Vocational Agriculture.

J. C. McLaughlin, '31, who was president of the Student Council and Student Body last year, is now a graduate student of Cornell in the department of Agricultural Chemistry.

S. B. Peace, '31, is in the University of Detroit working on his Master's degree in the Biological and Social Sciences.

All of these men made high scholarship records at A. and T. We are hoping that they will do equally as well in their graduate studies.

Minnie Johnson, '31, is teaching in Enfield, N. C.

Mr. F. A. Williams, '31, head of Ag. Department of Henderson Institute.

E. A. Droughn, '31, has a similar position at Lincoln Academy.

L. Peterson, Lexington High.

Student Pulse

DO WE WANT TENNIS?

During last year, especially in the springtime, quite a bit of unrest was voiced by some students because we had no tennis courts, but we ourselves as members of the student body are to blame. All of the former students can well remember that our president made the offer that if some of the men would clear off and level a suggested spot he would give the wire, posting, net and other things needed for a good court. No initiative was taken by any of the men and therefore we have as yet no courts. I am nearly sure that this offer still holds good. So let us get together wholeheartedly and level off the suggested site; so that when the tennis season comes we can play tennis as much as we desire without having to visit other campuses.

V. D. WHITE.

FRANK WOOD

Little have we considered how dutiful our own president of the student body, Frank Wood, has been.

In every activity he has played his part well. The distribution of the new Pass book, the arrangement of receptions to football teams, the Freshman social, and many other campus activities have found Frank on the job, and doing great service.

I do not mean to reflect upon the services of preceding president of the student body when I state frankly that in my four years as a student of A. and T. College I have not seen one as active and earnest in the performance of his duties as the present one.

Let us as members of this great unit, the "student body," lend every helping hand to him that his term may be an example for the future.

Our hats are off to you, Frank. Call on us any time. You are a part of us. We chose you because we thought you would lead us aright, and we are determined more than ever to stand and work with you.

E. J. JONES.

PRESS COMMENTS

NEGRO EDUCATION

The subject of Negro education in the South now splits into the current discussions on, depression, prohibition, Gandhi and the gold standard—and North Carolina stands in position to welcome it, with perhaps the best exhibit in the Nation. The Houston Post-Dispatch has observed that professional friends in the North of the Negro are making loud complaint about "lack" of educational advantages for colored youth in the South. However, it is characteristic of these professional friends in the North that they know little about the Negro and less about the South. Lack of information is responsible chiefly for Northern indignation over the South's treatment of the Negro.

As to whether the South has concern for the education of the Negro, a report issued by the Commission on Interracial Co-operation sheds some light. Last year, according to this report, there were enrolled in the colleges of the country, a total of 18,500 Negroes. Of that total, Negro colleges in the South enrolled 16,437. The remaining 2,063 Negro students were scattered among 62 schools in the North.

In later years there has been heavy Negro migration to the North and Northeast. Such centers as New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago, Toledo, St. Louis and others have accumulated large Negro populations. But, very few Negroes from these Northern centers are going to college, and, apparently, the Northern friends of the Negro, who so frequently found shedding tears over the condition of the Negro in the South, are doing precious little to encourage Negroes in the North to enter higher educational institutions.

It is in the South that the great majority of Negro college students are found, and out of the South the edu-ated leadership of the Negro race is coming. This is fortunate for the Negroes, for the training they receive in Southern educational institutions is much more likely to fit them for genuine service to their own people, and to their country, than is the training they receive in Northern schools, where they are not understood, and where aspirations impossible of realization are sometimes held before them.

And it is here that we may bring in North Carolina as Exhibit A. For Negro education during the year ended 1929, North Carolina had expended $882,500. It was more than that in 1930. The State ranks first in number of Negro schools built in co-operation with the Rosenwald Foundation.

North Carolina ranks at the top among the Southern States in all phases of Negro education. Although fifth in Negro population, only one State—Mississippi—has more Negro children enrolled in public schools than North Carolina. It has a larger per cent of its Negro population enrolled in schools than any other State. In number of public schools for colored pupils and in number of Negroes enrolled in high schools, North Carolina is surpassed only by Texas. North Carolina has established and maintains altogether 63 high schools, against 69 for Texas. There are 12 institutions of higher learning for Negroes in the State, five of which are publicly supported and controlled. The Negro Agricultural and Technical Institute, at Greensboro, maintained by the State, is one of the best, white or colored, in the United States. Negro education in North Carolina has chief advancement through the State's policy in developing secondary schools and above all, the advanced state of Negro higher education in the State is due to "a favorable public sentiment" existing over North Carolina and to the activity of the State Department of Education. Northern critics who want to learn something about Negro education in the South, would have their eyes opened by dropping down into North Carolina.—The Charlotte Observer, Sept. 30, 1931.

According to the above editorial which appeared in the Charlotte Observer THE NEGRO AGRICULTURAL AND TECHNICAL COLLEGE, AT GREENSBORO, MAINTAINED BY THE STATE, IS ONE OF THE BEST, WHITE OR COLORED, IN THE UNITED STATES.

THE COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

The school year opened with the Commercial Department receiving the largest enrollment in his history.

The department aims to train students to meet the varied demands of industry. This is done by offering such broad courses as Principles of Business, Business Correspondence, and Commercial Law. While Shorthand, Typewriting, and Office Training furnish the necessary technical skills.

This Department has been operated on college level since 1928, and already several of its graduates have been placed in important positions. Among these we may mention Mrs. Fannie P. Alston Jackson, secretary to the supervisor of Pitt County schools; Miss B. M. Edwards, assistant in the office of the Registrar, A. & T. College; Miss Annie B. Wade, secretary and teacher of commercial subjects in the Greensboro Public school system, and Miss Sadie E. Hall, who is doing secretarial work in Washington, D. C.

Professor L. A. Wise, the head of the Department, expressed himself as being highly gratified at the progress of the department.

EXTENSION CENTERS ORGANIZED

The Extension division in the Teacher Training department was organized on October 12th, with Prof. W. E. Henry as director. The work of this division is especially for teachers in service who desire to raise their certificates or gain additional college credits. Classes are now being held at Burlington, Greensboro, Lumberton, Laurinburg, Madison, Maxton, Mebane, and Roxboro. Plans have been completed for several other centers.

SOCIETY

Freshmen Entertained

On Friday, October second, the upperclassmen made merry in honor of the Freshmen. This was the initial social of any nature held on the campus this year, and certainly broke the monotony.

Especially did the Frosh enjoy themselves, as they had previously been treated so roughly by those who were now honoring them.

Members of Bennett student body and faculty were guests also. Hence, this event served as a get-acquainted social.

Pyramids Entertain

One of the most beautiful parties of the season was given by the newly-organized Pyramid club of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, on Friday evening, October 23, in the beautiful new Band room of Dudley building.

The room was artistically decorated in pyramid designs in red and orange, the club colors. The dim lights and unusually pleasing orchestra added greatly to the attractiveness and the sociability of the occasion.

The members of the club include Miss Oreta Brown, president; Miss Hattie Diffay, secretary; and Misses Loretta Foust, Drewella Galloway, Hortense Galloway, Martha White, Pearl Wallace, Hazel Whitlock, Zena Bluford, and Pearl Parker.

Among the guests present were: President and Mrs. F. D. Bluford, Dean W. T. Gibbs, Dean and Mrs. G. L. Washington, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Walls, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Knox, Mrs. H. R. Jefferson, the Misses Florence Byrd, Constance Hill, Nora Foster, Bernice Edwards, Miriam Price, and Doris Ringels; Messrs. H. Clinton Taylor, F. A. Mayfield, and R. C. Weaver; Mrs. L. B. Yelverton; the Misses Alma Morrow, Dorothy Sanford, Corinne Carrington, Hattie Graves, Claudia Butler, Louise Wallace, Vivian Walker; and Messrs. Fred Woodward, Frank Wood, J. D. Howard, G. Shelton, B. H. Thornton, J. B. Hamilton, P. Pearson, Jack P. Moore, Jack W. Moore, and E. E. Tucker.

Crescent Club Fetes Teams

The Crescents delightfully entertained in honor of State and A. and T. teams Saturday evening, October 31, at the home of Mrs. W. J. Jones on Beech street.

Among the guests were A. and T. Co-eds and Bennett College students. Many Durham visitors were also present.

The house was decorated in Halloween colors, which made a beautiful scene. Everyone reports a pleasant time.

Sunday School Gives Tea

The A. and T. College Sunday school was host to the students and friends of the college on Sunday afternoon, immediately following the Vesper service. Miss Nora Foster served as hostess and Mr. Frank Woods as master of ceremonies.

Occasional music was rendered, during which a light repast of sandwiches, cocoa and cookies was served. Mr. P. Pearson sang "An Emblem" and Miss Evelyn Morton sang "At Dawning." Prof. L. A. Wise, superintendent of the Sunday school, gave a short talk, during which he extended a cordial invitation to all present to attend the A. and T. Sunday school services each Sunday morning from 9 to 10 o'clock.

Other officers are: Mr. Frank Woods, assistant superintendent; Miss Nora J. Foster, secretary; Miss Martha V. White, assistant secretary; P. Pearson, treasurer; Miss Vivian Walker and Howard Henderson, choristers.

Faculty Men's Club

The social activities of the men of the faculty are promoted through the Faculty Men's Club. The meetings of good fellowship are held at the homes of various members every two weeks.

One interesting fact about this club, besides a serious objection to women becoming members, is that Messrs. Knox, Cooper, Dean, Bowling, Weaver, and Walls find it hard to distinguish between playing a good game of cards and playing tennis, judging by the way

BEAUTY AND THE BARNYAR

By T. H. Holland

No path or walk on the farm is more than the one leading from house to the barn. To one who spends any time at all on the farm, it should make quite a difference as to whether this path goes past manure piles, broken down fences and gates, unsightly buildings, worn-out farm machinery; or whether it leads through lanes of cool shade and beauty, and flower-bordered walks.

Beautiful scenes fit one to do the day's tasks much better than unsightly ones; and they add much more to the sum total of one's physical, mental and spiritual attainments.

No spot on the farm is more important than the one between the house and the barn. On some farms it is just so much waste land where weeds are allowed to grow at will, and other unbecoming sights accumulate. On others it is a place of rare beauty; a picture gallery where those who pass may find joy, inspiration, rest and comfort to body, mind and soul.

The planning and location of farm buildings; or the re-arrangement of buildings so as to portray beauty should be a matter of great importance to every farmer. This can be done without a great expenditure of money. There are a number of things, and especially plants and flowers around every farm which, if properly arranged, would add much to the beauty of the farm.

The fall of the year is the best time to dig up plants for removal to better locations. It will thus lose no time in its spring growth. If there are numerous rocks about the place, they can be collected and so arranged as to add beauty.

The period of the year when crops have been harvested and the barns are full, is the best time to do this type of work provided the buildings to be remodelled are not full of grain or produce.

The following is a list of some of the shrubbery and flowers found on every farm which can be used to advantage this winter: American beauty rose, walgella, barberry, dogwood, high bush cranberry, and hickoria.

culture. This position he held for four years. In 1927 he was elected principal of the Gibsonville Public School and held this position until his death.

His last motto to his graduating class will live on in the hearts of his students. It is encoined in these words: "Serve well the day in which you live, the day cometh when all work must stop, but what you have done will live on in the minds of the people."

Although a young man at the time of his death, Mr. Setzer had already achieved remarkable success in the field of education, and otherwise. His funeral was largely attended and a number of educators and lodges participated.

they play. And we wonder why the "hipper-dipper's" failure to work kills Mr. Taylor's smiles. He's lucky. Mr. Jefferson was "so quiet" when somebody was "600" on him at the first meeting of the club. The poorest players who call themselves champions are Messrs. Poole and Wise.

The men always seem to have a delightful time at the meetings. One wonders if it isn't because there are no wives or sweethearts to disturb them.

The membership of the club is composed of all the men of the faculty of the college. The officers are: L. A. Wise, president; H. R. Jefferson, vice-president and chairman of entertainment committee, and R. S. Poole, secretary-treasurer.

Omegas Entertain

On evenings following Lincoln and State games with the Aggies, the Omegas were host to many visitors at their home on Lindsay street.

The home-coming affair was attended by many A. and T. graduates of recent classes. Among which were F. A. Williams, '31; H. P. Jewell, '31; W. C. McPhail, '31; F. Corbett, '31; W. M. Petty, '31; W. H. Whitted, '31.

STUDENT COUNCIL OLD ORGANIZATION AT A.-T.

Officers for the New Year Are Elected and Plans for the Full Year Are Discussed.

The Student Council at A. and T. has been an organization for some time. It is composed of members of the various classes, with the president of the student body at its head.

In former years the Student Council at A. and T. was composed of one member from each class, with one representative from the High School Department. This year the High School Department has been discontinued and of course this brought a new era in the election of members to the Student Council.

The following persons are members of the Student Council: From the Senior Class, Messrs. F. C. Pollard and B. H. Thornton; from the Junior Class, Messrs. C. W. Williamson and J. B. Hamilton; from the Sophomore Class, Messrs. A. Walker and H. Henderson; from the Freshman Class, Messrs. W. D. Canada and V. Burgess.

There was a public installation of these persons in the chapel exercises on Friday, September 25th.

The Student Council in cooperation with the Social Committee will have charge of the social activities given on the campus. At present it is repairing the piano in the Agricultural auditorium. After this is completed it will begin work on beautifying Morrison Hall by making a lounging room for the young men who live there.

The Student Council is composed of active men, and with the co-operation of the student body, we see nothing but success for the Council.

At a recent meeting the following officers were elected: Mr. B. H. Thornton, vice-president; Mr. A. G. Walker, secretary, and Mr. W. D. Canada.

AGGIES TAKE FIRST GAME FROM BEARS

Livingstone college started off the C. I. A. A. season by losing to A. & T.'s football team to the tune of 7-0. The game was nip and tuck for the first half, with teams frequently invading enemy territory. In the third quarter C. Dillard of A. and T. carried the ball over for the only touchdown.

Much can be said for the stamina of the Bears who, although completely outweighed, were able to hold the Bulldogs down to one touchdown.

The game started off with A. & T. kicking the ball, which was caught by Captain Williams of Livingstone on the 15-yard line and carried it down the field to the 30-yard line. From then on the battle waxed fierce, with the half ending at 0-0. During the second quarter, Ray of A. & T., made a spectacular run, breaking through the Livingstone defense on his own 38-yard line, to be finally stopped by Captain Williams on Livingstone's 32-yard line.

During the second half most of the play was in A. & T.'s territory. Just before the whistle, at the end of the fourth quarter, Wilson of Livingstone made the most spectacular play for the Bears by breaking away from the opposition and successfully catching a pass thrown by Captain Williams, only to have the whistle end a possible long run. Ray and Dillard starred for A. & T., while Linn, Williams, Fisher and Wilson were outstanding for Livingstone.

THE VALUE OF ECONOMY Charles L. Bryan, Jr., '33

The world has fallen in a "pit of chaos." What remedy can we offer for its readjustment? We need immediate relief from such an impending crisis, which has caused so much corruption to exist in the national governments of the world. Some believe Communism, Socialism, or Liberalism, etc., are the only agents possessing sufficient power to restore conditions to normalcy. Is this so? For some reason I firmly believe the aim of such principles has meted out social unrest or a static society.

The economist tells us we have failed to carry out the principles of economy. Probably, I can agree with the economist in some instances, but in others I fail to admit that lack of economy alone is the cause of such national dissatisfaction. It is true, a poor man with a pauper's income can't live the life of a millionaire; however, ignorance causes such conditions to exist and as a result our states of poverty are increased.

Analyze more carefully the question of economy. The economic abilities of a race will determine largely its successes.

The gigantic pillars upon which our mighty civilization rests are, namely, work, play, love, and worship. The above-named elements constitute the growth of any race. To be strong in one and weak in another makes the foundation unfit to stand the wiles of this world. Great stress has been laid on these pillars. However, the emphasis on religion or worship has been faulty. Corruption comes as a result of failure in our moral teachings. A clearer realization of religion and its importance is the only factor powerful enough to lead us out the mire, "Economic Depression."

Seemingly, the Negro, a minority group of our American civilization, is suffering tremendously as a result of this great economic upheaval. Is he not equal to other men? Doesn't he have that initiative power? Does he lack confidence? Study the Negro's present status. The Negroes as a whole are too contented to achieve and, unfortunately, our fate lies in the hands of a few. Let up stop consuming all and producing none. The economic status of any race is determined by its ability to produce and consume.

We flatly deny "inferiority complex," but what are we doing to prove the falsity of the term? All things have not been found and we must banish melancholia, which destroys that will to do.

May we live more economically and still enjoy the fruits of our labor.

Remember, economy will determine our successes of tomorrow, and that extravagance will finally cause our downfall.

HOME COMING DAY IS OBSERVED OCTOBER 16

ful and instructive exhibits of agricultural products were shown. Nothing was left out of the "ag" field. When one had completed a round in the auditorium, he had seen some product from seed to the harvest. It was made possible by Dean Spaulding, an A. and T. graduate, and students of that department.

Visitors were fittingly entertained following the game and fair. The Student Council, headed by Frand Wood, president, honored teams and visitors in the beautiful and spacious Murphy Hall, the Alpha Phi Alpha's at the Collegian Club room, and the Omegas at their home.

Among the old faces seen were: W. C. McPhail, '31; E. F. Corbett, '31; E. C. Draughn, '31; F. A. Williams, '31; W. H. Whitted, '31; E. C. CAPT. C. R. DILLARD IS FROM MISSISSIPPI

Aggie Football Star Ranks High in Scholarship, and Popularity With Fairer Sex.

No person on the campus has taken football more seriously this year than our own captain, Cecil R. Dillard.

Cecil is the son of Rev. W. D. Dillard, of Tupeloo, Miss. He attended high school in Mississippi, and later in Tennessee. He entered A. & T. as a sophomore, and played varsity football and baseball that same year. So well did he show up last season that at the close he was chosen to pilot the Aggies on the gridiron for this year which will close his football career as he is now also an honored SENIOR.

Besides being a competent athlete, "Big Dick" is an excellent student. He is a member of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity, very popular among the ladies, and is loved by all on the campus.

A. & T. COLLEGE IS DEFEATED BY MORGAN

A gallant eleven from A. & T. college was outweighed and outfought at Memorial stadium when Morgan college, of Baltimore, won by 12 to 0. The Baltimore outfit has one of the best teams ever seen in action in Greensboro and in the person of "Big Tom" Conrad they have a mighty player and a colorful gridiron performer.

Morgan counted in the first five minutes before the desperate fighting spirits of the Aggies had been aroused. Wilson, the fullback, started at mid-field with a 12-yard tackle smash. Conrad took it 15 more and then Conrad skirted his left end for 25 yards and the touchdown. The kick failed. Morgan displayed a terrific attack throughout the game but the Aggies held them by a fine display of fighting spirit time and again.

The next and last Morgan score came at the opening of the second half. This fellow "Big Tom" received the kick and ran down the right side of the field, shaking numerous tacklers off, for a 75-yard jaunt to a touchdown, the most spectacular play in football.

Conrad proved not only an able ball-toter, one who knew how to run behind his interference, but his passing was of the highest order, perfectly hurled spirals traveling directly on line to the receivers. He and Bell, an end, had six perfect passes to their credit while Conrad shoved several more to Wilson.

A. & T. made four first downs, chiefly due to Captain Dillard. The Aggies were unable to hold the charges of the much heavier Morgan line. Their interference was smashed by ferocious charging from the tackles and defensive backs and their line and end plays were smothered on or behind the line.

RED JONES "SEZ"

In spite of the fact that the aggies couldn't get going against the N. C. Eagles, I still contend that the visitors' victory was not an accurate interpretation of the "fracs."

Breaks mean so much that one who is not an eye witness of these contests seldom stop to think of earned credit. Now as far as the game is concerned, N. C. Eagles won 6-0. But as for the game proper, and judgment accordingly, the Aggies were good.

Va. State-A. & T. game is going to be one of the best turkey day classics in this section in a long time.

The Aggies have a wealth of cage material in store for the opening of the season. We expect to be "Trouble" in every camp we invade this year.

Good prospects are: Morrow, Lawson, Taylor, Martin, Burgess and a number of new comers who are said to be good. When the football curtain rings down, up with basketball. We go with a boom.

DID YOU KNOW— By R. J. CAPOTT

- That W. F. Robinson is now playing his senior of C. I. A. A. football?
That Sawyer's first attempt to play football landed him a berth on the varsity?
That B. really played in a regular C. I. A. A. game?
That "Pres" Dunn is on the football squad?
That V. D. White made the first tackle of the season for the Aggies against Livingstone?
That Coach Jefferson has three good pivot men this year in the person of Robinson, Rogers and Elliott?

PEAY IS PRESIDENT OF A. & T. COLLEGE BAND

Officers for New Year Are Elected and Program Is Planned by the Leader.

The A. & T. College band held its first meeting September 21, 1931.

Mr. J. L. Peay was unanimously re-elected president; Mr. T. H. Holland, vice-president; Mr. A. G. Walker, secretary; and Mr. J. L. Bright, treasurer. "Deep" Henderson was re-elected student director.

The band was fortunate enough to receive most of its old members with an addition of a few new members.

The band played an important part during the home-coming game between Lincoln and A. & T.

The musicians played happy tunes as the Aggies defeated the Smith boys in Charlotte, N. C.

It is hoped that the members of the band will be favored with uniforms by the Thanksgiving game between Va. State and A. & T.

The musical organization is composed of the following individuals: Withers, Luck, Dupree, Elliot brothers, Henderson, Spetter, Hawkins, Walls, Gaines, Hanner, Harget, Burnside, Grimes, Monroe, Smith, Hollowman, Peay, Burgess, Bright, Bowsley, Charleston, Walker, Foust, Pearson, Cavandas, Banks and Holland.

AGGIES CHASE GOLDEN BULLS IN THEIR PEN

Coach Jefferson's inspired A. & T. Aggies decisively defeated Coach L. P. Byarm's Golden Bulls of Smith university by the score of 12 to 0. This marked the third time of the season that the Bulls have lost by the margin of two touchdowns. But the Bulls were much harder to beat today than at any other time of the season.

The Aggies were pepped up by the continuous playing of their own celebrated twenty-five piece brass band which traveled here to encourage an Aggie victory after successive losses to Morgan and Lincoln.

The combat was hard fought from beginning to end. Hard flying tackles and speedy end and off-tackle runs were continually made by both teams, and there were many stars both for the Aggies and the Bulls. Dillard, Stanback, Ray, and Willis, substitute back, were the luminaries in the A. & T. backfield. And the Aggie forward wall presented the brilliant play of Eberhardt, Sawyer, Lee, and Manning. Dillard's elusive running was nothing short of a sensation. Stanback, Willis, and Ray also made some brilliant off-tackle slants and end runs.

A. & T.—Eberhardt, re; Manning, rt; Sawyer, rg; Robinson, c; Lee, le; Washington, lt; Martin, lg; Stanback, Browning, rh; Dillard, (c) fb; Ray, qb.

J. C. Smith—Harris, re; Bess, rt; Stanback (c), rg; Lane, c; Denny, le; Smith, lt; Bogle, lg; Miller, lh; Metz, rh; Ellerbe, fb; Russel, qb.

Substitutions: A. & T.—Marr Rogers, Lawrence, Lawson, White, Willis; J. C. Smith—Jordan, Corbin, Robinson, Jackson, Harris, Ferguson.

Officials—Westmoreland, referee; Fleming, umpire; Oxley, headlinesman.

AGGIE ATHLETES ARE WEARING NEW LETTERS

With the opening of school quite a few letters were seen being worn by our "aces" of the past term in various sports. To the new students they are merely an ornament or trophy, but to the former students they are revolutionary, in that they are entirely different, and of a different style than those heretofore awarded. Although the old black letters were a back pleasant memory, the new teams, especially of the football team, have to confess that the new letters and jumbled, making it difficult for one to tell the difference. Very pre-vious, the old letters were closed, but the new letters are open.

PROFESSOR CRUTCHER ADDRESSES DUDLEY HI

Prof. B. H. Crutcher, head of the department of Dairy Industry, was the principal speaker at the Dudley High School assembly on Tuesday, October 13. The subject on which he spoke was "The Importance of Dairy Products in the Diet." He showed in a very striking manner, and with notable effect, the great extent to which we are dependent on the dairy cow for our most essential foods.

In concluding his address, Professor Crutcher declared "milk is the greatest of protective foods because it is so constituted as to correct the deficiencies of whatever else we are likely to eat."

This was one of a number of such addresses that he will make during the year.

AGRICULTURAL SENIORS TOUR PART OF STATE

Four members of the agricultural Senior Class, W. T. Johnson, W. H. Slade, J. J. Mitchell, and R. E. Jones, made a study of the vocational departments of Henderson Institute, Warren County Training School, Hawkins High School and Person County Training School over the week-end of October 31.

In each department they found a very unique arrangement and the work being carried out very well.

A fair was being conducted at Henderson Institute, where Mr. F. A. Williams, '31, is instructor in agriculture. The group concluded that Mr. Williams' demonstration was very good. His work is highly commended by the principal and members of the faculty.

Hawkins High School also conducted a fair over the weekend. Professor Wynn is the vocational instructor. The exhibits showed up very nicely.

The Warren County Training School co-operated with the Hawkins High School in holding a fair. Professor Bolden is head of the vocational department at this school.

The group reported a very interesting and instructive trip. They were well received at each school. Their one regret was that they did not have more time.

A. & T. COLLEGE GIRLS HAVE MORNING HIKE

The girls of A. and T. College assembled at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, September 26, 1931, to go on a five-mile hike.

What a time we had! Everyone was good and hungry by the time they reached their destination, and it's needless to say that the early morning breakfast was enjoyed as well as appreciated.

After breakfast the girls sat around the open fire and toasted marshmallows and related many of their various interesting experiences.

The group then played various games. Perhaps the most exciting thing of the day was the football game. Oh, yes, we had a really and truly football game, and "A. and T." won. Poor "Livingstone!"

Sounds like all we did was eat. But after you walk five miles you feel like doing just that.

A. & T. IS RATED BY N.Y. BOARD OR REGENTS

A very interesting booklet has come to our attention recently. It is a pamphlet published by the University of the State of New York containing the Rules and Information on preliminary education requirements for admission to professional schools of that university. It also contains a list of all the institutions of higher learning, recognized by the New York Board of Regulation, includes one hundred or more institutions, found in all parts of the country. The Agricultural College of North Carolina, with distinction of being the first to Negro Education, is highly appreciated. We are glad to see we are included in the list.

Among the Clubs

COLLEGE COEDS

The college co-eds held their first meeting of the year on Tuesday evening, October 6, for the purpose of re-organization. Miss N. J. Foster, last year's president presided.

The following officers were elected for the year: Miss M. Graves, president; N. J. Foster, vice-president; Vivian Walker, secretary; and Rosa Jenkins, treasurer.

The club is composed of the girls residing in North dormitory, and its chief purpose is to make their environment more attractive and enjoyable.

The Co-eds are planning a very busy season and ask the co-operation of the whole student body.

H. L. REEVES, '35.

KAPPA PHI KAPPA DEBATING SOCIETY

P. Pearson, '34, a varsity debater was unanimously elected president of the Kappa Phi Kappa Debating society. He will be ably assisted with the following officers: Miss Hattie Diffay, vice-president; Miss Vivian Walker, secretary.

The society is planning to meet in a number of important debates this year. Pearson and W. W. Capehart who were defeated at Virginia State last year in the Triangular debate, are determined to get their revenge this year.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

At a recent meeting of the Junior class, W. W. Capehart was re-elected; T. Darden, vice-president; and Miss Rosa Jenkins, secretary. The Juniors are determined to let the world know that they "are present and accounted for." They have sent a bold challenge to the most honorable Seniors for a debate on any subject they might "select." At last report, the seniors had not decided on a reply.

PHI BETA SIGMA

The Eta chapter of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity met Monday September 28, to elect officers for the year 1931-'32. The following elections were made: F. C. Pollard, president; C. R. Dillard, vice-president; J. B. Hamilton, secretary; S. C. Silver, assistant secretary and corresponding secretary; W. T. Johnson, treasurer; N. J. Ingram, sergeant-at-arms; W. H. Slade, chaplain; W. I. Morris and J. H. Coles, advisers to the Crescent club; T. M. Martin, chairman of program committee, and J. E. Whitley, business manager.

The chapter welcomed back home Brother S. C. Silver, an old Eta man who has been out of college for the last few years and has now returned to resume his studies.

Eta takes this opportunity to welcome the new students and to congratulate the former students on their return, and to hope for all a very successful year.

E. J. JONES, Chapter Editor.

CRESCENT CLUB ORGANIZED

The Crescent club, the junior organization of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity organized September 21, 1931.

The officers were elected as follows: President, W. H. Eberhardt; vice-president, O. A. Dupree; secretary, R. Davis; assistant secretary, W. M. Jenkins; treasurer, H. Mason.

The club has extended a hearty welcome to its new members, and is glad to say that practically all of the old members are back and are ready to give their support.

We are glad to acknowledge Big Brother W. I. Morris as adviser and Big Brother J. Coles as his assistant.

The club has made great plans for the scholastic year.

THE AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION

The Agricultural association has been organized for the year 1931-'32 with the following officers:

W. T. Johnson, president; W. H. Slade, vice-president; C. A. Jenkins, secretary; J. J. Mitchell, treasurer; J. Blalock, chaplain; J. C. Browning, chief program committee; R. E. Jones, editor; and T. H. Holland, head of the judging committee.

The president in his opening remarks suggested that the members of the association should set up a definite goal this year to work to, in putting over the different activities of the association. He feels that this is going to be one of the most successful years in the history of the association.

At the last meeting the classes elected their advisers for the school year and they are as follows:

Senior class, Prof. C. E. Dean, local teacher trainer; Junior class, Prof. M. F. Spaulding, dean school of agriculture; Sophomore class, Prof. T. S. Smith, head of the poultry department; Freshman class, Prof. L. H. Knox, head of the chemistry department.

The meetings are held every first and third Wednesday nights in room 201, Agricultural building. All connected with the college and others interested in agriculture are invited.

THE CHORAL CLUB

The Choral club got an early start this year and is now working on several difficult numbers which it hopes to render from time to time during the year.

The first appearance for this year was at Vespers Sunday, October 4th. President W. S. Nelson of Shaw university, was the main speaker on this occasion. The large audience was delighted with both the renditions of the club, and the very inspiring address.

LAMP NEWS

The Lampodos club met on September 21, and elected the following officers for the year: Fred A. Price, president; Larry Wilson, vice-president; B. T. Cox, secretary; Eugene Monroe, assistant secretary and J. J. Mitchell, treasurer.

The "Lamps" extended a welcome to Brother C. E. Smith who has been out of college on account of illness, and Brother J. S. Anderson who came to us from Beta chapter in Lincoln university.

With the co-operation of all officers and members the club plans to put over more programs this year than ever before.

The following new members were elected: C. D. Williams, J. D. Ivey, William McLeod and H. T. McLendon, Jr.

P. HAYGOOD, Reporter.

OMEGA PSI PHI FRATERNITY

The Mu Psi Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity began the school year 1931-'32 with a reunion social at which time the program for the year was discussed.

The outstanding program that special emphasis is being placed upon at this time is the achievement project. This program will begin on the ninth of this month and continue through the fifteenth. The participants will be two members of graduate chapters and members of the local chapter.

MATHEMATICAL SEMINAR

The Mathematical Seminar which is composed of students taking mathematics in Bennett college and A. & T. held its first meeting Wednesday, October 21.

The meeting was presided over by Professor Streator, of Bennett. In a very striking manner, he pointed out the purpose and the requirements of the organization. There were a number of important parts on the program.

After business was transacted, a very fine repast was served.

things on one hand, as raw material, while on the other hand, the useful and finished product was shown. The changes from raw to finished product accompanied each specimen. This exhibit was extremely interesting.

The careful and better selection of seed corn was the project of the president of the Agricultural Club, Mr. W. T. Johnson. The idea of how to select, the right place to select, and care of corn after selection was well put over in this corn display.

The fair was well attended by Alumni, Alumnae, rooters of the game and others. Many gratifying comments could be heard as the spectators viewed the exhibits.

The dairy exhibit was considered the best and most outstanding. Congratulations, Mr. Moffitt and co-workers.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT IS MAKING PROGRESS

We have noted with unusual pride the interest Professor Walls has manifested in our Music department, since he came here two years ago.

Words are limited that have power to describe such a dynamic personality possessing such unbridled qualities.

Since the school year 1929-1930 our Glee club has certainly occupied a most active place and also has been the paramount organization of extra curricula activities. The growth of this splendid organization under Professor Walls has about reached its zenith and its place in our college is closely related to our prescribed curriculum.

The vital importance of music as a developer of culture was emphasized by the early Greek philosophers. From the "Grecoan Period" great stress has been laid on "Music." Even in the densely populated sections of uncivilized countries natives have expressed themselves musically, which gives us a very vivid idea of their "culture."

Our Glee club is now in a "period of infancy," but I am quite sure under the able guidance of Prof. Walls, who is an efficient teacher of our music, our club will maintain the heights that have been attained by the best Glee clubs in America.

Last but not the least, I almost forgot to mention that our club made several tours last year and they anticipate making several this year.
