LITTLE "CAESAR"

In the first issue of The Register, I predicted that the Aggies, after dropping their initial game to Morgan, would win the remaining games of their schedule. Well, my prediction has been fulfilled. However, this column still holds and maintains the opinion that the Aggies should have gone through the season and finished with a clean slate.

It is here that The Register's staff wishes to show its appreciation and honor to Coach Inman a Breaux their congratulations for the superb work that he has done this fall. Last year the Aggies started going places, under Coach Breaux, this year the Aggies went places and definitely established the Aggie mentor as one of the most promising coaches now in the South. Coach Breaux, as you know, is one of the youngest mentors in the C. I. A. A., having graduated from Under University in 1930. He came to A. & T. in 1922, which effort, by the way, was a great success work in the field of coaching.

We are all proud of our youthful coach and feel that we cannot praise him too highly for the powerful Aggie machine that all but fell short of the C. I. A. A. crown—the aim of every C. I. A. A. coach.

Now that the football season is over, all eyes are turned toward basketball. With the veterans of last year's team back, and with a host of promising frosh material, Coach Breaux should develop a team of "cagers" that will prove equally effective against opposition as the football team. Anyway, here's hoping.

Miss Bernice Edwards had as her guest Thanksgiving day her sister, Miss Deloris Edwards and Mrs. Love from Raleigh.

Home Coming A Victory

Before 4,000 home-coming enthusiasts, the Aggies defeated the Lincoln Lions to the tune of 13 to 0. The Alumni was well represented, turning out in large numbers. Completing a number of passes and running their off-tackle plays, the Aggies scored in the second and fourth quarters. The first quarter netted the Aggies nothing, Lincoln just wouldn't let them score.

In the second quarter, Graham, Aggie fullback, ran through center for a 44 yard gain. A long pass, about 30 yards, to Burgess who ran over for the touchdown, climaxed the second period. Bergen, who played a brilliant game for the Lions, blocked the extra point. The fourth quarter found Pree, Lincoln quarterback, driving his team from the middle of the field to the two-yard stripe. Coach Breaux's well developed line exhibited their calibre when they held the Lions four downs. Norman kicked out of danger. The Lions found one of their passes intercepted by McClain, Aggie back. Driving to the 20-yard stripe, the Aggies passed, Norman to Neely. Neely went over. Norman kicked the extra point. Burden played a brilliant defense for the Aggies. The line constantly opened up for the backs who in turn gained much yardage.

NORMAN RUNS 103 YARDS

Soaked with rain, 2,000 fans witnessed one of the best pigskin bouts ever played at the World War Stadium. Norman ran 103 yards for a touchdown, being aided by a performance of brilliant interference. It was the most spectacular run witnessed by Greensboro football fans.

At the beginning of the game N. C. State kicked to the Aggies; in turn the Aggies ran two first downs, kicked to the side lines and held the Eagles on the 12-yard line. The Aggies continued to threaten the Eagles goal. Though outplayed, the Eagles, would not be outdone. They checked the rushes of the Aggies time and again. Generalized by Quarterback Norman, the Aggies made six first downs to none for State in the first half, with Gra-

News From the Agricultural Department

Keep in Training

Everyone that has been active in athletics during some time in his life realizes how important it is to keep in training. If we search the lives of outstanding athletes, we find that they excelled because they continually trained. We as college students are not all active in the various athletic contests, but we are all in college to achieve in some line of endeavor. If we expect to excel in our vocations, or be able to perform in various capacities equal to others in the same line, we must keep in training. One of the greatest handicaps to an individual or a group today is the tendency to let down after winning a marked victory—rather than continue the training grind. Future successes do not necessarily come on the merits of past accomplishments.

It matters very little as to what race we are in, or what we are trying to attain; if we put the very best we have into it, there is a possibility of excelling. Most of us will agree that it is very important for the athletes to keep in training, but we forget that we are here to train for a much greater purpose than the average athlete. For efficiency, continuous training is as important for the student as for the athlete.

Corn Show at Spring Hope

The third successful annual corn show was conducted by the Vocational Department of Spring Hope High School November 23. The show featured canned goods, ear corn, and anything that could be made from corn or corn products. Many tasty appearing dishes of food were in evidence. Under the direction of Miss Sellars, home economics teacher, a complete meal utilizing corn in some form in all dishes had been prepared. The meal included corn meal jello for dessert and corn meal "coffee."

Bags in which corn or corn meal had been handled had been bleached and dyed and made into many beautiful articles of clothing or made into some household article.

MILITIA INSPECTED BY U. S. OFFICER

On Friday, December 7, the military unit was inspected by a United States officer. He was somewhat impressed with the showing made by the unit. He stated that he would do all he could in seeing that the unit be properly equipped. He was very much impressed with the spirit shown by the group and wished it very much success. He hopes to return again in the spring to inspect the unit and note the progress that will have been made.

The unit has progressed rapidly and steadily under Professor De Hughley, head of the Trade Department in the absence of Prof. D. H. Woodard, who is away on a leave of absence for further work toward his Ph. D. degree.

E. L. has grown so "popular" Finney isn't falling for every "new" girl.

Boston is so "quiet" this year. Charles Price likes High Point. Aida Newsome is "falling down." Ruby Duseberg has "fallen" stars.

Louise Gunn thinks she has sex appeal.

Neely likes Concord, N. C. Minnie Lane doesn't grow.

Rachael Green is "off of town."

J. Wilson and I. Johnson are such critics.

Etta Melton doesn't get "demure."

Kyer has forsaken A. and T. net.

Some of the "cool" can't forget "A. & T."

John Dillard doesn't fall in "love."

"Lash" never wore a football "net."

Irene Bursell doesn't "fall" for "E. L."

Edna Kennedy doesn't "fall" for "E. L."

SOCIAL NEWS AND COMING ATTRACTIONS

Clubs and Organizations

During the fall term of each school year most of the clubs on the campus are given a day to present a program in chapel to bring out the talent of the students and to see the work of the various clubs. Through the leadership of the president of the Business Club, this club was successful in presenting one of the most interesting and educational programs of the year. The program consisted of demonstrations. White Keen and Josie McCoy and Mr. Mitchell participated in an efficiency demonstration in dictation and typing, also office duties. The second demonstration was by Misses Yarborough, Mson, McCoy and Akers in a speed test, and the winner was given a free trip to the show. The third demonstration was one which brought out the handicaps of making sales, the participants were Euphry Bigelow, J. Cirt Gill, Jr., and J. Cirt Gill, Jr. Only one of the programs to be given by this club. The are as follows: J. Cirt Gill, Jr., president; Robert Halth, first vice president; William Carroll, second vice president; Lettie Yarborough, secretary; Mrs. Allen, treasurer; Minnie Mason, reporter. Ruth Johnson, Shirley L. Thomas, and Ruth Ford are chairmen of important committees. SIMEN The freshmen class has become accustomed to the environment at A. & T. campus and has succeeded in doing excellent work in the class rooms. As well as taking part in the extra-curricular activities of the college. At the beginning of the quarter the 211 English class, of which Miss Viola Chaplain is instructor, organized into a good English Club. The purpose of this club is to increase the use of good English, spoken and written. One hour is given to the class each week, at which time detailed reports are given by the Journalist and Critic. While another officer brings interesting items to the class each week. The freshmen class has a large representation in the dramatic and De. There is also a number of men and women who have pledged to the various fraternities and sororities. On November 10, the All-Freshman social was given in Noble Hall auditorium and was well attended, and everyone reported an enjoyable evening. The following officers were elected for 1934-35: president, William Gamble; vice-president, Ruth Williams; treasurer, Cathryn Tynes; representative to Student Council, Mercer Day; secretary, Ruth Ford; reporter, Anna Stanford. REPORTER. THE HOME ECONOMICS CLUB The Home Economics Club was organized November 10, 1934. The following were elected as officers: President, Motha Leo; secretary, Ethel Williams; treasurer, Sammie Sellers; advisor, Miss Crawford. The club aims to develop new interests, to further interests those already developed, to develop friendship among girls interested in the field of home economics, and to acquaint the college with the home economics department. Matilda E. Johnson, '38. CHORAL CLUB NEWS From the Crystal Ball As I gaze into my crystal ball to see the outstanding organizations on the campus, I see the Choral Club of A. & T. College making its brilliant appearance on the first vesper service program. Oh, how I see another bright. What's that? The Choral Club again presented on Founders Day in the best form and style (you know that program was broadcast over WBLT). It was this appearance that brought them many compliments. James Scarlett is president of the A. & T. Choral Club. Later I see the Girls' Glee Club presented for the first time, and are the members surprised? I wish you could see their faces. Miss Ella Edwards is president of the Girls' Glee Club. I hear something. Now I see it; it's the Choral Club again. They've stepped up a degree; they're passing over WBLT from the campus. (Pardon me, but that A. & T. Choral Club is presenting its own broadcast on the Choral Club program on the night from the campus. They're getting better and better. If is the footlights on the stage in the Dudley auditorium. It is the Choral Club presenting their Christmas cantata Sunday, December 9, 1934. Gee! They are carrying everything out to the last word. My crystal is getting dark, but I still see another little spark; it's getting larger. Yes, that's the Male Quartet. They have gained much prestige over radio and in public. We have a Male Glee Club. No, you haven't heard anything about it yet, but I hope to see them shining in my ball next time. D. Sysnett is president of the Boys' Glee Club. It is dark now; I can't see a thing. My crystal is blank. Well, good bye, folks; see you later. Thelma M. Wray, '38.

WE ARE STILL HERE

The fortunate members of the senior class sympathize with the less fortunate ones who have lost dear ones; yet we are very glad to have them return to work. Although you have probably not heard from us, we have not remained inactive. Our class is one of great renown in the school, and every member is worthy of praise. Those in particular are the members of the football squad, namely: Co-captains Kennedy and Dillard, linemen E. W. Burnett, J. S. Ward, H. E. Lash, V. A. Burgess, backfield R. G. Bell, and line coach Jessie "Red" Rogers. Due to various activities of many members of the class, we have not appeared before you, but we'll see you all in the near future. We extend to all students and members of the faculty a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. C. H. Ireland, '35, Class Reporter.

HORTICULTURAL FIELD SURVEY

Through the efforts of Andrew Seales, the Horticultural Class under the instruction of Prof. A. W. Curtis was able to study a large collection of plants at the home of Mrs. Cone. Through this field study of plants in their beautiful colors and their natural growth the student became familiar with plants from a scientific point of view. The class is making much progress in the study of plants in their autumn colors. K. Karl M. Keyes, '38, Reporter.

AG. FROSH

The freshmen class of the Agricultural department of A. & T. College held its first meeting on October 23, 1934. The officials were elected and work of this year 1934-35 was planned. The officials were elected as follows: President, Wiley Payton; vice-president, Chester Bright; secretary, Ollie Garcia; treasurer, Thomas Sanders; chaplain, Andrew Seales; reporter, Karl M. Keyes, sergeant-at-arms, William Cherry; advisor, Prof. A. W. Curtis.

THE YOUNG WOMEN'S COUNCIL

This organization composed of dormitory girls was organized on October 25, 1934. Purpose: The purpose of this organization is to create a sense of unity and fellowship among the women students, to promote and maintain the highest standards of college life, and to regulate all matters of the women students' conduct not falling directly under the jurisdiction of the faculty. Aim: The aim of this organization is to increase a sense of individual responsibility to bring to the members at various times, subjects that are of special interest and of importance to college women! also to maintain good government and foster virtues of self-control, courtesy, co-operation and obedience to law and authority. The officers for the year have been elected as follows: Josie McCoy, president; Aida Newsome, vice-president; Irene Burrell, secretary, and V. F. Chaplin, treasurer. The Council thus far has given two open house socials in the dormitory. The reception and sorority rooms were used for entertaining. The group participated in card playing and dancing. Afterwards the guests were served with a delicious repast of cookies and punch. A good time was reported by all who attended. On last Sunday afternoon several of the young women volunteered and presented a musical program consisting of Christmas carols and classics. The organization is wide awake, and ready to render its services at any time for the uplift of the college. Irene Burrell, '35.

GREEK WORLD

DELTA SIGMA THETA SORORITY The Deltas are still forging ahead with full speed. This year brings a bigger and better sorority. Six new members have crossed the burning sands of Delta. They are Ella Edwards, Sammie Sellers, Minnie Mason, Mae Smith, Pauline Akers, and Letty Yarborough. The sorority wishes to congratulate Coach Breaux and his Aggies on the wonderful record made this year. We have already attempted to express our appreciation by the donation of cakes to the fighting squad. Delta is always for the betterment and growth of the college. ELLA EDWARDS, '37, Reporter.

SPHINX CLUB

The Sphinx Club of the Beta Epsilon Chapter of the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity presented a literary program at the Methodist church on Beech Street Sunday night, December 9, 1934. The program got under way after the invocation by Miss Price. J. Cirt Gill, Jr., president of the club, introduced the members of the club, after which he made a very inspiring speech on the following topic: "Personality and Congenial Character Are Two Great Essentials in Life's Success." After the talk Brothers Peele, Lawrence and Neely presented three poems. This is the first of a series of programs to be presented each week in the city by the Sphinx Club. The club lost one of its brethren last week. Brother John Dillard crossed the Greek sands. The club is hoping the faculty and students a very happy Christmas and a joyous New Year. P. PEARSON, Reporter.

PHI BETA SIGMA

This is station Phi Beta Sigma broadcasting from Eta chapter, sending out greetings of good cheer and wishing for you all a merry Christmas and a happy New Year. This quarter has been a very successful one in every respect, and we are proud of Brother E. G. Bell, who has shown up so splendidly on the gridiron. A few weeks ago Sigma was distinctly honored by the elevation of one of its members to the national governing body in the person of Bro. A. W. Mitchell. The Eta chapter celebrates this occasion by taking into its ranks seven new members. They are: W. Allen, A. W. Jones, G. K. McKeithan, C. C. Boyce, R. T. Hoffman, A. G. Lane, and E. L. Payton. We feel that with this additional strength Sigma will do bigger and better things. Could my pen continue to write and my brain continue to compose, it would express the joy and satisfaction that has come to us by treading the rugged sands of time with "Culture for Service and Service for Humanity." Sigma wishes you all many joys throughout the holidays. E. BALSLEY, Reporter.

ZETA PHI BETA SORORITY

Greetings! The Zeta Phi Beta Sorority takes this opportunity in wishing each and everyone of you a happy Christmas and a bright and prosperous New Year. Although we are quite young in our work on the campus, it is our aim to lend a helping hand in any way that we can. The club wishes to acknowledge to Coach Breaux and his wonderful football squad appreciation for the wonderful plays which they made in the games during the football season. Zetas are always ready. Do not fail to let us assist in anything that will be of benefit for the school. ARCHONIAN CLUB May your holidays and the days to come be filled with joy and happiness. The Archonian Club held its first initiation of the quarter on Saturday evening, November 24. The new members are Esther Baker, Rose Dawson, Ruth McCornell, Nanie McLean, and Amelia Stanford. After the initiation we were entertained by the Zeta Phi Beta sorority and the members of the Crescent Club. The evening was enjoyed by all. N. A. McLean, Reporter, '38. ALPHA PHI ALPHA Beta Epsilon joins with the other chapters of Alpha Phi Alpha in regretting the loss of Charles Henry Chapman, who died of nephritis at the Florida A. and M. College Saturday, November 17. The five surviving Jewel members of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, of which Chapman was one of the founders, planned to attend the exercises in a body. It was at Cornell University that the deceased, sensing the need for the forming of a fraternity which would perpetuate "manly deeds, scholarship and love for mankind," allied himself with the other students who were interested in such a project, and together organized the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity, the oldest and largest Greek letter organizations in the world. We are indeed very glad to welcome three new members to the faculty, in person of Dr. C. H. Mills, Prof. A. W. Curtis, Jr., and Prof. A. R. Brooks. With the coming and going of persons mentioned above, we look around us and find that in a sense we will be losing the services of W. C. Davenport, H. M. Hargrave, C. S. Finney, B. E. Elliot, H. M. Bass, A. W. Fisher, D. H. Banks, and one new member who has just joined the folds of the fraternity, J. W. Dillard. Nearing the end of the quarter, we realize that the reward will be in proportion to the interest that the students have put into their work. To each and every student we are wishing a merry Christmas and the brightest outlook for a happy New Year. H. M. HARGRAVE, '35, W. C. DAVENPORT, '35.

BREAUX, HEAD COACH

MU PSI

Hello, everybody! This is the Mu Phi chapter of the Omega Psi Phi fraternity extending our best wishes to the President, Faculty, and members of the A. & T. College for a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Successful New Year. We are proud to say that Mu Psi has had a very successful year in most every respect. Although we have not done all the things that we had outlined to do, we feel that the things that we have done, we have done well. We met with much success in our Negro Achievement Week program; with inspiring lectures given by faculty brothers Jones and Wise. I know that everyone has a better concept of what the Negro is doing and can do. This is only one of the group programs that Mu Psi will offer during the year. It is obvious that the "Q Cs" are playing an important part in every activity of the college. In athletics such as football we were represented by brothers Burton, Burnett, Shute, Copenig, Ward, and Kennedy. In dramatics we have brother Gordon. In other activities, such as band, Y. M. C. A., and Sunday school, we have ample representatives. Now, as a word to the Brothers, remember that "Victory crowns the continuous laborer." No one can expect to win without labor. We are hoping that with this thought in mind, each and every one of us can boast on the glory of victory over a quarter of toil, trials and tribulation when the last exam gong is sounded. R. E. Brent, Reporter.

HAIL! THE GANG'S ALL HERE

The Lampodas Club are again speaking to you from the Mu Psi chapter at A. & T. College, through the Register, after a period of silence. Due to the mad scramble of getting adjusted during the first of the quarter we were unable to present to you the much peppered up news of our club. Bang! We are off with a good start. What is there to stop us with our spirit, and enthusiasm, short of our goal? It is with a feeling of sorrow that we give up our well beloved brothers, Shute, Copenig, Richards, Carroll, and Jordan; but due to the excellency of these men's records and fighting spirits they are now within one step of the long-fought-for goal. The price is not too the strong but to the one that endureth to the end." Fight, Lampas, and the world shall bow down before thee. R. E. BRENT, Club Editor.

The Voice of the Skull

Did Alexander Corbett, Jr., enjoy the Thanksgiving holidays, or did he didn't?—well, ask the Skull. Beatrice Jones has cast her enticement, overwhelming, superfeminine powers over the following persons within the last few weeks. The victims are: Richard Wooten, Robert Brent, Vernal Caviness, and another who was first—Larry H. Robinson. We wonder why Margaret Snipes eliminates basketball practice to see "Evelyn Prentice" in the absence of Stan Ward, with all of his other dates he cancelled for her. Ask Witherspoon. I wonder what this "Elimination Flame" means that Lena Mae Johnson is spreading on the campus. Victims: Stan Ward, Charlie McCoy, Sandy McLendon, and Billy Wallace. What feminine power! I don't see why Robert Brent doesn't make up his mind and decide between Bernice Carney and La Verne Jones. Arthur Fisher lost another one of his twelve lives Thanksgiving, due to the social tact of Harvey Hargraves. I strain my brains in deep wonder as to why Ella Edwards always sings, "Lost in a Fog" and "I Never Had a Chance." Her theme song is "Out in the Cold Again." Since the new building (Pheffer Hall) has been erected, many of the A. & T. fellows have either fallen in love with the new dorm or with new girls. (Stick to Kent Hall.) Mary Humbles finds it more interesting to play all of the fellows than to win Garrett Laws. The airplane soars from city to city, the dollar from man to man, the bee from flower to flower, but Henry Scarlett says you can't go from cousin to cousin. He tried it. Robert Halth, the hard-headed, is now doing "Feminine Reserve Work." Kermit McNair takes up where John T. Speller left off and 50 others. Evidently Helen Biggers has personality plus—par. Sam Kennedy decides that Pheffer and Jones halls are not the places for him, so he takes Kent Hall and is very well pleased with Miss Ophelia Rowe. James Weddington is really in for Miss Melba Lee because he showed it at the Matinee Dance. Mae Smith is still trying to win the heart of Shute, but she doesn't know that Lavinia Hargraves has an option on it. Isaac Johnson plays more than his cornet these days, because he is seen with Gwyn Johnson. Boston Richardson steals a march on the student body by letting his heart flutter for the beautiful Miss Neale, who is a co-ed at Tennessee State. Nursery Started on Campus Our agricultural department is expanding rapidly. We are pleased to have the greenhouses again in operation in connection with the horticulture department. A nursery is also being started on the campus. It contains a great variety of practical and ornamental shrubbery. This is the first time the college has ever had a high-class nursery.
