College Spirit

College birthdays are not indications of college spirit. They are not, like fairs, indications of college life. They are not, like athletic meets with their many distractions, side track and even derailments, part of the student life and activity to be sure, but are other class events which should be participated in as recreational functions, and with the major purpose of their time being given to studies.

The major purpose of college is to provide a period of training to fit men for their life work. To do this degree to which the papers are full of hazing is a dream with this difference, that hazing is the same nature is hazing, Our student bodies as well as ours, are so many other phases to life and especially college life. We have tried all sizes of classes and especially college life, that is dying, or one that is coming to an end. Of the same nature is hazing, Our student bodies as well as others, are so many other phases to life and especially college life.

Chapter IV. The Age of Dignity

We entered upon the second year and another small group numbered 135. There came from the adjoining territory a new group of students looking up to us, the class of '37 in our new dignity and triumph. They had a new beginning in high school. They were shamed and in fact, we were the most remarkable fellows. The winter quarter came and passed and before we knew it, it was time to go home for summer vacation. It was interesting to watch the新鲜 Freshmen joyfully packing and spreading the news about college.

To Us on Class Day

The years have flown on Time's swift wheel,
Our days of thrills have quickly elapsed.
And now on this the Day of Days,
We graduate at last.

Behind us stretch long wealth of years
With sometimes tears and woe,
But just ahead we catch a glimpse
Of Future's shining goal.

There's no certain and fixed path
For us to follow in this life,
Our end how bright or dim
Who can say?

Class of 1937
What Is Happiness

The last issue of this column was based on the failure of the baseball team. This issue is about the future. I am not saying that we should give up on our team. I am saying that we should not be discouraged by their current situation. We should focus on the potential that each member of the team has. If we believe in ourselves and our teammates, we can accomplish great things.

One of my greatest pleasures is to see people who are happy. When you see someone smiling, it makes me feel good. It is like a warm embrace that you can feel from afar. Happiness is a universal feeling that can be experienced by anyone, regardless of their circumstances.

However, it is important to remember that happiness is not just about the good times. It is about finding joy even during difficult times. When we face challenges, it is easy to become discouraged. But if we remember to appreciate the small things in life, we can find happiness even when things are tough.

So, I encourage you to appreciate the good times in your life. But also, I encourage you to find joy in the challenges you face. When you do, you will be surprised at how happy you can be.
Some of A. & T. College Songs

The Wearers of the Blue and Gold

Down the way they came a marching
Weavers of the Blue and Gold
Proudly fighting for our banner
Winning, losing, always smiling
Mighty men and filled with courage
We are sons of A. and T. and we're bound
Here we come a marching

In memory's chest we'll never forget
Let cheers ring out
Dear days are spent between thy walls
Poor old State is left to bray.
Chinese Rhythm took the day
Dedicated to the A. and T. Co-eds
Mother indeed to students in need
Old A. and T. we cheer thy name
When we throw that ball around
Ever with the Bulldog mold.
To win for Dear A. and T.
For we love Old A. and T.
Dauntless! Fearless! Men of A.
In study, rest and play.
Oh, say 'taint so!
We reverently sing thy praise.
Our joyous college days.
Our love for OLD A. AND T.
Oh, say 'taint so!

You see and T.

She's gentle and sweet
