Dramatists To Present Two One-Act Originals

“The Anger Of One Young Man”;
“The Triumph Of Maggie Deane”

By EMMA HARELL

Richard B. Harrison Players will present two one-act plays in Harrison Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, January 23. The plays are being directed by Prof. William H. Robinson, Jr., of the Department of Dramatics. The first of these plays, “The Anger Of One Young Man”, is the story of a young man who cannot reconcile personal and commercial success. He discovers that his anger can be harmful to enemies and friends alike.

“Thirteen Keyboard Sonatas of the 18th and 19th Centuries” and “Understanding Music.”

The Triumph of Maggie Deane,” the second of the two plays, is an “old-fashioned melodrama.” Mr. Robinson describes it as complete with a “black villain, fair damsel in distress, and a handsome wealthy hero.” It is being staged up to the point where it is a good scenario that will take Grandmother and Grandmother way and replace, said the playwright.

“The DIRECTOR
Mr. Robinson, employed at the college since September, 1956, is not only an assistant director and playwright but also a poet—a critic and a novelist.

The year, Mr. Robinson’s “The Pious Goose” and “A Length of Long Rope” were presented by the Harrison Players.

By W. H. Robinson, Jr.

WILLIAM S. NEWMAN

Lyceum Group Presents Duo In Concert

By DORIS NEAL

The monthly Monday evening cultural series will feature Edgar Alden and William S. Newman on January 31, in Harrison Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

Edgar Alden, violinist, brings many experiences in solo, chamber, and orchestral music. He was the famous concert master of the North Carolina Symphony and of the Festival Concerts of Asheville.

Dr. Newman, is now the first violinist of the Raleigh String Quartet, the University String Quartet, the University Trio, and the Alden String Trio.

By CLEVELAND BLACK

A series of events planned for Negro History Week, February 7-14.

Events to Include T. V. Stint Dance Recital and Exhibits

By CLEVELAND BLACK

Sterling Brown, well-known Negro poet and essayist, is scheduled to speak on Monday, February 8 at 8 p.m. in the Harri

Sterling Brown opens English Emphasis Series

Dr. Sterling Brown, poet, jazz enthusiast, critic, and teacher—was guest speaker in Harrison Auditorium Tuesday, January 18.

This year’s initial program sponsored by the English Emphasis committee during the 1959-60 school year.

Mr. Brown spoke on the theme “A Backward Glance Over Forward Roads.” He revealed that this material will serve as the nucleus for his new book. The “Backward Glance” concerns teachers whom Mr. Brown has known and to whom he paid tribute.

“Teaching is a noble profession,” said the speaker; “and although the monetary gain is far less than it is in other professions, none is more inspiring.”

Mr. Brown spoke at a luncheon held in his honor in Harrison Auditorium following the above program.

Non-fiction writing, Mr. Brown said, “When you write easily, you are successful.” “Writing is work. It is very hard work.”

In reference to writing, Mr. Brown said, “Try to be yourself when you write.” He cautioned the students.

Dr. Tynes Speaks At Religious Exercises

By BETTY PIERCE

Religious Emphasis Week, an annual observance at A&T, proved to be one of the college’s most interesting to date. The overall theme was “The Contribution of Negro Toward World Living.”

Dr. Maurice H. Tynes, an A&T graduate and pastor of the Chinese Monumental Baptist Church, was the featured speaker.

Three PHASES

There were three phases of activity. The first was three public worship services, one at each of the college’s three religious centers: a black church, a white church, and a campus center.

The second was worship services planned and carried out by representatives of campus organizations, and third, personal counseling by Dr. Tynes and denominational chaplains.

The programs presently scheduled include two that are being presented by the college’s intercultural organization, the Student Council. The programs, presented by the Student Council, are scheduled for Monday, February 8, and Tuesday, February 9.

Pre-registra

March 18, 1960

By CLEVELAND BLACK

A series of programs has been planned for the observance of Negro History Week, February 7-14.

The theme for the week will be “Strengthening America Through Education in Negro History and African Culture.”

The programs presently scheduled include two that are to be conducted by students. Ruby Coston, a senior from Wars

By W. H. Robinson, Jr.

“By EDGAR ALDEN

McDonald, Knight Place First In Writing Contest

By CLEVELAND BLACK

The programs presently scheduled include two that are being presented by the college’s intercultural organization, the Student Council. The programs, presented by the Student Council, are scheduled for Monday, February 8, and Tuesday, February 9.

Pre-registration dates have been announced by Dr. Edward L. Tynes, dean of the division of religious activities. The programs will be conducted by students. Ruby Coston, a senior from Warrington, Florida, will sing Negro spirituals on WUNC-TV, Friday 8.

The second of the student-conducted programs will be a panel of foreign students. Aleta Brown, a junior nursing student from Liberia, West Africa, will present this panel Tuesday, February 8 at 10 a.m. in Harrison Auditorium.

Dr. Tynes Speaks At Religious Exercises

Dr. Tynes, who spoke at a luncheon held in his honor in Harrison Auditorium following the above program, was a non-fiction writer. He reminded them also that every religious activity, expressed the message of faith and the hope of tomorrow.

“Every one of you should be a student of religious activities,” Dr. Tynes said. “Every one of you should be a student of religious activities.”

He referred to writing, Mr. Brown said, “Try to be yourself when you write.” He cautioned the students.

Dr. Tynes reminded them also that every religious activity, expressed the message of faith and the hope of tomorrow.

“The Pianist’s Problems”, an English essay on the solution of problems arising in the application of literary techniques.

BETTY PIERCE

The competitions were open to all college students, and the winners were announced at a banquet on January 18.

Four winners in the 1960-61 Literary Contest sponsored by the English Emphasis Committee were announced at a banquet January, 18 in Harrison Auditorium.

John O. McDonald was named first-place winner in the Kenney Division and John K. Knight, in the Poetry Division.

Mcdonald is a senior biology major from Rockingham, and Knight is a freshman fine arts major from Charlotte.

Thomas P. Harrison was named second-place winner in the Kenney Division and Alex S. Robinson in Poetry.

William W. Williams is a junior English major from Philadelphia, Pa. Anne E. Freebody received inmorning to a native of Duchi Promises to help you express yourselves to the newest concepts in religious thought. Rev. McCoy concluded.

Sterling Brown opens English Emphasis Series

Sterling Brown, speaker for the English Emphasis Series opener and Editor of The Negro Curmulus, discusses plans for a new book he plans to write. He has received many requests for such a book from Destine.

Dr. Tynes said the speaker; “and although the monetary gain is far less than it is in other professions, none is more inspiring.”

Dr. Tynes said the speaker; “and although the monetary gain is far less than it is in other professions, none is more inspiring.”

Mr. Brown, who spoke at a luncheon held in his honor in Harrison Auditorium following the above program, was a non-fiction writer. He reminded them also that every religious activity, expressed the message of faith and the hope of tomorrow.

“The Pianist’s Problems”, an English essay on the solution of problems arising in the application of literary techniques.

Dr. Tynes, who spoke at a luncheon held in his honor in Harrison Auditorium following the above program, was a non-fiction writer. He reminded them also that every religious activity, expressed the message of faith and the hope of tomorrow.

“Every one of you should be a student of religious activities,” Dr. Tynes said. “Every one of you should be a student of religious activities.”

He referred to writing, Mr. Brown said, “Try to be yourself when you write.” He cautioned the students.

Dr. Tynes reminded them also that every religious activity, expressed the message of faith and the hope of tomorrow.

“The Pianist’s Problems”, an English essay on the solution of problems arising in the application of literary techniques.

BETTY PIERCE

The competitions were open to all college students, and the winners were announced at a banquet on January 18.

Four winners in the 1960-61 Literary Contest sponsored by the English Emphasis Committee were announced at a banquet January, 18 in Harrison Auditorium.

John O. McDonald was named first-place winner in the Kenney Division and John K. Knight, in the Poetry Division.

Mcdonald is a senior biology major from Rockingham, and Knight is a freshman fine arts major from Charlotte.

Thomas P. Harrison was named second-place winner in the Kenney Division and Alex S. Robinson in Poetry.

William W. Williams is a junior English major from Philadelphia, Pa. Anne E. Freebody received inmorning to a native of Duchi Promises to help you express yourselves to the newest concepts in religious thought. Rev. McCoy concluded.
Vandalism Rises Again

For the past three or four years a deplorable situation involving the conduct of students from schools in the triple arch-rivalry of A&T, N.C.C. and Winston-Salem Teachers Colleges has grown to such great proportions that the schools involved have recognized the need to take some sort of action.

The more serious incidents in the past have been mainly confined to NCC and A&T, and for the most part, at the climax of the football season on the occasion of the annual Carolina Classic on Thanksgiving Day between these two institutions.

For two or three nights prior to the game to be played in 1958 at NCC, students from that school vandalized A&T's campus. Their main object was to get at the school's mascot, but in the process, those students defaced buildings with obscenities and tore down signs.

This year, students from Teachers College came and removed the victory bell from its tower on this campus. This led to the inevitable (?) invasion of their campus by some of our students immediately following the basketball game of January 17 in Winston-Salem. They went with the sole purpose in mind of retrieving the bell, but when they were unable to get it, engaged in a little vandalism of their own.

Such initial acts of taking the mascot, or taking the bell may seem all right (rivalry-wise) at the outset, but when these acts lead to more destructive activities, they pose serious problems for the school district as stipulated in the pre-disciplinary measures to be taken.

For neither school has any control over the activities of their students, and if not fostered it is possible that the athletic ties between these three schools may have to be dissolved.

The editors think and think about these things when we get the inkling to commit these acts, even if we are provoked into making retaliations.

The A&T College REGISTER

Complacency Plus You Equals Nothing

BY CARL E. BULLOCK

Complacency is a word that merely means satisfaction with existing situations. To be satisfied with existing situations means that there is no desire for progress. To sit with the arms folded, speechless, or saying "I don't care" are forms of complacency.

The student body of A&T has been plagued by this "don't care" attitude. It has been prevalent, it has been laziness, it has been increased with every passing year. The upperclassmen having been indoctrinated with this complacent attitude, pass it on to the younger freshmen. The process is continuous.

Incompliance is, at times, a virtue, but it is not practical. Being in the canteen, standing on the block, and going to the basketball game when an assembly program is in progress is not comprehensible: one thing: you don't care. Not coming to mass student meetings, not going to classes, not supporting your student government and president are ways of saying you don't care!

Watch the crowd on Tuesday morning at 10:00, hurrying to the dorm and canteen, and saying, "Assembly is for the blankie." They don't have the time, they have been indoctrinated, or increased with every passing year. The upperclassmen having been indoctrinated with this complacent attitude, pass it on to the younger freshmen. The process is continuous.

Are you really satisfied with the existing situations at A&T? Are you satisfied when you sit looking at a blankie and when you are attending an assembly program in progress with your arms folded, speechless, or saying "I don't care"? Were you ever told that the Student Government was doing the right thing in its effort to help this cause. However, my opinion was completely reversed after talking with one of the members of the council, I asked if the Government had the right to make such a great change in student affairs without consulting the entire student body.

The members told me that each class gives its representatives the right to vote on any matters that come before the council. After receiving this answer, I asked, "Well, why did the Student Government call a special meeting to ask students if they wanted the games transferred to the College?"

This is the reply I received from the members, "Don't you realize that students wouldn't have been asking questions all night if we had had a mass meeting on this issue. Besides, they would never have voted their approval for it."

My point on this issue is not whether it's right or wrong to make Tuesday's chapel compulsory, simply believe whatever decision is made should be that of the Student body.

W.E.T.

Editor of the Register:

I wholeheartedly agree that the attendance for the Tuesday Chapel programs should be greatly increased. I was prepared to agree that the Student Government was doing the right thing in its efforts to help this cause. However, my opinion was completely reversed after talking with one of the members of the council. I asked if the Government had the right to make such a great change in student affairs without consulting the entire student body.

The members told me that each class gives its representatives the right to vote on any matters that come before the council. After receiving this answer, I asked, "Well, why did the Student Government call a special meeting to ask students if they wanted the games transferred to the College?"

This is the reply I received from the members, "Don't you realize that students wouldn't have been asking questions all night if we had had a mass meeting on this issue. Besides, they would never have voted their approval for it."

My point on this issue is not whether it's right or wrong to make Tuesday's chapel compulsory, simply believe whatever decision is made should be that of the Student body.

W.E.T.

Editor of the Register:

I feel that there must be a better solution to the compulsory assembly attendance the Student Council has initiated.

I realize our need for a large attendance in assembly but I don't approve of this method of procuring students. So long as we have penny galleries or any other book the student government doesn't have the right to issue a program of this class of the students voted for it. It's the time to change the system of the school's system. Someone has decided that students can't be made to attend such gatherings, and the students voted for it. Although the Student Council has increased considerably, I think this is still too many, and that our representatives on the council should be more attentive to the interests of their school.

Bennie J. Robinson

WASHINGTON DOCKERY

Quotation

What is your reaction to the present

Bennie J. Robinson

The REGISTER encourages letters to the Editor, but reserves the right to edit them. No letter will be considered for publishing unless signed.

Editor

The REGISTER

January 29, 1960

STAFF

Advertising Manager James A. Hefner
Assistant Business Manager Wilhelmina E. Harrison Adviser "...

The acid test of a good society is whether it's right or wrong to make Tuesday's chapel compulsory.

Bennie J. Robinson

WASHINGTON DOCKERY

Quotation

What is your reaction to the present...
Air Force "Angels"

These are members of the Arnold Air Society Angel Flight, connected with the Air Force ROTC at A&T.

delays to the festival, and the first time the trip will cover more competitive events simultaneously.

In addition to the tournament, the new Air Force team will and ideas with students throughout their stay. The trip is the second in a series of scheduled tours by the AFROTC cadets. The cadet team will also compete in first hand competition at the hands of teams from Catholic
University of Maryland and be
guests at Bulling Air Force Base
near Baltimore.

The cadet debating team will also compete in first hand competition at
the hands of teams from Catholic
University of Maryland and be
guests at Bulling Air Force Base
near Baltimore.

The cadet debating team will also
compete in first hand competition at
the hands of teams from Catholic
University of Maryland and be
guests at Bulling Air Force Base
near Baltimore.

The cadet debating team will also
compete in first hand competition at
the hands of teams from Catholic
University of Maryland and be
guests at Bulling Air Force Base
near Baltimore.

The cadet debating team will also
compete in first hand competition at
the hands of teams from Catholic
University of Maryland and be
guests at Bulling Air Force Base
near Baltimore.

The cadet debating team will also
compete in first hand competition at
the hands of teams from Catholic
University of Maryland and be
guests at Bulling Air Force Base
near Baltimore.
Religious Emphasis Week Begun

BY ERNEST JOHNSTON, JR.

Kappas To Honor Top 25 Frosh Students

BY ERNEST JOHNSTON, JR.

Agglomerate... is keenly in the new year and from all indications our organizations are in it even deeper... Already plans have begun to materialize and from the looks of things, our organizations really mean business.

Leading off on the long journey to clubland, Kappa Alpha Psi is making preparations for its party benefiting the top 25 freshmen. This effort will be held February 19, in Cooper Hall. It is also interesting to note that Miss A&T, Jacqueline Bell, is doing her Senior Research paper on the history of the Scholarship awards.

The Scrullers, little brothers of the Kappas, are planning a Sweetheart's Party which is to be held in February. Macy Payne of the School of Nursing is the Scrullers' Sweetheart.

A swing over to Sigmajland found the brood of the Elia Chapter observing their Founders' Day January 9. This affair was a closed one and took place in Murphy Hall. The Sigmajian talent in their music and dancing back yard by having as their speaker Brother Roger L. Witherspoon, a member of A&T's faculty. He brought out four things that religion is and does for people. These things are as follows:

1. It serves those of different faiths a helpful hand when in need of power not possessed by man.
2. It offers a way of salvation—a way out of the problems he is in.
3. It helps man in life's crises—death, loss of loved ones, etc.
4. It integrates the personality—lays the foundation for the man he will be when he passes on to the other world.

The speaker showed how one method of helping others is by giving special recognition to the person with the highest average.

While we are speaking of averages, a list released by the Registrar concerning grade point average of freshmen and seniors showed the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority leading the list with a 2.50 average Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, 2.49; Omicron Pi Fraternity, 2.52; Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, 2.58; Delta Beta Beta Sorority, 2.54; Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, 2.18. This isn't a complete list because several of the Greek organizations have one or more members with incompletes.

Alpha Kappa Mu National Honor Society is in the process of recruiting members into the Sophorn Society. This is a step toward membership in Alpha Kappa Mu. This organization is open to all freshmen, sophomores, and juniors who have an accumulated average of 2.30 and above. Any interested person should communicate with the President, John McDonald, or Dr. V. C. Fradley, faculty adviser and political science professor.

One of the newly reactivated organizations on campus is the Florida Club. These persons from the southern state number about 30. The club is planning to incorporate such ideas as recruiting new students from Florida to the campus, chartering a bus to the sunshine state for the holidays, and having an annual ball honoring Floridians and their guests.

The Physical Education Majors Club is in the process of establishing a curling room on the campus. The Physical Education Majors Club in conjunction with the Athlete Association is sponsoring a final day February 6, which ought to be representative. It is expected to materialize and from the looks of things, our organizations really mean business.
This is the first in a series of current event articles to appear in conjunction with the new African Studies Program under the chairmanship of Dr. A. M. Broderick, editor, Fulbright professor.

Dr. Broderick's specific mission in this program is to get an African perspective on the current events and the areas of concern to the students who take over the program when he leaves at the end of the spring quarter.

The Kenya Constitutional Conference, which opened in London at Lancaster House in January 25 under the presidency of Sir Philip Moly, leader of the African delegates, was at the first session. Reason: one of his advisers, a Mr. Koinange, was away. Kenyans are a British territory on the east coast of Africa, covering an area of 387,000 square miles with a population of 65,000 Africans and 45,000 Europeans and Asians.

The purpose of this Conference is to set up a new constitution for Kenya, a country of three years' existence, and eventually to make it an independent nation in the British Commonwealth within a period of two years. However, Moly's mission is to bring it a modulated, with complete independence coming within the next three years.

Therefore, whatever results may come from the Lancaster House Conference and when it gets going is bound to succeed. Should an absolute system of British control be finally adopted (as it probably will be), the British government has repeatedly stated that it will continue to rule with the support of the native Africans. It is difficult to exclude a compromise among the parties concerned.

The eyes and ears of all Africa are on the Conference. The people of Kenya would like to see a real compromise among the parties concerned.

Dr. Glen F. Rankin, administrative specialist with the Air Force Extension Service, with Dr. W. L. Tubman. The affair was a gala one, in honor of the purposes of this visit was to find out the progress that is being made by students of the new ruling congress, and thereby, its right (and responsibility) to assemble and govern the country.

The general feeling of the students was that the Congress had set a better attendance at assembly, but if more attendance at assembly were increased, the problem of assembling students for all to be assembled was speeded up.

It was also generally felt that if the Congress, which is a great political party, was called to have an audience, all the voices, and the voices of those who were in favor of it, would have been increased in the first place.

The program was closed with still no satisfaction on the part of students. Most of them disliked the method for bolstering attendance, commenting to that effect, the last was to have an audience of all the voices and the voices of those who were in favor of it, would have been increased in the first place.

Dr. William H. Fitzjohn, Sierra Leone representative to the United States, said that all the students, who are kept at the center of Sierra Leone students in this country, made an attempt to assemble in the campus January 18-19.

The primary purpose of this visit was to find the progress that is being made by the Sierra Leone students, and the progress that is being made by students of the new ruling congress, and thereby, its right (and responsibility) to assemble and govern the country.

The general feeling of the students was that the Congress had set a better attendance at assembly, but if more attendance at assembly were increased, the problem of assembling students for all to be assembled was speeded up.

It was also generally felt that if the Congress, which is a great political party, was called to have an audience, all the voices, and the voices of those who were in favor of it, would have been increased in the first place.

The program was closed with still no satisfaction on the part of students. Most of them disliked the method for bolstering attendance, commenting to that effect, the last was to have an audience of all the voices, and the voices of those who were in favor of it, would have been increased in the first place. But the program was closed with still no satisfaction on the part of students. Most of them disliked the method for bolstering attendance, commenting to that effect, the last was to have an audience of all the voices, and the voices of those who were in favor of it, would have been increased in the first place.

The program was closed with still no satisfaction on the part of students. Most of them disliked the method for bolstering attendance, commenting to that effect, the last was to have an audience of all the voices, and the voices of those who were in favor of it, would have been increased in the first place.
Committee Releases Prize-Winning Essays And Poems

1st and 2nd Place Essay

Winners Are Staffers

(EDITOR’S NOTE: Three entries in the annual composing-writing contest sponsored by the Black Student Union and the TBP Registry staff.

John R. McDonald, the first place winner, is a reporter and does writing among other things, and Wilhelmina Harrison, the second place writer, is a senior in English and a member of the Literary Society. McDonald is a senior chemistry major from Bockingham, N. C., and Miss Harrison, a junior history major from Durham, N. C., is a member of the National Student Christian Fellowship.)

The New Negro

BY JOHN L. KNIGHT

The last half century has seen crucial changes in the life of the Negro race. The social upheaval of the two world wars, the great depression, the development of new industries, and the force of nationalism have made it both possible and necessary for the Negro to carve out a place for himself. The decline of an economic system that for so long was based on Negro slavery and the increase in literacy among Negroes have all been factors in the Negro’s push for freedom and human dignity. Negroes today are expressing their desire for freedom through increasing numbers of Negro-owned newspapers, Negro-owned churches, and the Negro-controlled National Negro Youth Congress, and Negro-owned schools throughout the country.

BY WILHELMINA E. HARRISON

From broken chains, elimination of “masters,” “saviors,” and “manacles” and the realization of the Negro as a free man, fighting for the New Negro, God’s and man’s Negro, a Negro who will have passed through the days of slavery, a Negro who will have learned to live and die as a free man, a Negro who will have had the opportunity to develop his full potential, and who will have been able to contribute as much as any man to the progress of the world.

The Bigot

BY JOHN L. KNIGHT

To the prejudiced White American, the Negro is a formidable figure. He is afraid the Negro will trigger his fears.

BY ANNE SYLVIA ROBINSON

To what man of color instead of skill

The New Negro

BY ANNE SYLVIA ROBINSON

If his decline from superiority,

Schedule For Remainder Of This Series

Book Review — February 2, 1960 — 11 a.m., Harrison Auditorium — Monday, Feb. 6, 1960 — 7:00 p.m., F. D. Bluford Library — Monday, Feb. 9, 1960 — 7:00 p.m., Hodgin and F. D. Bluford Libraries

Speech Choir Presentation — Feb. 2, 1960 — 7:00 p.m., F. D. Bluford Library — Monday, Feb. 6, 1960 — 7:00 p.m., Hodgin and F. D. Bluford Libraries

General Literature Test — March 9, 1960 — 7:00 p.m., Hodgin Hall — Monday, March 13, 1960 — 7:00 p.m., F. D. Bluford Library

Correspondence Contest — April 16, 1960

Contest — April 21, 1960

Foreman Hall — April 22, 1960 — 10 a.m., Harrison Auditorium

Presentation—Disputing—Writing—Consultant — Date is to be announced.
AKA’s Celebrate Founders’ Day

By YVONNE BELL

The Alpha Phi Chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority presented a chapel program entitled, "Laughing to Keep From Crying," in celebration of the Chapter’s Founders’ Day, January 12, 1952.

On Saturday, January 12, the Founders’ Day of the sorority, Inc. was internationally celebrated. Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority is the oldest Negro women in the United States, with its beginning in 1908.

Thirty-five students enrolled in the regular classes, and the Technical Institute fulfilled their requirements for graduation in the last month.

The School of Engineering had the largest number of candidates with a total of nineteen, schools included Education and General Studies with a total of nineteen.

Thirty-five students graduated as members of Alpha Xi Chapter, two majors, and auto mechanics major, members of Alpha Xi Chapter.

On Saturday, January 16, the Alpha Xi Chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority presentated a program to the members of the sorority. The program was presented in celebration of the chapter's Founders' Day.

The Alpha Phi Chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority presented a program in celebration of the chapter's Founders' Day.

By OSCAR WOOTEN

"A little learning is a dangerous thing" means (A) it's better to leave your mind alone; (B) there's nothing in old, what can you do about (C) a job where you have to advance rapidly or be fired? (A) don't use chicken wire as a filter action because it has (C) the finer the filters, the finer the smoking.

"The finer the filter strands, the finer the filter action" is (A) true; (B) false true; (C) false true; (D) false; (E) false true.

Assuming the starting salary of your dreams, would you rather have (A) a job with an assured income for life, (B) a job where you have to advance rapidly or be fired, or (C) a job where you have to advance rapidly or be fired?

A B C

Sweetheart Ball

To Be Held On

February 12th

Freshmen, sophomore, junior, and seniors have already begun to plan for the beautiful evening, good dance music, and food that are promised to those attending the second Annual Sweetheart Ball, Friday, February 12, in Moore Auditorium.

The Student Government is continuing the idea initiated by last year's council. Highlights of the ball will be Ray Harper's combo, a fast growing group, and Mrs. Kay, a band that was promised to those attending the second Annual Sweetheart Ball.

Girls have already started to send cards to boys that they think of themselves! To complete the idea initiated by last year's council, the second Annual Sweetheart Ball will be held on February 12th.

Students Urged To Complete Medical Forms

BY OSCAR WOOTEN

A vast number of students have neglected to file a complete health record at the College Infirmary.

Mrs. Thomas W. Vines, director of the College Infirmary, and her co-workers, Mrs. J. A. B. Baker, and Miss H. M. Nixon, have been charged with this matter just before the Christmas holidays. Notice and health blanks were sent to the parents of each student concerned.

Students have indicated that filling out these forms was very limited in comparison to the percentage of students involved.

It was suggested by Mrs. Vines that each student carry a copy of his medical records with him. She further suggested that he should consult his physician in order to have his check-ups regularly.

"And remember, the above war cannot be avoided. War is not popular — but, War can start by accident.

"But, just a few weeks ago a French officer, he announced to his men through the radio, that they would have a rest. But, the war was not popular — but, War cannot be avoided. War is not popular — but, War can start by accident.

You have to be a Viceroysm smoker, you will have found out that Viceroy gives you the best filtering of your cigarette's; for a taste you can really enjoy. A standing man's filter. A smoking man's taste, That's Viceroy!

Viceroy

CIGARETTES

KING-SIZE

The Man Who Thinks for Himself Knows—

ONLY VICEROY HAS A THINKING MAN'S FILTER...A SMOKING MAN'S TASTE!

© 1959, Brown & Williamson Tobacco Corp.
The Register

January 29, 1960

Sports

By EDWARD W. PITT

New Decade Predictions

All over the world, and in all facets of life, people are wondering, thinking, dreaming, what the 1960s will be like.

Now don't get me wrong. I don't claim to be an expert of any kind, but just now, in this golden jubilee column, I'd like to go out on the limb and state some changes that I think will take place in the CIAA conference over the next ten years.

As we all go into the '60s, A&T College will rise to prominence during the latter half of the fifties and at the close of the decade, controlled the situation in the three major sports — baseball, basketball, and football along with the balance of many others that at least for the first half of the sixties, the Aggies will continue to be a major power in basketball and football.

No Future For Baseball

As for baseball, I think that it will be dropped by all of the schools in the loop, and teams will rise to prominence. This has already been done in some of the schools in the conference, and only a matter of a short span of time keeps it from being conference wide.

Viewing football, I don't see any major change to its present status. It's pretty hard to even visualize without football. But I will say that the addition, or rather the featherbedding of bowl games will show an adverse effect on the college football programs.

The CIAA (A&T included) will find its players being scouted more by professional teams and might even get mentioned in some of the top sports magazines.

As for basketball, I think that you can mark that down as the top sport in the loop for the sixties. Hereafter it has been football. I don't think that A&T, or any other team in the conference, for that matter, will come up with anything close to the 72-78 Aggie squad. But the way things shape up now, basketball will really flourish in the sixties.

New Activities To Emerge

In the place of basketball, I've already placed track. Other sports to make their mark during this period will be tennis, probably swimming, and golf.

Boxing and wrestling, I can see only faintly, and that's just how I think it will toe seen in this new decade — faintly.

I don't think that it will weigh too heavily in the program. It's pretty hard to even visualize fall without football. But I will say that the addition, or rather the featherbedding of bowl games will show an adverse effect on the college football programs.

As for A&T, I believe that if we prepare ourselves now for competition in these new areas — tennis, golf, and swimming — and work a little harder on track, we should be able to emerge from the sixties in the grand fashion that we did from the fifties.

EDWARD W. PITT

Aggies Increase Record To 9-1 — Share Loop Lead With J. C. Smith

No longer are the Aggies the underdogs they once were. Now they are at the top of the loop. And no longer are the Trojans the underdogs they once were. Now they are at the bottom of the loop. What a change.

At the Christmas Classic held in Greensboro, the Aggies went away and helped themselves. The school scored 22 points, the most of any team in the conference.

Back in the loop, the Aggies lost only one game. That was to Hampton-Winston-Salem Teachers College. They played and lost, but they learned.

In the CIAA conference, the Trojans and the Aggies are both at the top of the loop. And no wonder. They are both teams that have been around a long time and know the loop.

The Aggies are strong on defense. The Trojans are strong on offense. And that's why they are both at the top of the loop.

QUINT TAKES 4 IN ROW

After Upset By VSC

At the University of Virginia, the Aggies are in the middle of the pack. They are at the bottom of the loop. And that's where they want to be.

The Aggies are strong on defense. The Trojans are strong on offense. And that's why they are both at the top of the loop.

The Aggies are in the middle of the pack. They are at the bottom of the loop. And that's where they want to be.

MARSHALL, EVANS SHINE

Henry Marshall, the 6'7" left-handed assassin for the Aggies picked this game as the one to impress some of the scouting teams that brought him high regards as a freshman. Marshall scored 19 points.

Coach Burt picked this game and the second half when it was still very close to release freshman surprise. Robert Evans, who scored 13 points in the record period and not even playing all of that time.

ATLITES, OF COURSE

Notably Alvin Attles, whom too much can never be said about, put on another of his outstanding performances.

Again, as he usually has this season. Attles emerged as the high scorer of the contest, this time with 19 points.

After the Aggies left the Virginia State Gym that night everyone around was wondering how the Trojans had been. "Lucky enough to defeat the Aggies earlier," the SUBMISSIVE EAGLE.

The great excitement and unwillingness to accept defeat in the hands of the Aggies was not immediately put to rest. On the postgame presssquads of basketballers from North Carolina A&T.

The Aggies found less than usual resistance from the Trojans. And not only in the league but away from the league now. The Aggies were able to win 88-67 in the Greensboro War Memorial Coliseum last week.

The CIAA'S leading rebounder, Henry Marshall, the 6'5" left

SHINE

Henry (Hank) Marshall exhibits his unique left-hand push shot in a game against Virginia State College. He scored 19 points last weekend.

Charles Deloney, R. A&T star halfback, and James Bryant, R.CU all-purpose end, shake hands after discussing their new offensive line and to improve around behavior at offside contests between the two schools.