Rozier Attends NSA Session on Sit-In

Albert L. Rozier, Jr., senior electrical engineering major and editor of the REGISTER is scheduled to represent A&T College at the National Student Conference on the Sit-In Movement. The conference will be held April 22-23 in Washington, D. C. It is sponsored by the United States National Student Association.

Rozier will be the first speaker of the conference at the Friday evening, April 22 general session. At that time he will deliver a speech on the theme "History of the Sit-In Movement as It Pertains to A&T, Greensboro and other North Carolina Cities."

Following Rozier on the program will be representatives from Alabama State College, Emory University, Vanderbilt University, American Friends Service Committee, and the Southern Regional Council. The Saturday morning general session will feature a representative from Howard University and the vice president of USNSA. The theme for that session is "Supporting Action in the North."

In special discussion groups official delegates representing their respective campuses and organizations will give their views on the pros and cons of this significant student movement. When the responsibility of each student has been defined, the groups will discuss ways of implementing that responsibility if they deem implementation desirable.

Inasmuch as the official delegates were designated, they will have speaking and voting rights. Final general sessions will be held for the purpose of taking action on recommendations of the discussion groups.

Interested observers will be welcomed at the conference.

English Class Holds Popularity Poll

By ERNEST JOHNSTON, JR.

English 231, a class in journalism conducted a popularity poll last Tuesday in the Bluford Library with the assistance of members of the REGISTER staff.

Since AggieLand almost in the midst of selecting its student leaders for next year, the class decided to give the students the opportunity to express themselves as to whom they would like for their leaders.

The poll was not intended to serve as predictor of who would win or as a supplement to the regular election.

When the election returns were counted, the figures showed up in favor of Walter Johnson as President with 228 votes. He was followed by Theodore Bunch with a total of 172. Bunch's roommate, James Blue, compiled a total of 116 and Paul Parker and Curtis Dixon came in next with 50 votes each.

The Vice Prexy category was racked up by a landslide vote with Jack Ezzell ringing up 316 votes and Rex Fortune trailing with 223, and Wallace Wortham with 94.

For Miss A&T, Maxine Zachary racked up 223 votes to put her in front. Juanita Tatum came in second with 190. Dorothy Bruner was third with 100 votes and Eloise Gore trailed with 90.

Several write-ins were noticed in the Miss A&T position for persons who were not on the ballot, Mae Greene, Elizabeth Neal, Margaret Bradley, Gladys Morris, and Catherine Hinson all had 1 vote each. Wilhelmina Harrison was the choice of five people.

The write-ins for the position of president were William Gavin, Robert Sanders, John Evans, Harold Horton, Ronald Booker, Richard and Glenwood Allen with one vote each.

Marshall Edwards, Ralph Barnhill and George Gant were the choice of one person each and Fred Copening was the choice of 2 people.

Humor was inserted into the polling when Fred Jones' name appeared on one of the ballots and it was even more humorous when Harold Carrillo found himself on the ballots twice. Considering Jones and Carrillo are Seniors, they wouldn't stand a ghost of a chance.

This crack drill team, representing the Air Force ROTC units at A&T College, turned in a fine performance in the National Cherry Blossom Festival Drill Team Competitions held last week in Washington, D. C.

The A&T group led all teams from the Southern Region and placed number eleven in the nation in a field of teams from 74 colleges and universities. It is commanded by Raymond Brown, Trenton, N. C., and is coached by Sgts. J. J. Ware and P. M. Smalls.

Crowder Elected To Student NEA Office

Edith D. Crowder, a home economics education major, was elected first vice president of the North Carolina Student Education Association in Raleigh Friday, April 8.

A sophomore from Hamlet, Edith was further designated

State Student NEA member to attend the Fourth Student NEA Leadership Conference and 1960 TEPS Conference in San Diego, California June 17-24 and NEA in Los Angeles June 25-July 1.

SURPRISE

Edith, who plans to become a home demonstration agent in North Carolina, called her election a surprise. About the summer conference she said, "I am very elated about the trip to the National Convention; however, I know that great responsibilities will be placed upon me."

MAKES PLEDGE

"I will do my utmost to uphold the high standards of the Student National Education Association," she concluded.

Edith is active in several campus organizations. She is president of the Home Economics Majors Club, dean of pledgees of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, a Kappa Delta Pi pledgee, and a member of the YWCA and the Wesley Foundation.

KITCHEN IS PRESIDENT

George Kitchen of Elizabeth City State Teachers College was elected president of the State Student Education Association.

Other officers elected were Clarence Biggs, Elizabeth City State Teachers, second vice president; James Gerald, Winston-Salem Teachers College, corresponding secretary; Jamesetta Butler, Fayetteville State Teachers College, recording secretary; Beverly Berry, Winston-Salem Teachers, parliamentarian; and Mary Hammon, Fayetteville State Teachers College, chaplain.

Mrs. Loreno M. Marrow is State Consultant.

Plans Approved For New Dorm

Initial steps leading to the construction of a new dormitory for women at A&T College have been taken here.

Low bids, submitted by contractors and approved at a meeting Tuesday, April 5, by the A&T College Trustee Board will bring the total cost to over $415,000.

The bids are subject to final approval by the Property Control and Construction Division, the concurrence of the N. C. Budget Bureau, and the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

District Band Festival Held Here April 8

By LOUIS BELFIELD

Bands from sixteen schools participated in the annual School Band Festival for the Central District at A&T College Friday, April 8.

The event drew more than 800 youngsters from the represented junior and senior high schools. The musical units were seeking qualifying ratings to appear in the State Band Festival, slated for Winston-Salem Teachers College Thursday, May 5.

The ratings released by H. D. Wheeler, Winston-Salem, Central District Chairman, listed the following:

Class A — Hillside, Durham and Atkins, Winston-Salem, I and Dudley, Greensboro, William Penn, High Point, and Lincoln, Chapel Hill, all II.

Class B — Paisley Junior, Winston-Salem and J. J. Jones, Mt. Airy, I; Lincoln Junior, Greensboro, II; and Whitted Junior, Durham, III.

Class C — Central, Asheboro, I; Church Street, Thomasville and Caswell County, Yanceyville, II; and Washington, Reidsville and Columbia Heights Junior, Winston-Salem, III.

Two other bands—Jordan Sellers, Burlington and 14th Street Elementary, Winston-Salem — played for criticism but not for ratings.

Judge for the event was Richard A. Jones, band director, North Carolina College in Durham an A&T College alumnus and former faculty member.

PICKET STORES TOO Truce Ends — Students Resume Demonstrations

The "sit-down" movement against segregated lunch counters in variety stores started by a group of four students on February 1 and suspended one week later was resumed at the site of its birth on Friday, April 1.

Immediately following the announcement on Friday morning by the Mayor's Committee on Human Relations that it had failed to get an agreement from the variety stores to open their lunch counters on an unrestricted basis, the students moved in again. Several took seats at the lunch counters and others began picketing operations on the outside of the F. W. Woolworth and S. H. Kress Stores, main targets in the Greensboro campaign.

STORES REJECT OFFER

The Committee reported that in answer to its request it had received letters from 2,063 persons. More than 1,500 or 72.8% of them favored equality of service on some basis, regardless of race. The Chairman, E. R. Zane, said 27.2 per cent, or 562 of them were opposed to any change.

George H. Roach, Greensboro mayor, disappointed over the failure of negotiations said, "I am calling on the management of the stores to place the safety and good of this community above their own personal desires and to operate these business establishments in such manner as to eliminate racial tensions."

These developments followed:

1. After the students sat at the lunch counters on Friday, the counters remained closed on Saturday.
2. The Greensboro police appeared operating on the same policy as was followed in the original campaign — no A&T Students have been arrested.
3. One white male was arrested on Saturday and charged with exploding a "stink bomb" among some of the picketers.
4. Picketing was conducted during the early week, and student leaders announced that the campaign would continue.
5. The F. W. Woolworth Store on Monday evening announced that the lunch counter would be closed indefinitely.

Standard Pronouncing Program Held Here

"How's your pronunciation?" This is the theme of the program, "Standard Pronunciations," held Wednesday at 7:30 P.M. in the Auditorium of Hodgin Hall.

Recorded samples of A&T's pronunciation dialects, and explanation of Standard American dialects, and description and prescription for the pronunciation faults of A&T students are phases of this event. Mrs. Pearl Bradley of the English Department supervised the program.

Virginia Union Prexy To Head A&T

By ALBERT L. ROZIER, JR.

Dr. Samuel DeWitt Proctor, president of Virginia Union University in Richmond, was officially announced successor to Dr. Warmoth T. Gibbs as President of A&T College beginning in September, 1960.

The announcement was made Tuesday shortly after noon in a meeting of the Trustee Board here at the college.

Mr. Robert F. Frazier, chairman of the Board, appointed a committee late last summer to recommend a successor to Dr. Gibbs when it became apparent that he (Gibbs) was reaching retirement age.

Committee Members

The committee included Mr. Henry Scott, Mr. George Sockwell, Dr. Murray Davis, Mr. James A. Graham and Mr. E. R. Merrick, who has since retired from the Board.

Statement By Proctor

"In accepting the appointment here, I am looking forward to following my basic commitment to education — preferably in the South, where it is needed.

I am looking forward to working with the A&T Faculty and with President Gibbs, who will remain as President-Emeritus.

Coming to a land-grant college (from a liberal arts college) is actually a great transition for me, and it entails a peculiar mission which is two-fold: The mission of this type institution in the near future is to help teach those skills which will enable our people to develop their economic status. Also, this is a new pattern in my life in that I will be able to be at home more now — the President of a private school travels extensively.

"Now, I will be able to be with my wife and two sons."

Statement By Gibbs

"I shall continue to be interested in the growth of A&T as I have in the past, and as President-Emeritus, I shall continue to aid in whatever way possible to foster the continued growth of this great institution.

"Now that A&T College has been admitted to full membership in the Southern Association, I feel that I can be relieved of the headaches of the Presidency and at the same time make my contribution to the continued program of the College.

"Dr. Proctor is a fine person and I believe he will do a good job as President. For that reason, I should like to see him receive the full and loyal support of all."

Mr. Graham, chairman of the committee, stated in his report that "... We recognized the outstanding job that Dr. Gibbs had accomplished and the great contribution he had rendered to A&T College and the state. Recognizing his excellent performance in serving faithfully and effectively as President of this College, the committee accepted this responsibility."

CRITERIA FOR NEW PREXY

The committee went right to work, first setting up the attributes the new President must have.

Said Graham, "The committee was unanimous that the successor to Dr. Gibbs should be a person who had technical training, with administrative experience; should possess a record as President of some institution; should have an earned doctorate, and that age was a contributing factor."

Age was considered since the committee felt the person selected should have a period of service of longevity. This was due to a matter of tradition. A&T College, in its sixty-nine years of existence, has had only four Presidents: namely, Dr. John O. Crosby, four years; Dr. James B. Dudley, 29 years; Dr. Ferdinand D. Bluford, 30 years, and Dr. Gibbs, five years.

"YOUTHFUL IDEAS"

The committee, recognizing the need for a man with youthful ideas, yet mellowed with experience of modern educational requirements, chose Dr. Proctor. He is presently 38 years of age, and has been President of Virginia Union since 1955.

Dr. Proctor is a 1942 graduate of Union, and did graduate work at Crozer Theological Seminary, Chester, Pa.; Yale University, and received his doctorate from Boston U. in 1950.

Prior to becoming President at Union, he taught ethics and other related subjects there.

MANY QUALIFIED

Graham related the tremendous task undertaken by the committee to select a person from so many qualified individuals. He stated that each candidate had been carefully and prayerfully considered with sincere dedication individually to the importance of this assignment.

"The committee," he stated, "made contact with members of the Board of Trustees, faculty, alumni, other interested people, higher education and other state officials for ideas and suggestions about a future President and leader to lead this great institution."

"... The response was quite challenging in that the Committee found itself confronted with 27 good names," he continued.

The committee presented its recommendation to the Board approximately two weeks ago for its consideration. Dr. Proctor was on hand yesterday when the official announcement was made by the Board.

PRESIDENT-EMERITUS

Dr. Gibbs will remain at A&T as President-Emeritus. This is an honorary title in a nonofficial position corresponding to those held in active service.

Proctor is a native of Norfolk, Va., and is married to the former Bessie L. Tate of Fredericksburg, Va. They have two sons, ages 10 and 13. He toured abroad in Eastern Europe, the Soviet Union and Baltic States for the Baptist World Alliance in 1958.

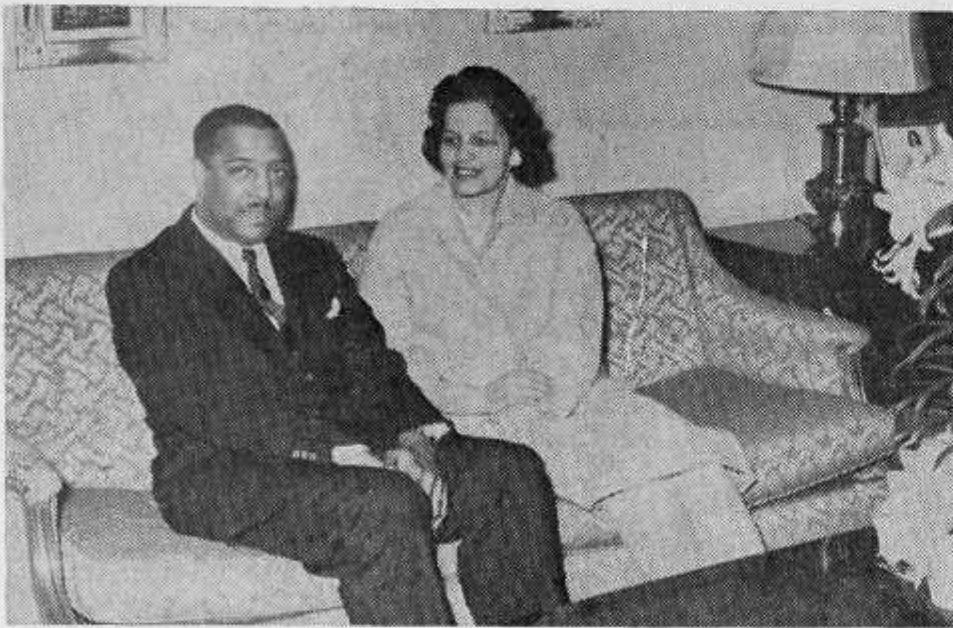

He also participated in the study of foreign missions for the American Baptist Convention in Europe, the Near East, India and Burma in 1953.

Two Professors Address Confab In Durham

Dr. Margaret Jackson and Dr. Darwin T. Turner, professors of English at A&T College, presented studies at the twentieth annual meeting of the College Language Association. Appearing on a panel discussion of the topic, "Basic Issues in the Teaching of Literature," Dr. Jackson explained methods of supplying background material for students of literature. Dr. Turner, who served as chairman of the discussion, also presented a study entitled, "The Negro Dramatist's Changing Image of the Universe, 1920-1960." Dr. Turner was re-elected secretary of the College Language Association for 1960-1961.

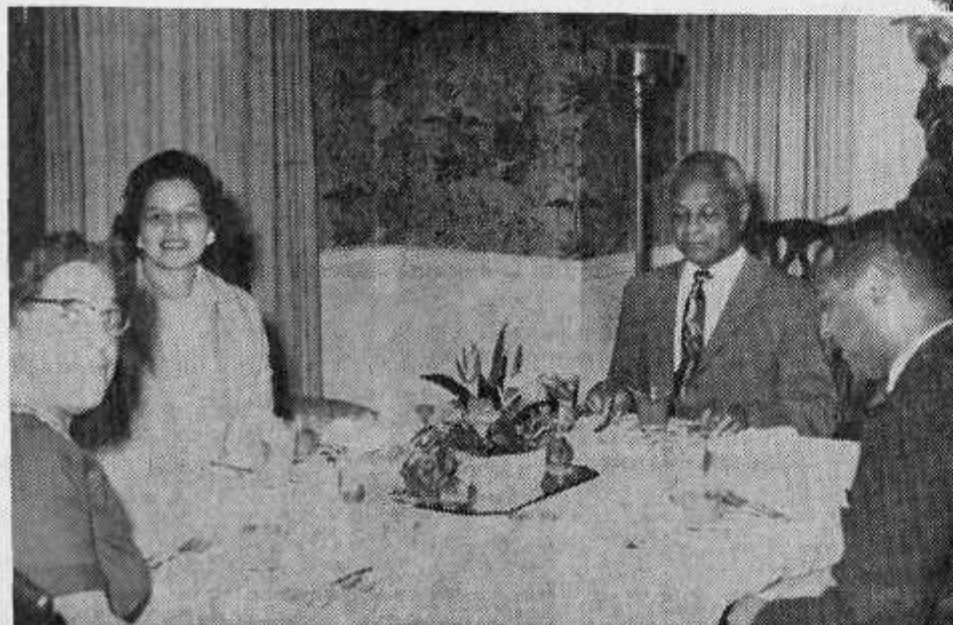

A former A&T professor of English, Dr. Esther Jackson, presented a study of Tennessee Williams at an evening session of the conference. Miss Jean Bright, Dr. Marie Rivers, and Mr. William Robinson of the English Department attended the conference.

The College Language Association an organization designed to foster scholarships among college teachers of language and of literature will hold its next meeting at Morgan State College in April, 1961.

Dr. and Mrs. Samuel DeWitt Proctor pose in the living room of The Oaks, the President's home on the main campus.

Dr. Proctor is now President of Virginia Union University, his alma mater. He is a native of Norfolk, Virginia, and Mrs. Proctor is a native of Fredericksburg, Virginia. They have two sons, ages 10 and 13.

Before departing for Virginia Union, Dr. and Mrs. Proctor were dinner guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Gibbs.

When Dr. and Mrs. Samuel D. Proctor paid a visit to A&T College yesterday, President Warmoth T. Gibbs took time out to show them some of the famous landmarks around the campus.

New Homemakers Hold State Convention Here

Greed, personal superiority, and selfishness exhibited by man today were deplored at a convention held here April 2.

The speaker was Mrs. Elreta M. Alexander, Greensboro attorney, who delivered the keynote address at the annual convention of the North Carolina Association of New Homemakers of America here on Saturday, April 2.

The one-day meeting drew more than 1,800 school girl members of the organization from every section of the state, who overcrowded Harrison Auditorium.

Speaking on the subject, "Three Dimensional Living," she listed the dimensions as mental, physical and spiritual.

"Man," she said, "in his race for mental physical supremacy, has been motivated by greed and selfishness and we view him today mentally and physically a giant — spiritually a pigmy."

"TAKE SELF-INVENTORY"
She urged the youngsters, "Take an inventory of yourself — budget your energies, build friendships, do something for someone else, speak cheerfully and find a meditation bread each day."

Mrs. Alexander, following her address, was introduced as an honorary member of the organization along with Dr. J. Warren Smith, director of Vocational Education; and Dr. G. H. Ferguson, director of Negro Education; both of the State Department of Public Instruction at Raleigh.

Other speakers appearing at the morning session included Dr. Warmoth T. Gibbs, president of the college, and Herman Burnett, Burlington, state treasurer of the New Farmers of America.

The afternoon session featured a symposium, "What NHA Means to Me."

OFFICERS INSTALLED

Officers installed at the closing session, included: Peggie Hogan, Chapel Hill, president; Naomi Spence, Dunn, vice president; Joyce Spruill, Pantego, secretary; Annie Susan Lawrence, Winston, treasurer; Hazel Barrow, Shelby, reporter; Alice Faye Smith, Greensboro, parliamentarian; Edna Mae Davis, East Spencer, historian and Brenda Turner, Albermarle, song leader.

The convention was held under the supervision of Mrs. Marie C. Moffitt, Durham, adviser to the group and state area supervisor of Vocational Home Economics.

High School New Homemakers of America pause at mid-day for refreshments during an all-day conference held here Saturday, April 2. Miss Eddy McCarthy, Assistant Professor in textiles here, serves punch to the girls.

The campus had a touch of spring on April 2 when the New Homemakers group held their annual conference here at the college. More than 1,800 high school girls were on hand for the meeting, and they came from all over North Carolina.

THIRD IN SERIES

NSF Participants Present Seminar

By CLEVELAND BLACK

The third in a series of scientific seminars was given by John McDonald, senior biology major, Rockingham; and Roy Flood, junior biology major, Ahoskie on April 7, at 7:30 in Hines Hall.

The title of the lecture was "The Isolation of Phospholipids from Milk and How to Determine Their Nitrogenous Bases."

According to McDonald, the Phospholipids represent a group of combined or conjugated lipids which have the common property of containing a phosphate radical and one or two nitrogenous bases in their molecules found in brain and spiral tissue as well as in milk.

The analytical methods utilized in performing the experiment were explained by Roy Flood. These methods had to be employed based upon the physical and chemical properties of the Phospholipids.

The two research participants have been working under the supervision of Dr. B. T. White, professor of Chemistry here at the college.

Baseball Team Returns From Florida

By FANNIE M. PEAY

Coach Mel Groomes discusses strategy which he hopes will lead the A&T Aggies to another CIAA Baseball title, with co-captains Jim Rouse, right-fielder and Calvin Lang, catcher.

The Aggie baseball team has returned from its exhibition tour, which included the peach state and Florida, the land of sunshine, with two victories in three of the five games played.

Coach "Mel" Groomes and his twenty baseball champs departed from Aggie land in a motorecade March 23, 11 P.M., and arrived in Atlanta, Ga., 7:45 A.M. Thursday, where a doubleheader was played between Morehouse and Morris Brown College.

MIXUP INVOLVED

The hopscotch aspect of the tour, along with the constant get-up-and-play, had a little melodrama combined. The boys were given about five different directions to Morris Brown. They arrived on Morehouse's campus, which according to directions, was supposed to be Morris Brown.

They asked for the service they were to receive as guests from Morris Brown. It was not until breakfast had been served the team, and Coach Groomes inquired about the baseball coach that the embarrassing mistake was discovered.

By virtue of this error, the coach was able to schedule a game between Morris Brown and the Aggies. Harold Richardson was the winning pitcher.

BEAT MORRIS BROWN

The second game was against Morris Brown. The general highlights were the fielding and the excellent hitting performances. Leading hitters were Calvin Lang, Sim Bowden, James Rouse, and Joe Council. The outstanding fielding performances were turned in by Hugh Evans, and Joe Council.

After having set such a remarkable record in Atlanta, the team again loaded into their cars headed for the deeper southland, Tallahassee, Florida. They arrived there at 3 A.M. Friday, March 25, for the Spring Carnival baseball tournament.

At 7:00 A.M., they were informed that they were scheduled to play Xavier College, the first of their doubleheader, at 9:30 A.M. The 7-1 victory was in favor of A&T. The winning pitcher was John Edwards, with explosive hitting by Sim Bowden. Outstanding fielding performance was by Hugh Evans.

At 3:00 P.M., the second game was played against Florida A&M. The Florida Rattlers defeated A&T 7-1, the losing pitcher was Joe Cotton.

PLAY FLA. A&M

The finale of the tournament was the championship game Saturday, March 26, with the mighty Rattlers again pitted against the Aggies. A&T was defeated by a 13-2 score in favor of Florida. The losing pitcher was Bradford Stokes.

Coach Groomes feels that the results of the tour were very good. The team discovered its weak and strong points. It conditioned early organization, and the players social relationship is more closely knitted. This experience was definitely the foundation of the baseball season.

PROMISING SQUAD

"This squad should be the best in my fifth year here at A&T. With additions of Hugh Evans, Bradford Stokes, John Edwards and Leroy Kornegay to the star studied lineup: Calvin Lang, James Rouse, Kimp Talley, Sim Bowden, Paul Swann, Joe Council, Harold Richardson and Arnold Davis, Robert Bryant, Joe Cotton, James Baten, Leroy Williams, we should without doubt win the CIAA Championship," said Coach Groomes. "Each of our eight pitchers is very strong to position, experience, and ability."

"It is felt that the strongest opponents we are to face will be Shaw University, Maryland, and Delaware State," he continued.

FOR SIX WEEKS

60 Pupils Leave To Do Practice Teaching

Approximately sixty students left the campus April 4 to engage in a six-week period of practice teaching.

These students, who represent thirteen major courses of study at the College, have been assigned to twenty-five schools in North Carolina.

In terms of majors, physical education has the highest number with fourteen. English has nine; and in third place are music and social sciences with seven each.

Physical Education persons are Jacqueline Hunter, Wm. Penn; Charles DeBose, Lincoln; Minnie Jo Gregory, Lincoln; Fulton L. Gross, Dudley; Leon Warren, Dudley; Elizabeth Kelly, Dudley; Claud McAllister, Harnett; Joe Howell, Wm. Penn; Joe W. Council, Rena Bullock; Wm. D. Cheek, Central High, Asheboro; Jerome Patterson, Woodington High, Kinston; Edward F. Godbolt, J. C. Price; and Alvin Atlas, Wm. T. Harper.

Students from the field of Physics are Margaret Alston, Wm. Penn; Frank L. Barron, Dudley; and Monroe J. Fuller, Dudley.

Social Science majors are Lequincy Cooper, Lincoln; Willy L. LeGette, Lincoln; Richard Jordan, Dudley; Samuel Still, Dudley; Willie Hugh Rushing, Price; Rufus D. Lloyd, East Arcadia, Acme; and Simm Long, Reidsville.

Music majors are Leslie Allen Butler, Lincoln; Nathan Jenkins, Jr., Carver; Frank J. Norris, Patillo; James L. Camp, B. T. Washington, Rocky Mount; Verna D. Belcher, Columbia Hts. Jr. High, Winston-Salem; Roosevelt Pitt, Price Jr. High; and Robert Eason, Price Jr. High, Greensboro.

Student Gets Appointment To Oak Ridge

JOHN McDONALD

William J. Gavin, junior honor student in Engineering Physics, from New Bern, has received an appointment as a student trainee in the Summer Student Trainee Program of the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, Oak Ridge, Tenn.

PHYSICS ASSIGNMENT

Gavin will be assigned to the Physics Division of Oak Ridge National Laboratory where he will be associated with a research project under the supervision of a laboratory scientist.

The appointment will begin on or about June 15, 1960, and will last approximately 10 weeks. Gavin will be paid a stipend bi-weekly at the rate of $50.00 per week, from which payroll deductions will be made for federal income tax and social security as required by law.

DR. EDWARDS AIDS

Dr. Donald Edwards, chairman of the Department of Physics and Gavin's adviser and instructor, is due credit for aiding in making this appointment possible.

Gavin is a member of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc., Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society, elected to Who's Who In American Colleges and Universities for 1959-60, the American Institute of Physics, and Beta Kappa Chi Scientific Honor Society.

"I hope that this experience will have a motivating force on my education endeavors and will aid in preparing me for a career in science," said Gavin.
