630 FRESHMEN CHOOSE A&T

Class of '64 Scores High On Tests

"The results of the Freshman Placement Tests were better than usual," stated Dr. Arthur F. Jackson, director of the Guidance Center.

As of September 15, the English and Mathematics placement examinations had been administered to 621 students. Of this total sixty-nine students passed both examinations. Ninety-two students passed the mathematics test, and 249 successfully passed the English test.

"These results also indicate that a larger number of freshmen entering A&T College passed the Exams in comparison with those in past years," said Dr. Jackson.

Students who successfully passed both placement tests are as follows: Winsor E. Alexander, Roger M. Aiken, Joan C. Alston, Annie M. Anderson, Edwin L. Archie, Rebecca Bailey, Charles H. Bates, James W. Beane, Cary P. Bell, Bennie F. Blair, Ronnie Bruner, Victoria Burney, William E. Burton, William J. Caraway, Ethbert S. Carr, Cecil R. Conley, Thomasine Corbett, Janice Coley, Deennie T. Culman, Betty E. Dalton, Shirley B. Dean, and Gloria J. Debnam.

A&T Retains Senior Army ROTC Unit

Information received by the college indicates that the Army has agreed to continue its ROTC program here.

The Army Reserve Officers' Training Corps program at A&T College has been under the scrutiny of Army officials for continued failure to commission the required twenty-five (25) officers annually. This problem has existed since 1954 and in no way reflects on the caliber of officers produced at A&T. It appears that the basic cause of this annual failure to produce twenty-five (25) officers lies in the inability of the Military Science enrollees to complete their academic requirements for graduation at the same time as they complete their military science requirements.

As is usually the case, The A&T College cadets attending Army ROTC Summer Camp at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, distinguished themselves highly. Of the thirty cadets attending the camp, thirteen finished in the upper third of their companies. Again, outstanding performances were registered by several of our cadets. Cadet Paul E. Brown, because of his superb military bearing and inherent leadership qualities, was chosen as Battle Group Commander on three of the four occasions when the ROTC Cadet Brigade passed in review by the Camp Commander.

Cadet Leonard Jones, who will lead the Army ROTC Battle Group this year, was chosen by the Camp

New President Challenges Freshmen To Excel

You are beginning your college career at a most dramatic moment in the history of this country. For one thing, our moral and intellectual supremacy is being threatened by a bold, aggressive nation which embraces atheism and materialism as official philosophies of life. America is looking to its youth — to you, to recover the spirit of a free democracy under God.

The nation is looking to you also to master the sciences, technology, the humanities and the social sciences so that having found a "why" of life, the "how" of living may be refined and shared with the world's destitute peoples.

You have yet another challenge. Our people have been the victims of frozen and unscientific prejudices. As new opportunities open every day — almost always at the cost of bitter struggle, we look to you to prove to the world that color and race have nothing to do with brain and character. You must be living incarnations of this truth

National Defense Loans Available To Students

Dr. G. F. Rankin, dean of students, has announced that the National Defense Student Loan is still available to all qualified students.

"The purpose of this program is to aid students who do not have sufficient funds to complete their education while at this institution," said Dr. Rankin.

Requirements for this loan are not too complex. Students having a superior background in the fields of science, mathematics, engineering, or a modern foreign language are given first priority; however, students who are doing well in other fields may also apply.

Students desiring to have a loan must file an application in the office of the Dean of Students two weeks prior to their using the loan. At the present, applications are being received and processed.

For further details, contact the office of the Dean of Students in Dudley Building.

and it must be reflected in your test scores, your appearance and your manners, your use of English, your public demeanor, the books you prefer to read, the music you prefer to listen to, how you respond to an unfavorable referee's decision at a big game, and the courtesy you extend to campus visitors and to motorists passing through the streets adjacent to our campus.

Somehow, I have a strange feeling that the class of 1964 will be tops!

Sincerely yours,
SAMUEL D. PROCTOR
President

Student Council Prexy Welcomes Freshmen

Dear Class of 1964:

We are writing this letter to welcome you on behalf of the A&T Student Government.

This past week we saw the zeal with which you went through your orientation program. The enthusiasm you exhibited was really heart warming. Your quest for a college education can be compared with Christian's quest for heaven in John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress."

Like Christian, in his pilgrimage, you too will meet the pitfalls of despondency, passing, shame, and vanity fair. Be particularly wary of the goods of the fair; for, although the goods may have a cheap first installment, you sometimes never finish paying for them. Recalling Christian's fulfillment will doubtlessly help you in your quest.

We, the student government, hope you'll have a successful year. We shall be happy to help you in any way possible.

Sincerely yours,
WALTER T. JOHNSON, JR.

Sept. 24, 1960

By ERNEST L. JOHNSTON, JR.

When 630 freshmen entered A&T College for the first time, they were somewhat bewildered. Many of them immediately felt homesick and others were glad to get a change of scenery.

Hailing from East and West, North and South, these students came through the gates of A&T by different modes of travel.

Holland Hall became the home of freshmen girls and the big Scott Hall was assigned to freshmen men. Many students got to know each other for the first time and others just sat back and talked with homies and close friends who lived nearby back home.

FRESHMEN ORIENTATION
This process of meeting and getting acquainted was one of the more joyful events during this time.

The more serious part of work was begun when freshmen were greeted formally by the Dean of Men and Dean of Women. These two persons gave the students many essential facts which should govern them during their stay at A&T.

The orientation also included placement tests in Mathematics and English which the freshmen took prior to registration. Another phase of orientation was the guidance test which the students took in order to be kept on file in the guidance center.

FRESHMEN HAD FUN

Of course all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy and vice versa. Young Aggies injected a little fun in their work. They were seen in the canteen digging the latest of Ray Charles and newest in the Shimmy. Others were seen getting acquainted with the young ladies while still others played lazy and lounged in their dormitory suites.

UPPERCLASSMEN ARRIVE

During different times of the day droves of Aggies could be seen making their way to Harrison Auditorium. A handful of upperclassmen were on hand to heckle and jeer which made many of the freshmen just plain nervous. Many of them kept walking and ignored the big boys while others stopped to listen to what they had to tell them.

REGISTRATION A NEW EXPERIENCE

After getting used to their upperclassmen friends, the new born Aggies became settled in their new headquarters.

Registration proved to be a new experience for them as they busied themselves getting into the classes for the Fall quarter.

With all the waiting in line, the change of schedules which the students underwent, they can sit back and reminisce over the fact that they are college freshmen only once in a lifetime.

Twenty-two Additions To Faculty

Twenty-two persons, some additions and other replacements, have joined the A&T College faculty for the fall term.

Among the new personnel are three former members of the A&T College faculty. Harvey R. Alexander, former business manager at Shaw University, returns as assistant professor of business education and assistant to the president. Mrs. Nan Manuel rejoins the faculty as assistant professor of mathematics, having left a similar post last year at Virginia State College; and Mrs. Portia Crawford, returns as instructor in English after a year of study at the University of North Carolina.

Others are Dr. Robert S. Beale, Richmond, Va., director of research and professor of chemistry, formerly at Virginia Union University; and Dr. T. Mahammey, Bluefield, W. Va., professor and chairman of the Business Department, formerly at Bluefield State College.

Assistant professors are Miss Shirley G. Sharpe, Elizabeth City, nursing, formerly at Evanston (Ill.) Hospital; Charles J. Blue, Louisville, Ky., music, formerly at the Medical College of Virginia at Richmond; Worth L. Barbour, Chester, Pa., sociology, formerly with Philadelphia County Board of Assistance; Mrs. Barbara M. Reid, Knoxville,

Adjustment Committee Organized

Among the new group organized on campus is the Student Adjustment Committee, the only one of thirteen standing committees with student representatives.

The primary purpose of this committee is to consider and review appeals of students who have been dismissed from the College for disciplinary, academic, or other reasons.

At the first meeting of the Adjustment Committee during orientation week, Walter T. Johnson, president of the Student Council, was elected secretary.

While students have been restricted to ONE standing committee, the proposed reorganization of the college provides for a council on which eleven students will hold membership.

The announcement of other standing committees reveals that some committee chairmen have not been restricted to their fields of specialization and that the number of standing committees has been reduced considerably.

Dr. Ralph L. Wooden, professor of audio-visual aids, is chairman of the Lyceum Committee. Dr. Albert Spruill, professor in the Graduate School heads the Religious Life Committee; and Dr. Artis P. Graves, chairman of the biology department, heads the Athletic Committee.

Other committee chairmen include Mr. Gerald E. Gray, associate professor of architectural engineering, Building and Grounds; Mr. B.

AFROTC Unit To Tour Base This Month

More than 50 Air Force ROTC cadets and faculty members will visit Seymour-Johnson Air Force Base Friday, September 30.

Seymour-Johnson, home of the Fourth Fighter, has been completely organized as an all jet unit.

This will mark one of three motivation trips planned by the Air Force ROTC department this school year. During the visit both cadets and faculty members will get a first hand view of the aircraft flight line, fire fighting, military housing and dining hall.

Captain David McElveen serves as project officer while T/Sgt. J. J. Ware serves as assistant project officer.

Many Called; Few Chosen

So the 1960-61 Freshman class is commencing with an enrollment of approximately 630 students. This is not so unusual PER SE, nor is it very significant. The real importance of this figure could show up in 1964. It would truly be a noteworthy occasion if about 600 members of the present freshman class marched down the aisle for diplomas in June of '64.

Let's analyze what usually happens to diminish the original figure. Often, times financial problems arise. This may possibly be eliminated if the freshmen student is ambitious and zealous enough to find a campus job to aid with college expenses. More than likely, one's parents would sacrifice for the basic expenses, but those "extras" like long distance, homesick telephone calls and out-dressing one's roommate are factors that add greatly to the unnecessary rise of expenses.

Furthermore, working one's way through college gives one a certain amount of prestige. Today the working student is likely to be the Big Man on Campus in both curricular and extra curricular affairs.

Heading the list of pitfalls for freshmen is the problem of wisely allocating time for social life and class work strife. In the midst of a bid whiz game it's pretty difficult to stop and say "I have to study my class work." It's twice as difficult to have to tell a boyfriend goodnight early in the evening so one can devote the necessary time to fulfilling the original purpose of attending college — that of obtaining an education.

If most of the freshmen will start out with that "stick-to-it" feeling, problems will become pleasures and at least 600 of the entering freshmen will be among those chosen few.

Canteenology Closed

With the opening of school and the new canteen, there came a new gathering place for the students who insist upon holding the class in CANTEENOLOGY although it is not sanctioned by the administration.

This seems to be one of the most popular classes around the campus, but then, maybe it is, because of the "Shimmy," jazz, and "rock and roll" music pouring from the juke box.

Another thing which makes this class unique is the fact that you don't need a class card for this course because there are no college-appointed instructors; therefore, nobody can say, "that old teacher flunked me."

One may ask, "Well, since there are no formal instructors, who does the teaching?" Well, this is very simple, the faculty in the school of Canteenology is composed of graduate students in that field who are currently working for their M.C. Degrees (Masters of Canteenology).

Freshmen, take this bit of advice, STAY OUT OF THE CLASS IN CANTEENOLOGY. IT MAY prove to be a very important suggestion later in your collegiate career. Sitting around in that class yields no grade points, no credit hours, and only the opportunity to worry about why you flunked — when the answer should be obvious to you if not any one else.

At the end of your four years when you finally discover that you can't leave and you realize why, then it is too late to go back and do it all over again; it's too late. The only things that you can do then is to pay your dues in the Fraternity of Canteenology Professors and try to make it out your fifth year.

You don't have to believe this but you may study the course and find out, but this would not be advisable for most of you are here to obtain a preparation for a happy future. See what you can do to reach this expected goal and surely you will not be disappointed in the end.

Have You Advised A Freshman Lately?

Council Corner

By WILHELMINA E. HARRISON

This column will appear regularly for the sole purpose of keeping the student up to date on Student Government Affairs.

Sincerity and eagerness to get the ball rolling characterized the first Student Government meeting held on September 15 in the newly decorated office located in Scott Hall.

NEW CABINET APPOINTMENTS

Walter Johnson, student prexy, spearheaded the meeting by presenting his newly organized cabinet. Holding these positions are students who, Mr. Johnson hopes, will head all activities connected with their particular post titles and eventually become more or less specialized in their area.

Of the six cabinet appointments Dorothy Brunner Swann will be Secretary of Social Affairs; Pollard Stanford, Secretary of Student Organization; Curtis Dixon, Secretary of Special Projects; Juanita Tatum, Secretary of School Spirit Campaign; Paul Parker, Secretary of Tutorial Activities; Wilhelmina

E. Harrison, Secretary of Information; and James Blue, Intramural.

These persons will be non-voting members of the council but they will have the privilege of offering suggestions and proposals in regular government meetings.

COMING EVENTS

Dean W. H. Gamble reported that many enjoyable films are in store for regular Saturday night movies sponsored by the government.

Plans are underway for an elaborate Homecoming. Alumni Association presidents from many states have been extended invitations to return for the affair. The Government is encouraging students to go "all out" in decorating their dormitory exteriors.

FRESHMEN DRESS ALIKE

Dot Swann suggested that all freshmen plan outfits embracing the school colors for Homecoming. What do you think about this idea?

Representing the sophomore class at the meeting were Ezzell Blair and Joseph McNeill; Wallace Wortham, junior class; Ernest Sherrod, senior class; and vice prexy Jack Ezzell.

Colors are extremely important in this year's fashions. Some of the most popular ones are green, lavender, gold, brown, red and navy.

For the ladies these colors are exhibited in pleated skirts, checked blouses, bulky knits, blazers, vest sets, and raincoats with matching umbrellas. For the gents these colors are displayed to their advantage in suits, shirts, ties, belts, hosiery, sweater, blazer and raincoats.

Where fabric is concerned, the bleeding madras is being worn on college campuses. This material is hand woven and made only in India. Madras does much to emphasize the fall look especially in blazers skirts, and shirts. Light blue, navy, green, red, brown, and gold are the leading colors in this particular fabric.

Taking a further look at fall's fashion, one will see a variety of winter cotton. Here the ladies will find straight and semi-straight skirts with matching belts in the presently popular "tobacco." A French cuffed gold blouse makes this outfit complete.

You young men can find yourselves quite comfortable in light weight wool and wool twill. They come in checks, solids, and plaids and look very good in suits and trousers.

This year there are a number of suggested shoe fashions for campus. For the ladies there are the brown hand-stitched Italian loafers. More Italian influence gives us the stacked low heels in many colors. The Scotch purse with pointed toe and drawstring vamp and more square toed casuals are very popular. Of course, we can't omit the "Lidoes," better known as the little-heel-pump classic.

The young men will find distinctive styling in leather of many colors. The elegant aerated oxford comes in walnut and calf. The smart moccasin comes in new brownstone, black and brown jutland, and oak. A new tone for the men in waxed saddle-tone includes the Como and Kenmoor in shetland calf and the new hand sewn vamp in burnt maple.

Fashions can flatter you and your personality, so look around. Some of these styles and colors must suit you.

Dial "M" For Murder by Frederick Knott is the scheduled Autumn production for the Richard B. Harrison Players. Casting for the production is due to begin soon.

The Prophets, a local jazz group, will conduct music for a social at UNC on September 24. The Prophets toot the latest — from Miles to the shimmy.

Early lyceum programs for the year include "Carmen," "Guys and Dolls," Dance recitals, and a Shakespearean play, "Merchant of Venus."

Willie Adams, engineering major from Winston-Salem, will again serve as drum major for the A&T College Marching Band.

It seems as if everyone is trying to enroll in a language. Reason: A language laboratory has been installed.

The library has added a new addition to its staff, a reader's advisor, Mr. Cooley.

Dr. Gibbs, president Emeritus, is presently teaching Negro History and Political Science in Hodgkin Hall.

The Fortnightly Club is currently planning to give a book review as its first project of the year.

Major Lawrence D. Spencer, Professor of Military Science, was once the dormmate of President S. D. Proctor at Virginia Union University.

Miss Geneva Holmes, dean of women, while in Russia this summer viewed the excitement of the famous Powers trial and visited other countries.

Everyone's wondering about Mu Xi Nu — When will the jazz start?

Dr. Artis P. Graves, chairman of the biology department since 1950, has been named chairman of the college's athletic committee. Dr. Graves had in previous positions, combined science and athletics.

He was science instructor and head at Morristown College, science instructor and assistant coach at Morris-Brown College.

Mr. Arthur P. Bell, assistant teacher-trainer in Agricultural Education at A&T College, and Mrs. Bell became parents of the twins, Benita Paulette, 5 pounds and 9 ounces and Bernard Edgar, 6 pounds and 3 ounces, Tuesday afternoon, August 16.

Dr. Frenise A. Logan, who is currently lecturing at the University of Madras and the University of Allahabad in India, has been named chairman of the Social Science Department here. Dr. Logan succeeds Dr. L. H. Robinson who is now dean of the School of Education and General Studies.

Dr. Virgil C. Stroud is acting chairman of Social Science during Dr. Logan's absence.

Will It Be Kennedy Or Dick Nixon?

By CLEVELAND M. BLACK

Whether or not the coming November election will result in a landslide for either party is a point that no one can decide with certainty. So far both parties have had glorious moments as well as damaging blows.

Kennedy, from the very beginning, has fought the religious issue which still hovers as a major obstacle. The defeat of his minimum wage bill in the Lame Duck Congress, Ike's popularity with voters, lack of experience in foreign affairs, and Kennedy's youth are still existing stumbling blocks for the democratic candidate.

Nixon, on the other hand, has to cope with the problem of being regarded as a substitute. He must assert himself as a presidential candidate rather than live in Ike's shadow. From the outset, however, Nixon has held a slight advantage because of his eight years' experience as vice president.

Despite the previously mentioned facts, the polls indicate the presidential race cannot be predicted even by political experts.

So far, it seems that more importance is being attached to platforms than past experience. As regards the upcoming election, one might conclude that the outcome will depend upon the nominees' platforms.

Organizational Presidents

Organizations Launch 1960-61 Activities

By ERNEST L. JOHNSTON, JR.

As organizations get together after a three-months' vacation, presidents are ready to carry on the plans which were tucked away at the conclusion of last school term.

In the May 27 issue of the REGISTER, a list of organizational officers was published. That roster of organizational presidents is repeated in order for the student body to see who their leaders are.

Jasper Wingate will serve as president of the Veterans Association. The veterans are having their get acquainted meeting in 100 Hines Hall on September 28 at 8:30 p.m.

One of the newer plans the vets are undertaking is extending the honor to anyone (young lady) on campus to vie for the position of veteran association queen.

The men of Kappa Alpha Psi extend a hearty welcome to all freshmen and the upperclassmen who have returned to campus. The big boy of this organization is Donald Morris. Morris will hold down the position of Polemarch. The Kappamen are now making plans for the election and coronation of Miss Kappa Alpha Psi.

Other organizational presidents are Linnia Fennell, Baptist Student Union; Deanna Geter, Women's Athletic Association; Ralph E. Jones, Industrial Arts Association; Cora E. Edmond, The Fellowship Council; Bobby B. Stafford, YMCA; Ernest Gainer, 4-H Club; and Gloria Peacock, Westminster Foundation.

Cleveland Black, Fortnightly Club; Wallace Wortham, Kappa Phi Kappa Forensic Society and Junior Class; Ernest E. Sherrod, Senior Class; Isaiah Wilson, Engineering Association; Carl E. Bullock, Pan-Hellenic Council; Jack Ezzell, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

Wilhelmina Harrison, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority; Richard Barber, Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity; Cora Edmond, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority; and Elouise Gore, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority.

All campus organizations, whether or not they are listed in this edition, are invited to submit their news to the office of the REGISTER (Room 169, Carver Hall) or Box 585, Campus.

Oct. 1

Registration Deadline Set For Clubs

Dr. G. F. Rankin, dean of students, has announced that all student organizations on this campus must register in his office on or before October 1, 1960, which is the deadline.

Registration forms may be picked up in the office of the dean of students on the first floor of Dudley Building.

Along with the registration of organizations, Dr. Rankin indicated that in the very near future a calendar of events will be published periodically. The calendar will serve as a medium to inform all students, as well as the faculty, of events to be held on campus.

Harrison Players To Present "Dial 'M' For Murder"

With the return to school, the Harrison Players like other campus organizations began making plans for a very busy season. The players have planned to present as their first production Frederick Knott's "Dial 'M' for Murder."

Tryouts for the production will be September 19 and 20, with presentation scheduled for the middle of November.

Other business was the election of the 1960-61 officers. Henry Culmer, a senior from Miami, Florida was elected president. Culmer won the 1958-59 Most Promising Actor Award.

Cennette Fisher, sophomore from Jacksonville, was elected vice president. Both players appeared in the stage and television versions of William H. Robinson's "Anger of One Young Man."

Other officers are Ilka Bodwitch, secretary; Catherine Hinson, assistant secretary and reporter; Herman Thomas, treasurer; and Bettye Pierce, chairman of the program committee.

Mrs. Sandra B. Motz, director of dramatics, predicts that this year will be one of the best for the Harrison Players. Mr. W. H. Robinson is assistant director of dramatics.

Counselors Chosen

For the second consecutive school year the dean of men has selected qualified young men to serve as student counselors in Scott Hall. Selections were based upon the students' background and scholarship.

This year the dean of men and his staff have chosen the following young men to serve in this capacity: Harold Daniel, Curtis Dixon, Rudolph Edwards, Willie Fonville, Tommy Gaddie, David Johnson, Jr., and Nathaniel Rodgers. Most of these young men served in this capacity last year and are trying to do an even better job this year.

Rex Fortune and Tommy Gaddie are two new counselors.

It is felt by the dean of men and his staff that this year will be even more progressive than the past year.

The aim for this year is to create in Scott Hall a more wholesome, friendly, and family-like atmosphere. Scott Hall is a home, and home is exactly what the family makes it.

IN OCTOBER

Faculty Committee To Discuss Standards Of English Usage

"Standards of English Usage" will be discussed by the faculty in October, according to Dr. Virgil C. Stroud, chairman of the Faculty Seminar Committee.

This discussion will be under the leadership of Dr. Darwin T. Turner, chairman of the department of English.

The bibliography for the October Seminar includes three basic books. They are Fields, Victor A., Voice and Diction. New York: The Macmillan Co., 1949; Hall, Robert A., Jr., Linguistics and Your Language. Anchor Books, New York; and Pooley, Robert, Teaching English Usage. NCTE, New York: Appleton-Century-Crofts, 1946.

These books will be available through (1) the special Seminar section, 2nd floor, Library; (2) circulation from the Library, and (3) purchase at the bookstore.

Other books are the following: Dean, Leonard F. and Kenneth G. Wilson, Essays on Language and Usage; Jespersen, Otto, Essentials of English Grammar; Kenyon, John S., and Thomas A. Knott, A Pronouncing Dictionary of American English; Meyers, L. M., Guide to American English; Summey, George, Jr., American Punctuation; and Warfel, Harry R., Who Killed Grammar?

Periodicals include Avis, W. S., "Prospective English Teachers Judge Good English," College English, XV (October, 1953), 46-47; Depew, O., "Now Let Us Examine Usage," Progressive Education, XXIX (February, 1952), 149-50; Foley, L. E., "And, A Lesson in English Usage," School Review, LIX (January, 1951), 45-48; Higgins, V. L., "Approaching Usage in the Classroom," English Journal, XLIX (March, 1960), 181-186.

Also Hyman, S. E., "American Usage Today," Commentary, XXV (April, 1958), 335-42; McCullough, N. V., "College-Wide English Improvement," College English, XXI (April, 1960) 407-8; and Pei, M., "American Language: Proper and Improper," Saturday Review, XL (August 31, 1957), 10-11.

Assisting Dr. Turner with the discussion will be Dr. Margaret Y. Jackson, Mrs. Carrye H. Kelley, Miss Jean M. Bright, Mr. Charles R. Wyrick, and Mrs. Pearl G. Bradley, all of the department of English; Dr. Charles Fountain, Horticulture; Major Lawrence Spencer, Army ROTC, Mrs. Anita Rivers, mathematics; Dr. Alfreda Webb, biology; Mr. George Gail, industrial arts; Mr. Melvin Groomes, physical education; Mrs. Mildred Bonner, nursing; Mr. E. S. Carr, agricultural engineering; Dr. Gerald Edwards, natural science; Mr. Edward Favors, mechanical engineering; and Mr. Gordon T. Saddler, social science.

PAUL BROWN

Brown Excels In Summer Training

By JAMES HEFNER

Paul Brown, or Big Brown as he is sometimes called, walked hard and talked loud at summer camp. He was stern and yet flexible; hard and yet soft. Not only did he gain the respect of his fellow cadets, but also that of the big brass.

Brown, a tentative Distinguished Military Student upon going to the encampment, was able to acquire "The DMS" because of his achievement. He was Battle Group Commander three times — more than any cadet at Fort Bragg, and Company Commander once. He was the PT instructor of his platoon; permanent guidon baron of his platoon; one of the representatives of his platoon that went undefeated in the tug-of-war contest; and was rated number six out of forty-five cadets in his platoon.

A native of Baltimore, Md., Brown is a senior majoring in physical education.

Because he is a star end on the Aggie championship football team, he has been and still is getting offers from pro teams all over the country, his hometown Baltimore Colts, being one.

He was one of the outstanding cadets from A&T college sent to Fort Bragg for six weeks of summer training toward a commission in the U. S. Army. The encampment began June 18 and concluded July 29.

When Brown was asked to comment on the Army and football, he had this to say, "Being a football player is very significant to me, but so is being a good officer in the U. S. Army."

Extra Pursuits May Not Bring Failures

(IP) Academic difficulties in college do not necessarily stem from too great a participation in extra-curricular activities.

At least, that is what was revealed by a survey conducted by Dr. Jeremiah S. Finch, dean of the college at Princeton University. The study showed that, of those students required to withdraw from the University for academic reasons, more than half engaged in few or no extra-curricular pursuits.

Dean Finch observed that academic attrition is "almost always the result of lack of interest and lack of motivation" rather than an undue exposure to activities outside the sphere of the classroom. He attributed the major share of academic difficulty to "immaturity and a failure to respond to the challenges of academic work."

The study showed that of 52 men required to leave Princeton by reason of academic deficiency during last college year, only four showed an adverse effect from time spent in extra-curricular activities or employment. In addition, 27 of the 52 engaged in little or no extra-curricular activity.

Other features of the survey showed that 29 of the withdrawals were candidates for the Bachelor of Arts degree, the remainder students in engineering. Private school graduates made up 60 per cent of the group with public school alumni representing the other 40 per cent. Of the total of 52 men, 81 per cent were ranked in the upper one quarter of their class in secondary school, 8 per cent in the second quarter, 8 per cent in the third and 3 per cent in the fourth.

On the positive side, the survey showed that 254 members of the class of 1959 received departmental honors at graduation last June.

A Jazz Jaunt

By CARL E. BULLOCK

The fall of Newport: a most unfortunate tragedy. The instigators were by no means the polished lovers of the jazz arts.

Oscar Peterson opened the Advanced School of Contemporary Music last fall in Toronto, Canada. — A salute to Peterson for helping to promote and stimulate the rising tide of young jazz musicians.

A group now in prominence — Art Farmer, Benny Golson's Jazztet, a group that is striving under the leadership of two heads, beating the two head jinx. Their sides of "Killer Joe" and "Max Nix" have experienced warm receptions by the jazz audience.

Here's my definition of jazz: "Jazz" is a musical art form which allows freedom of musical expression through individual improvisation contained within and conforming to a group musical structure.

Sides to check: "Crazy! Baby" — The Incredible Jimmy Smith (Blue Note 4030), Wes Montgomery — Harold Land — "Montgomery-land" (Pacific Jazz), "Modern Moods" — Miles, Trane, MJQ, Byrd, Stitt, Rollins, and Farmer (Prestige/Moodsville Vol. 2), Lennie McBrowne and the Four Souls" (Pacific Jazz) Maynard Ferguson Orchestra — "Newport Suite" (Roulette 52047).

Frosh Photos In Revue

right: Hortense Hart, Bryant, Fla.; Evelyn Chavis, Greensboro; and Ollie Underwood, Fayetteville.

When a downpour of rain suddenly enveloped the campus, these four freshmen, nevertheless, took time out to admire the beauty of Aggicland on their way to attend the president's reception for fresh-

Dorothy Ramsey, Roxboro, is being examined by Dr. David Hammond, Brooklyn, N. Y., a senior at Howard University School of Medicine. Doris Waddell, Greensboro; and Hazel Silver, Warrenton, await their turn.

Punch and cake were on the menu for freshmen attending the President's reception given in honor of them. Hannah

Wade, Laurinburg; Theodore Gaul, Covington, Va. and Patricia Fair, Union, S. C. get to know each other during this affair.

Freshman Class Presents Broadway Spectacular

By MARY HARPER

The Freshman class of 1960 pulled a surprise performance on the Aggie student body as it threw the spotlight on Broadway in its annual talent show Friday night, September 16. Contrary to the usual rock and roll packed show, the Frosh held primarily to the Broadway hit line.

With curtain time, came a six man combo featuring the Twilighters. Dorothy Juanita Tatum, Miss A&T, and Walter T. Johnson, Student Council prexy, helped out by making a few stops along the way for parts of three shows. These two personalities reminisced as they saw many of their old Aggie schoolmates who have become big names in the entertainment world.

First stop was at Radio City and Thomasina Corbett opened things up with an expertly rendered organ solo. Denita Reynolds came up next with Habanera from the unforgettable "Carmen" and Barbara Austin rushed in to chastise her with "Judgment Day." Gwen Turner followed them with a piano solo.

Davetta Florance and John Wike teamed up on stage to do three excerpts from "Porgy and Bess." Things were running smoothly now as Luella Corpening gave her rendition of "Maleguena." A little more on the vocal came as Andrew Willis sang "If I Loved You."

Scene two found us witnessing amateur night at the Apollo. Django DeAree gave some of his original poetry followed by a piano solo. Instrumental time came again as the Twilighters featured Lester McKee on the tenor sax in "Now Is the Time."

Yvonne Ellis opened W. T. Johnson's Telethon, scene three, with Macbeth's soliloquy. Music on television was given by Marjorie Murray as she sang "Love Is a Many Splendored Thing." Following her was Sarah Warrenton who said James Weldon Johnson's "Creation." V. Deloatch sang "I'm in the Mood for Love," and James Chapman posing as a senator gave an oration, "The Constitution," to close TV time. Probably the most surprising note was the one on which the show closed, the A&T alma mater.

Freshmen Describe A&T As "The Most"

By JAMES A. HEFNER

"It's the most; it's what's happening!"

This is what vivacious Marizetta Leung, a freshman business education major, said when asked how she felt about A&T.

Other freshmen that were interviewed seemed to feel the same way. Arthur McCowan, electrical engineering major from Louisburg, remonstrated, "It's a nice school." So did Charles Bowden who said, "I like it here."

But Thomas Langston from Winston-Salem, majoring in electrical engineering, took a different viewpoint. Said he when asked how he felt about A&T: "I'm awfully confused having gotten a candid view of the school. The registration was disillusioning." He added afterwards, that the most striking thing about A&T is the friendship of the students.

Herbert Dickens, electrical engineering; Waylie Briggs, physical education; Myrone Powell, business administration and Sam Fisher, social science, when asked what made them choose A&T over the other colleges in the nation said, "scholarships in sports and sports' reputation." In line with this, Julius McLaughlin, transfer student from Hampton Institute, majoring in electrical engineering, said that he came to A&T because it was "in state and so far it has a pretty good department in my major." Sylvester Johnson, Winston-Salem, said he came here because "the organization of the faculty is tops." Barbara Williams, came to A&T "because it's a military school. For that reason, it offers something for girls to participate in — the Army's Girl Drill Team and the Air Force's Angel Flight."

Some of the freshmen had other things to say as regards the college. Said Louise Shelf, Winston-Salem, business education major, "the food is disgraceful. The curfew hours are awful, and some of the senior boys are stupid and should be taught better manners."

For most of the twenty-two freshmen interviewed, friendliness and top faculty members are the most attractive things thus far.

Alvin Attles Aggie Cager Joins Warriors

Word has been received here that former Aggie basketball great, Al Attles has signed a pro-contract with the Philadelphia Warriors.

Attles is known for his fancy ball handling and dribbling that reminds one of Marquis Haynes of the Globe Trotters.

Al, a native of Newark, N. J., graduated from A&T last May.

"Tareyton sure has the taste!"

—says Willie Mays

Spectacular center fielder of the S. F. Giants, famed Willie Mays, made Dual Filter Tareyton his steady smoke some time ago. "I can tell you," says Willie, "that pack after pack Tareytons give me everything I want. Tareyton sure has the taste!"

Filters for Flavor

—finest flavor by far!

Here's how the DUAL FILTER DOES IT:

1. It combines a unique inner filter of ACTIVATED CHARCOAL ... definitely proved to make the taste of a cigarette mild and smooth...
2. with a pure white outer filter. Together they select and balance the flavor elements in the smoke. Tareyton's flavor-balance gives you the best taste of the best tobaccos.

Students Applaud Improved Services In New Cafeteria

BY ERNEST L. JOHNSTON, JR

They said it couldn't be done, especially at A&T. That is the situation concerning the food which was so much talked about last year and the years before.

When the juniors and seniors descended upon the new dining hall, they were surprised to find an atmosphere found in any Howard Johnson or restaurant. Not only are the people friendly and courteous who are serving the food, but the food is superb.

Many students immediately began to wonder what happened to deserve such a treat. Many students wanted more, but the majority of them had enough to eat.

One student said that he would soon get fat if he continued to eat as he was doing.

There was a time when franks and bologna were served almost everyday and other types of cold cuts were served at other times.

Faster meals are now served and the cold cuts even taste better. Maybe the new personnel are the cause of the change, or maybe the students are just plain hungry. Whatever the reason may be, Aggieworld is being well fed, especially the students eating in the new dining hall.

KAMPUS BEAT

BY ERNIE

TRAVELING AGGIES: The Aggies have just returned from their tour of duty standing on 125th Street in New York City to their permanent headquarters — Farley's Sweet Shop on Sunday evenings... It is amazing to learn of the many jobs A&T students have during the summer. They can be found pushing clothes down 7th Avenue in New York to learning the art of pearl diving, but not in salt water.

THINGS I REMEMBER: The time everyone ate in Murphy Hall... When Senior Women students used to reside in Curtis Hall... The guy who always returned to A&T telling everyone how much pleasure he had during the summer — That same young man was seen working on two jobs in order to make ends meet.

WANDERING ERNIE: There are approximately 2000 sore arms swinging around Aggieworld... Reason: The flu shots which were given to all students... Upperclassmen are overwhelmed by the new dining hall, but one thing is for sure, you don't have to worry about not being seen....

A NOTE TO JUNIORS AND SENIORS: Don't forget to take the silver, napkins, and bottle covers off your plate when you carry them to the disposal counter... If all the lines formed during registration were put together, they would no doubt stretch from Greensboro to Winston-Salem... Don't forget to pick up foot-long hot dogs in the new canteen.

I CAN DO WITHOUT... people walking on the grass... Students majoring in Canteenology... Upperclassmen who try to dominate freshmen... Chicken every morning in the dining hall... Empty seats which are usually found in Tuesday's chapel assemblies... Boring Speakers... This article if it's not a hit with the students.

The three Stanford brothers should prove to be a big factor in the Aggie lineup this fall. Pollard, left, 260, and Lorenzo, right, 265 are being joined this year by their freshman brother Carl who weighs 260 pounds. Pollard and Lorenzo are both seniors.

Tennessee Tigers To Face 785 Pounds Of Stanfords

By TOMMY GADDIE

Those of you who are familiar with the techniques of the Stanford brothers on the Aggie Grid are in for more of the same this season. And when I say more, I mean 260 additional pounds of the same beef and courage that the Stanford brothers are known for. Two hundred and sixty pounds of additional Stanford weight is exactly what you, dear Aggie fans, are in for when the Aggies face Tennessee September 24; for this year Coach Bert Piggott has been successful in obtaining for the Aggie Team the brother of Lorenza and Pollard Stanford, Carl.

Coach Piggott has also been successful in securing several other freshmen players who are expected to show their skill on the field this season. These young men who are reported to be very dangerous to all of the Aggie opponents are Ronald Hart, Suffolk, Va., halfback; Gus Lee, Washington, D. C., fullback; Cornell Gordon, Norfolk, Va., quarterback; Willie McLeod, another heavy weight at 250, a tackle from Dunn, N. C.

Aggie fans should be pleased to know that the sensationally fabulous Gene Cambridge again shall run for the Aggie team. With his experience and speed and weight of the Stanfords, the Aggie team should set a new record in touchdowns this season.

Others who have helped to distinguish the name "A&T" in national football circles and who have given the challenging teams something to write home about will be out on the field this season with only one thing in mind and that will be to win. These outstanding young men include Joe Taylor, Miami, Fla.; Dick Westmoreland, Charlotte, N. C.; Lloyd Oakley, the Greensboro boy who has become the most aggressive and dependable football star for the thousands of Aggie fans who come to cheer the team to victory. Another Floridian, Calvin Lang from Jacksonville is also expected to solve a great number of the Aggie problems this season. Jim Mitchell, Newport News, Va., who is a sophomore this season is expected to show the effect of one year with the Aggie stars when he takes over the quarterback spot this season.

This season the line will be held by a wall stronger than the walls of Jericho, for it will be composed of the best CIAA Linemen, Lorenza and Pollard Stanford, both of Englishtown, N. J.; Mel Richardson's 295 pounds, Johnstown, Pa., Charles Stiggers' 230 pounds, New River, Va.; Bob Faulkner, Charlotte, N. C.; and Paul Brown, Baltimore, Md.

This fantastic sports feat will be presented by the almighty Aggie team and the challengers from Tennessee A&I University at 8:00 P.M.

Debators Initiate Year

The well-versed College Debating Team will meet for the first time this school year on September 19 in Hodgkin Hall.

This organization in the past has appeared in competition with noted teams from Howard, Rutgers, New York University and many other institutions.

These talented debators are in the midst of setting up plans for future meets; therefore, they are urging interested freshmen and other students to become affiliated with the group early. This will offer an opportunity for new debators to gain experience and for the "old pros" to adequately prepare themselves for the new debate topic to be announced soon.

BAND MAKES DEBUT NEXT SATURDAY

By ERNEST JOHNSTON, JR.

When the big, wailing Aggie band takes the field on September 24, it will mark the official debut of the 1960 edition of this fine aggregation. Although the band will be minus a few of last year's top flight performers, the show will go on.

ADAMS TO LEAD CREW

Again, Willie Adams will lead the crew on the field and some of the hard wailers left from last year will try to fill the shoes of "Shorty" Evans. Everybody will be trying to look his best from the drum major to the last rank.

FRESHMEN TO SHINE

Already there have been 135 students to try out, but this number will probably be cut to 110.

Freshmen students will march through the gates of Memorial Stadium for the first time, and they will

Joint Corps To Present Program

The Joint Army-Air Force ROTC Corps will hold its annual orientation Ceremonies Thursday, September 29 in Harrison Auditorium.

This is an affair held each year at the beginning of the session to orient the cadets on the propose of ROTC, the command, policies, general training, administrative objectives, and customs of the service.

It is during this time that the Cadre staff, corps commander and staff, Miss ROTC, unit commanders, staff and unit queens are formally presented to the joint corps.

The National and State colors will be turned over in a solemn ceremony by the Air Force Unit to the Army Unit to "guard, respect and display with reverence."

LEADERSHIP ALTERNATES

Each year corps leadership alternates from Army to Air Force. The unit which is responsible for the overall leadership is given custody of the Colors. Cadet Lt. Col. John Holley, Corps Commander, and Major Lawrence D. Spencer, PMS, will accept the Colors from Major Fred Allen, PAS.

DIFFERENT COMMANDS

The Joint Corps Staff is composed of J-1 Adjutant, Cadet Major Roger Horton, AFROTC and Chemistry Major from Staley; J-2, Intelligence, Cadet Maj. Glen L. Cooper, Army ROTC and Applied Sociology major from Nashville; J-3, Operations, Major Hollowell Jones, Army ROTC and Mechanical engineering major from Elizabeth City, and J-4 logistics, Cadet Major Joseph Green AFROTC, mathematic major from Greensboro.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

The Corps Commander and Staff have been active planning the calendar of activities in which the Corps will participate this year. Among these are the annual homecoming parade, High School Senior Day, and Founder's Day, Mother's Day Review, Veterans' Day Ceremonies, Annual Officer's Club Banquet, Annual Military Ball, Annual "ROTC Day" and Commencement Exercises.

Under the leadership of Cadet Lt. Col. Holley and the advisorship of Major Lawrence D. Spencer, PMS, the Corps anticipates a year of progress and service.

News Editor Says Vows In August

Miss Fannie Mae Peay of Greensboro, daughter of Mrs. Mary Peay, recently became the bride of Lenard E. Jamison, son of Mrs. Lenora Jamison of Orange Lake, Florida.

The marriage took place at the home of the Reverend Mr. N. B. Smith, with Reverend Smith officiating the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Walter Colon, the bride wore a white street-length organdy dress with eyelet bodice.

Mr. Willie M. Norman of Greensboro, was matron of honor; and Nathan Norman served as best man.

Both the bride and groom are students here. Mrs. Jamison is a senior English major and served last year as sports writer for THE REGISTER. Mr. Jamison is a sophomore tailoring major.

After the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's brother.

Aggies Take Shape

According to Coach Bert Piggott, the Aggies will have the smallest squad in recent years on the work bench. But it will represent the fastest and biggest lot of players ever to enter the Aggie Camp.

Throughout practice, the players have been going through drills and calisthenics with the same precision as if they were ready for the first engagement.

The teams shape up this year as a battle between a hard running assault, afforded by the Nashville outfit, and a deadly passing attack generated by the Aggies.

The Aggies meet Tennessee A&I State University for their opener. The remaining schedule listed below will be followed.

September 24, Tenn. A&I University, Greensboro.

October 1, Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C.

October 8, South Carolina State, Greensboro.

October 15, Maryland State College, Princess Anne, Md.

October 22, Winston-Salem Teachers, Winston-Salem, N. C.

October 29, Morgan State College (HOMECOMING) Greensboro, N. C.

GOOD ENTERTAINMENT

The band will present band pageants with formations, also scenes and stories to go with it. Although there will be a few dance steps, listeners will get a chance to take several imaginary trips through modern music.

MAJORETTES TO STEP HIGH

In addition to last year's majorettes, an additional crew reported for this edition of the band. These young ladies will be prepared to step just as high as the band itself. Along with the majorettes will be the flag twirlers who will add color to the scene.

BAND TO LOOK GOOD

The whole aggregation plans to look good in uniforms that were purchased last year. These not only will make the band look better but will add snap and dignity to the group. Already the band is planning to make its appearance at all the away games.

SHOW TIME

"Band, take the field" is one of the familiar sounds heard over the mike; and with this, the whole stadium resounds. Mr. Walter F. Carlson, Jr., director of the band, has been busy grooming the crew into a band that the Aggie fans will be proud to watch throughout the season.
