The Register, 1964-04-03

North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digital.library.ncat.edu/atregister

Recommended Citation
https://digital.library.ncat.edu/atregister/233

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Digital Collections at Aggie Digital Collections and Scholarship. It has been accepted for inclusion in NCAT Student Newspapers by an authorized administrator of Aggie Digital Collections and Scholarship. For more information, please contact iyanna@ncat.edu.
Baroque Chamber Music Players Will Present Concert April 20

The Baroque Chamber Players will appear in concert on this campus April 20, Mr. Howard Powell, chairman of the Depart­ment of Music announced today.

A newly-formed ensemble composed of members of the Indiana University School of Music faculty, the Players will appear in Herr­sien Auditorium at 8 P.M. Their concert will be devoted to the music and literature of the Baroque Period.

In recent years, there has been a tremendous increase in the interest in the music of the 16th and 17th centuries. In many ways the period is closely related to the era jazz field, is characterized by American composer and conductor, John A. White, harpsichord; Jerry Grant; violin; Allan K. Stuart; brass; Alexander S. Ackley, percussion; and Leopold Teraspulsky, piano.

The Baroque Period, as well as contemporary compositions in the string and in the mod­ern jazz field, is characterized by such features as improvisation, lighter textures and rhythmic ex­pression.

In July, 1954, a non-profit, tax-exempt group was formed to present concerts of Baroque music at Indiana University. The new ensemble was founded by Mr. White, who is chairman of the Music Department and associate professor of musicology at Indiana University. Since its formation, the Players have presented concerts in Chicago, and the Chicago Symphony Orches­tra. The Players will appear in Harri­son Auditorium on April 20, Mr. White will conduct George Barati, Hungarian­American composer and conductor, who has performed in France, Puerto Rico, and Geneva and Zurich, Switzerland, and has given Town Hall recitals and two in the Chicago Orchestra Hall.

College Women To Examine Role At Observance Judge Juanita K. Stout To Be Keynote Speaker

The role of college women in a changing society will come under close scrutiny next weekend when A&T College women observe their annual women’s weekend.

The weekend observance gets under way Friday with a program of events in the residence halls for women and is climaxed Sunday with an address by Judge Juanita K. Stout, Illinois.

Friday’s discussions will center around the topic “Goals, Expecta­tions, and Motivation of College Women.”

Mr. Hartsough said that students should participate in expressing their per­ceptions and feelings and that many people are solely concerned with their personal problems and do not think of how their lives may affect others who have helped us.”

The award is a one-year fellow­ship given to 25 outstanding Ne­gro students at A&T.

In his speech, Judge Stout, who is presently judge of the County Court of Green­wich, said that many women are con­cerned with the upgrading of women and persons with extensive business and social experience who are committed to service. The award is presented to students of both sexes and the acceptance ceremony will be held on Saturday, April 4.

Mr. Hartsough spoke of his per­sonal experiences in Cuba, Ger­many, and many parts of the world many people do not really devote enough energy and con­sciousness to many people in the world who are not as lucky as we are. He added that students must take an active part in finding ways to further the cause of these people and to fight for the rights of everyone.

The Governor of North Carolina, Mr. Terry Sanford has invited foreign students to attend the observance and stressed the importance of the event in the development of an awareness in people regard­ing the need for international under­standing.

The award is bestowed on students of both sexes who have completed the first two years of a four-year course of study, are in good standing with the University, and have a rank in the upper one-third of their class.

Col. Samuel McDowell, left, representing the U. S. 3rd Infantry, con­gratulates Capt. Lt. Colonel Cornell Fuller, chairman of the Army ROTC Detachment, following a formal review held at the College last week.

The program, which dealt mostly with the Civil Rights Bill now before Congress, and also to President Johnson, so that these people would realize that they have a moral obligation to participate in the best interest of all citizens.

He asked the students to work in their own communities in gener­ating an awareness in people regard­ing the need for international under­standing.

Mr. Hartsough’s speech was fol­lowed by a question and answer ses­sion, which dealt mostly with the Civil Rights Bill now before Congress.

The guest speaker was recog­nized as one of the leading leaders in the fight for Negro rights. Mr. Hartsough was chairman of the program which was supported by the Howard University and Howard and Fordham Uni­versity. Reverend A. Knighton Stanley introduced the speaker.

The students at A&T Col­lege are expected to take part in this year’s celebration as it was done last year. They will be accompanied by their adviser, Mr. Fred Holman and Mrs. A. Knighton Stanley, co-ad­viser and Mrs. Sanford.

The observance, which is de­voted to Howard University in Wash­ington, D.C., will be held on the University at the West Georgia campus on Saturday and Mrs. Sanford.

Mr. Hartsough said that students should participate in expressing their per­ceptions and feelings and that many people are solely concerned with their personal problems and do not think of how their lives may affect others who have helped us.”

The award is bestowed on students of both sexes who have completed the first two years of a four-year course of study, are in good standing with the University, and have a rank in the upper one-third of their class.

Mr. Hartsough spoke of his per­sonal experiences in Cuba, Ger­many, and many parts of the world many people do not really devote enough energy and con­sciousness to many people in the world who are not as lucky as we are. He added that students must take an active part in finding ways to further the cause of these people and to fight for the rights of everyone.

The Governor of North Carolina, Mr. Terry Sanford has invited foreign students to attend the observance and stressed the importance of the event in the development of an awareness in people regard­ing the need for international under­standing.

The award is bestowed on students of both sexes who have completed the first two years of a four-year course of study, are in good standing with the University, and have a rank in the upper one-third of their class.

Mr. Hartsough said that students should participate in expressing their per­ceptions and feelings and that many people are solely concerned with their personal problems and do not think of how their lives may affect others who have helped us.”

The award is bestowed on students of both sexes who have completed the first two years of a four-year course of study, are in good standing with the University, and have a rank in the upper one-third of their class.

Mr. Hartsough spoke of his per­sonal experiences in Cuba, Ger­many, and many parts of the world many people do not really devote enough energy and con­sciousness to many people in the world who are not as lucky as we are. He added that students must take an active part in finding ways to further the cause of these people and to fight for the rights of everyone.

The Governor of North Carolina, Mr. Terry Sanford has invited foreign students to attend the observance and stressed the importance of the event in the development of an awareness in people regard­ing the need for international under­standing.

The award is bestowed on students of both sexes who have completed the first two years of a four-year course of study, are in good standing with the University, and have a rank in the upper one-third of their class.

Mr. Hartsough said that students should participate in expressing their per­ceptions and feelings and that many people are solely concerned with their personal problems and do not think of how their lives may affect others who have helped us.”

The award is bestowed on students of both sexes who have completed the first two years of a four-year course of study, are in good standing with the University, and have a rank in the upper one-third of their class.

Mr. Hartsough spoke of his per­sonal experiences in Cuba, Ger­many, and many parts of the world many people do not really devote enough energy and con­sciousness to many people in the world who are not as lucky as we are. He added that students must take an active part in finding ways to further the cause of these people and to fight for the rights of everyone.

The Governor of North Carolina, Mr. Terry Sanford has invited foreign students to attend the observance and stressed the importance of the event in the development of an awareness in people regard­ing the need for international under­standing.

The award is bestowed on students of both sexes who have completed the first two years of a four-year course of study, are in good standing with the University, and have a rank in the upper one-third of their class.

Mr. Hartsough said that students should participate in expressing their per­ceptions and feelings and that many people are solely concerned with their personal problems and do not think of how their lives may affect others who have helped us.”

The award is bestowed on students of both sexes who have completed the first two years of a four-year course of study, are in good standing with the University, and have a rank in the upper one-third of their class.

Mr. Hartsough spoke of his per­sonal experiences in Cuba, Ger­many, and many parts of the world many people do not really devote enough energy and con­sciousness to many people in the world who are not as lucky as we are. He added that students must take an active part in finding ways to further the cause of these people and to fight for the rights of everyone.
April 3, 1964

First Class Honor Rating

News that the REGISTER had receivedrollerable ratings for the 1959-60 school year, the REGISTER had received comparable ratings. Those of us who are now directly concerned with the publication naturally appreciate the loss of rating but rather to maintain and if possible, to improve it.

Since the tenure of Albert Rosier as editor during the 1959-60 school year, the REGISTER had received comparable ratings. Those of us who are now directly concerned with the publication naturally appreciate the loss of rating but rather to maintain and if possible, to improve it.

To those persons who were instrumental in making the rating during the last school year, we express our thoughtful assistance of some persons, publishing even a monthly paper would have been difficult.

Publication of a weekly newspaper has been such a massive job that at times it appeared that we might have taken too much for granted. But now we appreciate how much we have accomplished and we can now breathe a little easier.

It is with an atmosphere of much thought that at times it appeared that we might have taken too much for granted. But now we appreciate how much we have accomplished and we can now breathe a little easier.

To those persons who were instrumental in making the rating during the last school year, we express our appreciation. Without a layout editor, advertising manager, sports editor, and others in important positions, it would not have been possible.

Still we have endeavored to do the best job possible and to meet the publication rate. The rating from ACP reassures us that we are not doing such a bad job after all.

Yet we are still aware that we are amateurs; and, as such, we are asking for suggestions and ideas from those persons who can and should continue to enjoy a position of respect among us.

Our production and business manager, has advanced to a position of respect among us. From a time when many professions maintained closed- lock step advancement, woman today stands on the threshold of new and important advances.

The A&T College Women will consider the role which the college occupies and in other posts of responsibility. The role in the management of the home today is not only a personal one but a social one as well.

College Women And Society

A&T College women will consider the role which the college occupies and in other posts of responsibility. The role in the management of the home today is not only a personal one but a social one as well.

The A&T College women will consider the role which the college occupies and in other posts of responsibility. The role in the management of the home today is not only a personal one but a social one as well.

When a letter of yours appears on the pages of the REGISTER, it reaches the editor. Don't be unkind to the editor. Don't be unkind to the editor.

I have dug with my spade until my hands were numb and my fingers bleeding. I have thrown myself into a home where only the lowest form of life was to be found. I have felt the sting of the hawk's beak upon the eaglet's back. But I have hope I will live if I try.

When a letter of yours appears on the pages of the REGISTER, it reaches the editor. Don't be unkind to the editor. Don't be unkind to the editor.

I have dug with my spade until my hands were numb and my fingers bleeding. I have thrown myself into a home where only the lowest form of life was to be found. I have felt the sting of the hawk's beak upon the eaglet's back. But I have hope I will live if I try.

When a letter of yours appears on the pages of the REGISTER, it reaches the editor. Don't be unkind to the editor. Don't be unkind to the editor.

I have dug with my spade until my hands were numb and my fingers bleeding. I have thrown myself into a home where only the lowest form of life was to be found. I have felt the sting of the hawk's beak upon the eaglet's back. But I have hope I will live if I try.
McHartley, Aggie Star, Abandons Toothpick, Still Does Well

BY E. F. CORBET

A toothpick doesn't mean a thing in a basketball game.

Maurice McHartley, star forward with the championship A&T College Aggies Basketball Team, has found that he also plays well without a toothpick. He plans to abandon the toothpick habit for good.

Maurice McHartley, star forward with the championship A&T College Aggies, found that out last week at Evansville, Indiana. McHartley is the fellow who each morning sticks the half length of a toothpick in the corner of his mouth and keeps it there during most of his waking hours...most especially during important basketball games.

"You have the potential of a great basketball player," Head Coach Cal Irvin urged last fall, "if you will believe in yourself..." He is the same fellow who, after three years of "pretty fair" play,...enough to maintain a starting berth during the last two, this season seriously took the admittance of his coach.

McHartley, by mid-season, had taken charge of himself and the team. The folks around Greensboro now speak of him only in glowing superlatives.

With the new-found confidence in himself, McHartley, however, had never lost confidence in the importance of a half toothpick..."I play better with a toothpick," explained McHartley, and he honestly believed it until last week.

"Me" and the Aggies were engaged in a struggle with the Adelphi University Panthers, in the opening round of the NCAA National College Division Basketball Finals at Evansville. The clock showed 18:41 in the second half...and the Panthers, after trailing by as many as 16 points, had tied the score at 40-all. Time was out. No. 2-ranked Maurice McHartley's toothpick had done its first harm. One of the Panther players complained to the referee...and showed blood oozing from a small prick on his face, definitely a toothpick wound.

The toothpick had to go. McHartley..."I seriously took the admonition of my motivator gone..." McHartley's style of basketball, McHartley's..."I've been playing like a thousand pounds heavier than I really am." McHartley's..."I'm the same fellow who, after three years of "pretty fair" play,...enough to maintain a starting berth during the last two, this season seriously took the admittance of his coach.

McHartley has had many honorsaped upon him this season. Results bring the high scorer for his team, with an average of nearly 22 points per game, and leading scorer in the NCAA College Division Finals with 75 points, he has "scored" a buyout in both the CIAA and NCAA National College Division Finals. As a forward, he has been named to the All-CIAA Tournament, All-NCAA South Central and All-NCAA National College Division Finals teams, was selected most valuable player in both the CIAA and NCAA South Central Tournaments and All-State Team selected by the Greensboro Daily News.

USAF F-106, unleashing air-to-ground rockets at simulated enemy target.

School's Out.

Right now, graduation seems way off in the wild blue yonder. But it's not too early to start planning. In the future, you'll look back on decisions you make today with satisfaction...or regret.

What can an Air Force career mean to you in tangible gain? The opportunity to take on exciting jobs in the exciting Aerospace Age. As an Air Force officer, for example, you may be flying a supersonic jet...helping to keep America's guard up. Or you may be in an Air Force laboratory, working to solve an intricate scientific or technological problem.

Doing jobs like these...you'll hold your head high. In addition to being essential to your country, they're the beginnings of a profession of dignity and purpose.

For more information, see the Professor of Air Science. If there is no AFROTC unit on your campus, contact your nearest Air Force recruiter.

U.S. Air Force

Aggie Stickmen
Set Eight Foes
For Home Field

The A&T College Aggies, defending CIAA Champions, will meet eight conference foes on the home field in the upcoming baseball season.

Head Coach McEachern last week released the list of games to be played here at Memorial Stadium. The schedule includes: Howard University, April 9; Grambling Institute, April 19; Norfolk State College, April 21; Shaw University, April 27; Delaware State College, April 28; and Voorhees College, May 2.

All home games are scheduled to get underway promptly at 2:00 P.M.

Foreign

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Sir Douglas Macmillan Knight will address the students.

At 2:00 P.M., the participants will attend seminars on "The World Community With Peace and Justice for All." The seminar will cover the following sub-topics: 1. Rachel Justice in a Peaceful World; 2. Progress in Human Relations; 3. U. S. Foreign Policy, by the U. S., 4. International Relations and Prospects For Peace Through World Law; 5. Politics in a Free Society, by a Free Press in a Free Society.

The day's celebration will be climax by the reception to be given by the Governor of the state and Mrs. Terry Sanford in the beautiful Diverse Gardens.

International Student Day was established three years ago by an order of the Governor and is sponsored by a commission on International Student Relations.

The purpose of the day is to create an atmosphere of understanding between foreign students studying in the status and Americans in general.

Refreshment anyone?

Game goes better refreshed.

Coca-Cola! With its lively lift, big bold taste, never too sweet...refreshes best.

Coka-Cola! With its lively lift, big bold taste, never too sweet...refreshes best.

Coca-Cola! With its lively lift, big bold taste, never too sweet...refreshes best.

Coca-Cola! With its lively lift, big bold taste, never too sweet...refreshes best.

Coca-Cola! With its lively lift, big bold taste, never too sweet...refreshes best.