"THE SOCK STORY"

This year, socks will play a very important role in the attire of college students. Socks, at one time, had been used for elementary and high school students; but as the new fall fashions develop, there to you will see that a lot of color has been placed on socks. The basic: white sock is very important for the majority of the coats, but this fall the tonal has been just a little different.

First, we must think of the TEXTURE. The most important thing is to make the match with the Ope of material which the sock is to the jeans. The texture should be from the fine, fairly visible to the bold and heavy. Secondarily, is the PATTERN. The style as much as our need is most important. One does not want to wear out-dated styles. The Fall styles are ranging from Conservation to the "wild west" look with the designs for socks from the geometric, stripes, checks, plaids sheriff to abstracts.

Pershing Rifles

The National Society of Pershing Rifles of College has already begun preparation for a prosperous year by organizing the drill team under the leadership of tentative Captain S. F. C. Robert Sinclair.

The drill team has already reorganized throughout the state of North Carolina to assure us of a successful parade for our Homecoming Parade.

Another speaker, Dr. Glenn F. Rankin, dean of instruction at the college, pointed out that the canteen becomes apparent but it also means football season. We are expecting full cooperation with all Greeks in the rush for boys.

Class of 1969 has brain and beauty
They could be the beginning of a new era in Aggieland. The college had no girls. Can you imagine when our college was brand new? The first freshman class of 1965 has its share.

Special programs have been designed for high aptitude students. One of these was Clayton Hudson of Henderson, North Carolina, Young Hudson was sponsored last spring by his high school, Henderson Institute, as a junior scientist on the A&T Junior Science and Humanities Symposium, sponsored jointly by the North Carolina Academy of Science (Raleigh), the U. S. Army Research Office, Office, Durham, and A&T. The young scientist presented a slide lecture on "Air Operation and the Atmosphere" and then demonstrated the use of the most knowledgeable scientists in North Carolina.

Dr. Robert S. Beale, chairman of the committee for the symposium, and Dr. Kenneth A. Moore, director of the symposium, presented a trip to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point for the A&T students.

Other freshmen, and we hope that they will feel proud of the choices we have chosen to represent their scopes. That is, one group of freshmen will work and study hard to become as they work and study hard to become the best students in their department, and the other group of freshmen will take the courses they need to prepare them for their careers.

Class of 1969 has brain and beauty

By Bob Wagoner

The space-age freshman of 1969, a child of the second world war bomb, finds much in common with the pioneer college student of the past. He has entrance, although they are not strictly more modern than they were then.

One thing they don't have in common is girls, and the freshman class of 1969 has 22 girls.

The first freshman class of A&T had no girls. Can you imagine where then.

He has classrooms, although they are better are not as big. The University of Virginia was a factory of students during the first world war, although they were better and buildings in the country.

A&T is a fallout of the second world war. The first freshman class of A&T was 103 points above last year's class.

Another talent that all Aggies will be watching in William Ferson, a freshman quarterback on the football team. He showed some marks of his talent against the top LIFE Legion pole in a non-experience opener Friday, September 18. Aggie Coleman James Smallwood, a high school in Buffalo, N. Y., is another freshman who is an outstanding talent according to lead coach Bert Piggott. Smallwood was recruited for A&T by Tom Day, former A&T great now playing with the Buffalo Bills. Coach Piggott stated that Pearson, and the freshman team represent a new breed of athletes at A&T doing well in the classroom.

A&T Begins Semester System

Cheering the cheers that cheer the boys on to victory is an important part of the freshman class. Ninety-six of these students are their homes? Why did they choose A&T since some had other choices? (A few of these students are their homes? Why did they choose A&T since some had other choices? A&T has a large assortment of students, although they are better and buildings in the country. There are 3300 students.

A&T College, which opened for its fifth academic year on Sunday, September 12, began operations on the semester system for the first time in the history of its college work.

The registration of students is almost complete. The system is designed to accommodate the needs of all students. It is expected to be a great success.

Matthews Signs Contract
With Baltimore Orioles
By BOB WAGONER
Cliff Matthews, who last year made the second team of the CIAA, also led the league in scoring, is looking forward to a good year. Matthews, who is 6-0 and 197 pounds, is a very good athlete. Matthews is a left-handed pitcher and his batting average is good. He is a good fielder and has good speed.

A&T Plays Smith
Tomorrow Night
In Greensboro
The A&T College Aggies and the Winston-Salem College Rams will meet in the 23rd annual Capitol Classic, to be played at the Greensboro Coliseum, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. It is to be played at night. This is the first time that the game has been played at night.

Dr. F. E. Davis, left, physician at A&T College, examines Thomas Avant, 6-foot-3, 210 pounds.

Matthews and Lightfoot on the Washington promotion.

Matthews said that he found the framework and experience in the CIAA and that A&T and Shove University might well battle for the championship this coming season.

The rookie feels that there are several good players on the A&T team, but he is not sure how he will do against the All-Stars in the NFL. Matthews said that he will try to learn as much as he can from the NFL players and to prepare himself for the next season.
