James Farmer, Jr. Was Two Awards At Atlanta Meet

James Farmer, Jr., sophomore major from Stillwater, Minnesota, was the recipient of two PFA awards.

James Farmer traveled to Atlanta, Georgia where he was to receive the Superior Farmer's Degree award on October 1; however, after arriving there, he learned that he had been awarded the Superior Farmer's Degree award also. The two awards came to a total of $300. James Farmer is a native of Elkins City, and he is a 1946 graduate of Florida A&M College.

Farmer was in charge of his father's farm for two years while attending Florida A&M, and he used an improved farming program which led him to win the $300 award.

Two other A&T students also won the Superior Farmer's Degree award of $120. They were Clifton Fullen, graduate of Carver High School, Winston-Salem, and Luther H. Lowery, graduate of Carver High School, Winston-Salem.

The bronze boat of the late Dr. P. D. Bluford was unveiled as a major feature of the 1965 Founders' Day.

A special feature of this Founders' Day will be a Retirement Review in honor of Lt. Colonel William Goode. Colonel Goode will be presented the Army Commendation Medal by Colonel Stufflefield of the Third United States Army.

Upon his retirement from the army, Colonel Goode will assume the duties of the dean of men at A&T College.

He will be succeeded as professor of military science by Lt. Colonel Harold L. Lanier, an A&T College alumnus.

Ground breaking ceremonies for the student union building will follow the Founders' Day exercises.

An added attraction for the conference was the appearance of Charles B. Carter, creator of "Peanuts," at the difference ball rolling on Thursday night by introducing Founda and his cartoon pals. A red sheet of space to the trip, the A&T delegation toured China to visit Jack T. Lin- don's hideout, Milk Woods, Water- mark's start, and a few other his- torical places.

A&T was held at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in conjunction with the National Council of College Publications Advisory.

W. T. Johnson Is Honored At Two Nat'l Conventions

A staff member of A&T College was honored by two national conventions conducted at widely separated points in the country.

During the past summer he was honored by the North Carolina Teachers of Vocational Agriculture with the presentation of a life mem- hership in the American Vocational Agricultural Association. He was also the recipient of the Alumni Service Award, presented by the A&T College General Alumni Assn. in 1963.

One side of the lounge is open to members only, and one side to both members and non-members. THE COLLEGE LOUNGE is relatively new to A&T students, so why not patronize it?

On Giving Thanks

November is the month we celebrate Thanksgiving and Founders' Day. Although these days are approximately three weeks apart, they have something in common and that is the giving of thanks.

On Thanksgiving Day we give thanks for the many blessings the Lord has bestowed upon us. On Founders' Day we give thanks for our college and the opportunity it gives us to receive a higher education.

About the Bookstore

A recent article on the college bookstore served its purpose in that some light has been shed on the matter of book deficiency.

In 1915 an act of the State Legislature changed the name of A&T College to A&T College of North Carolina.

Rutland County. Through the years A&T has contributed much to the improvement of the Negro race and the American society in general. Dependent upon the college across the country A&T trained scholars, technicians, nurses, doctors, sociologists, military leaders, and other personnel. Rutland should be thankful, we hope, for our opportunities and take precautions not to waste them. A&T was founded to help individuals to learn to help themselves.

Who is an Aggie?

Aggie, as no doubt you know by now, is a pet name for a student of the Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina. Not just any student of the college, however, is a real Aggie. The true Aggie is one who lives up to the ideals of the school. Hospitality, simplicity, and "decency" are the three main characteristics which distinguish the Aggie from others.

In "Aggieland," may the passer-by stop to admire fresh men, and, perhaps, some of the students of the college.

From the Office

Dr. J. E. Marshall, dean of students, comments on the students' cooperation and responsibility during the week of homecoming. He says much of it attained itself, has been assimilated and is attributable to the "True Aggie," the student who is cooperative, who shows courtesy and consideration for others. Dr. Marshall states that the student body won the praises of the exhibition of true school spirit, the cooperation and devotion to the goal and aspiration of the college.

Fashions

The cold weather has brought back to our wardrobe the bulky sweater, knee sock, loafers, and knapsack. Bulky sweaters are at all times highly appreciated because of the changeable weather. A bulky sweater is made of a very heavy knit and the designs are criss cross. The sweater may be a little below the waist line. The styles are V-neck, button down the front, crew cut and turtle neck. A knee sock may be straight, pleated or gathered and stop at the knee or a little below the knee. The loafers and knee socks should co-ordinate with the outfit. The leading colors for the season are cranberry, pink, blue and cranberry, and hunter green.
FFA Group Attends Fair

The A&T College Collegiate Chapter of Future Farmers of America sponsored another trip to the annual N. C. Agriculture Fair October 15. The trip consisted of thirty-six students and four adults. The time was from 8:00 A.M. to 5:30 P.M. and transportation was by car and the activity bus, "the blue goose."

Literary Club Elects Adams As President

The Fortnightly Club, sponsored by the Department of English of A&T College, held its first meeting of the year Monday, October 25. The purpose of the meeting was to reorganize the club, elect officers, and to acquaint new members with the organization. Previous members of the club were, for the most part, seniors and had left the club virtually void of active members. Last year's advisor, Miss Jean M. Bright, is presently on leave, and documents and information were needed before the club could get "on the go."

William Adams was elected president of the club, and Beverly Janus, secretary. Robert Rabb and Mr. Charles C. Derwood are advisers to the club. There is an open invitation from the Fortnightly Club to all persons interested in the art and enjoyment to be found through reading. For such is the primary concern of the club. For further information please contact one of the above officers or advisors. The Fortnightly Club reminds you: "For a Better Future, Read!"

Math Club Meets Officers Elected For School Year

The Mathematics Club had its annual meeting for the purpose of electing officers last Monday. The new office elected were Robert H. Rivers, president; Charley Flett, vice-president; Pat Moody, corresponding secretary; and Annie River, treasurer. Miss Dorothy M. Fuller, Mr. Terry Pond, social chairman; Fred Cook, program chairman; and Mrs. Anita Fuller, adviser to the club.

The purpose of the Mathematics Club of A&T College is to promote and stimulate interest in the various areas of mathematics and to keep the student abreast of the new trends in mathematics through research, visiting speakers, and seminaries. Meetings have been set for the sixth and fourth Mondays of each month at 7:30 P.M.

N. C. Fund Seeks Campus Volunteers

The North Carolina Fund for the past two summers has sponsored the North Carolina Volunteers. This has been a program in which college students volunteered their summer vacations to work in the neighborhoods of poverty. The primary purpose of the trip was to get a note of the various aspects of the fair and to submit a written report on what he liked or disliked about the fair and also to list some recommendations as to how the fair could be improved for the benefit of the public.

In Bear's Homecoming Event Saturday Johnson was outstanding. Vaughn tackle the Bears in Baltimore, out victorious by the score of 34-0.

October 23 and Morgan State came champions besides A&T and Morgan were Clyde Petteway, Dennis beginning of the season. Winston-or he will run right by them. Opponents had better be on their toes of the season. Now he appears to have regained his form of last round ballplayer. Johnson seems one via running. The play of half-lege, quarterback John Granger of the season, was Morgan State. They were able to put on a team during the championships, the Aggies had to take care of the Bears from Morgan last year was the most phenomenal year was the most phenomenal. The Aggies wiU be ready for aU opponents.

The Aggies hope to have a lot of sup­ prises for a lot of people. With seven veterans returning along with the Aggies wiU have another large, and also a team that will make people look twice.

11-MEET SEASON

The Aggie defensive forward wall is not as potent as it was at the beginning of the season. Winston-Salem State has three touchdowns and a field goal for its three touchdowns and a field goal. The Aggies held the Rams scoreless in the third stanza as they lengthened their lead by putting 16 points on the scoreboard. The first six points came when quarterback Granger rifled a 22-yard scoring pass to Willie Vaughn. Phillips ran over for the two-point conversion play giving the Aggies a 14-0 lead.

Phillips, who evidently got angry at the thought of Winston-Salem's threatening the Aggies pulled in a 61-yard drive, All-CIAA quarterback, as he hit and Wun-Taborn. Their try for the extra point was no good, so the Aggies still led 8-0.

Phillips, who evidently got angry at the thought of Winston-Salem's threatening the Aggies pulled in a 61-yard pass from Granger giving the Aggies a 14-0 margin. The Aggies led the Rams 8-0 at the half and challenged the remainder of the second quarter.
