A&T Observes Three Events On Her 74th Founders’ Day

A&T College broke ground for a $5,000,000 student union building, winning a change of the guard for the Army ROTC, and bowed an address by an alumnus on the 74th Founders’ Day observance last Thursday.

Activities began with a retirement ceremony for approximately 1,000 Army and Air Force ROTC cadets at 8:00 A.M. on Dudley lawn in honor of Lt. Col. William Goody and his successor, Lt. Col. Harold L. Losier.

Colonel Goody retired after 25 years of military service, four of which he spent at A&T as professor of military science. Upon retirement from the Army, Col. Goody assumed his duties as dean of men at A&T.

Dr. L. C. Dowdy, A&T president, and visiting dignitaries attended the review and went from there to Moore Gymnasium where Dr. Morris H. Tyner was the guest speaker.

Pastor of Monumental Baptist Church in Richmond and an A&T College alumna, Dr. Tyner used as his theme, "What a Difference a Day Makes." He cited outstanding events that occurred in one day — the assassination of a president, the emergence of a new leader, which he spent at A&T as professor of military science. Upon retirement from the Army, Col. Goody assumed his duties as dean of men at A&T.

TWO WEEKS—TWO ACCIDENTS

By LEE HOUSE, JR.

A&T College has been the site of two accidents within a span of two weeks. Student assistants as well as student victims were involved.

Saturday, October 30, at approximately 10:00 A.M., Joseph Battle was struck by a student vehicle on campus between Scott and Cooper Halls. Battle received moderate injuries as well as the pedestrian as well as the motorist. The keenly alert mind should be able to discriminate between the do's and don't's for internal and external injuries.

This type of climate is very changeable. Today, it may be wet, but who knows what tomorrow will bring? It might rain or snow, so it is time to be sure that we are prepared. This in itself produces a maze of difficulties. As students scatter and scramble to and from classes, cars zoom and boom through and around or even so, as lately, over students. There are no traffic lights, parking, and seeming confusion of signs and/or regulators of traffic. Nevertheless, virtue should always triumph over the vice. The student, the pedestrian, the student who should seldom be distracted between the do's and don't's for the pedestrian as well as the motorist. The keenly alert mind in gauging the do's and don't's for the pedestrian is included.

This applies to both the walking and riding individual. The motorist, however, should never fail to exercise good judgment as the walking and riding individual. This in itself produces a maze of difficulties. As students scatter and scramble to and from classes, cars zoom and boom through and around or even so, as lately, over students. There are no traffic lights, parking, and seeming confusion of signs and/or regulators of traffic. Nevertheless, virtue should always triumph over the vice. The student, the pedestrian, the student who should seldom be distracted.

The occurrence of these accidents has necessitated the stepped-up interest in campus safety. This very article is but a tenant of the grand appeal to all, the part of the college, to all concerned to adhere to a policy of safety and relations conducive thereof.

There are hundreds of cars traveling on campus daily. This in itself produces a maze of difficulties. Policy Of THE REGISTER

It is the policy of THE REGISTER to print any worthwhile information or news that affects A&T College, its students, its faculty, and its alumni.

It is also the policy of THE REGISTER to take a stand on controversial issues that affect the college community, whether they be administration-student or student-student issues. However, it must be said here that we can do nothing if we don't know your grievances or, just as important, your praises.

We encourage you to write letters to the editor giving us your opinion of the varied aspects of academic life and social life at A&T; however the editor reserves the right to edit all letters to be printed.

Another point that should be brought out now is that THE REGISTER is not concerned with national or international news that does not directly apply to A&T. One can read this news in the daily papers or hear it on the radio or on the television. Instead we are more concerned with the news of the college.

There are many clubs and organizations on campus. If it seems that some clubs are getting more attention than others, it is because they publicize their organizations. If your organization has any news of interest, please let us know so we can print it.

THE REGISTER is in no way connected to or in competition with the Student Government and, therefore, is not obligated to support its decisions. This is in keeping with the right of freedom of the press. Furthermore, information printed in THE REGISTER does not necessarily reflect the views of the administration.

The members of the staff have worked hard to make the paper a success thus far. Our job will be easier with your help.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR OF THE REGISTER

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to you and your staff for the very fine work you have done in keeping the A&T College family informed through issues of THE REGISTER that have been published this year. I was especially pleased with the extra edition that was published in the face of an extremely limited time. We are beginning to depend more and more on THE REGISTER as our information source.

Thank you very much for the interest, concern and dedication that you have demonstrated in relating the purpose and objectives of our college.

Kindest regards,

Yours truly,

LEWIS C. DOWDY, President

FOUNDEGG'S DAY MESSAGE

"What A Difference A Day Makes"

By EULA BATTLE

Many persons heard the inspiring message given by Dr. William E. Tynes at the Annual Founders' Day Convocation.

He was a very timely message — "What A Difference A Day Makes." Because the twenty-four little hours contained within one day can and do make a great deal of difference, one should be mindful of how he spends his time.

Not everything one wishes to do can be done in a day. However, one should be able to build today on yesterday and expect a great deal of difference; one should be mindful of how he spends his time.

The timelessness of Dr. Tynes' appeal for discipline and re­straint in social affairs is exemplified in campus life. Students who are unable to cope with these problems live with themselves cannot hope to get along with their roommates. Young adults should heed Dr. Tynes' appeal for discipline and re­straint in social affairs so as to build family life and dispel illegiti­macy. This is a must if the leaders of tomorrow plan to set an example for the generation which follows.

Instructors, too, should heed the words of Dr. Tynes. They should teach the student where they find him and carry him as far as he can go. Many instructors seem not to realize that students come to the college from many different educational backgrounds. Many students are not equipped to travel at the pace which instructors insist on taking them.

As most of us know, our school is located in an undesirable climate. This type of climate is very changeable. Today, it may be hot, but who knows what tomorrow will bring? Postman's Illness wrote the following dedication:

"For more years than our generation cares to remember, the same cheerful, smiling, disinterested figure has filled a niche in the hearts of the A&T College family. Regardless of what the occasion demanded, whether it was a kind word, a bit of advice, or an expression of grief, this friendly personality was there to provide it. So much a part of the college is he that to remove him would be to erase what in essence rivals the great traditions of the universe. None, we dare say, has won more friends, has merited more personalities, has viewed more expressions of joy and sorrow than has this small man with the big heart who controls the campus mail.

"He has lived up to the highest traditions of the postal service as reflected in its motto, 'Neither sleet, nor snow, nor gloom of night can stay these couriers from the safe completion of their appointed rounds.'"

Dean Of Students Seeks Nominees
For "Who's Who In American Colleges"

A&T College has been requested to participate in nominating students for "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Deans of schools have been requested to submit names of outstanding students for consideration. Scholarship will be a most outstanding factor in consideration, but leadership and citizenship are also very important.

This year a democratic facet has been returned. Students who feel that they have qualifications and requirements for being considered for nomination, may make it known to the dean of students. This, of course, is a senior exclusive on this campus, but lower classmen are encouraged to strive now for qualification in the future.

The appearance of one's name in "Who's Who..." is "the" recognizable achievement in one's college career.

The IBM interviewer will be on campus November 18

Interview him. How else are you going to find out about new ways to use your talents and skills in an exciting "go-places" career?

You could visit a nearby IBM branch office. You could write to the Manager of College Relations, IBM Corporate Headquarters, Armonk, New York 10504. But we would like to see you on campus. Why not check at your placement office today? See if you can still make an appointment for an on-campus visit with IBM. Then interview the IBM interviewer.

Whatever your area of study, ask him how you might use your particular talents at IBM. Ask about your growth potential in America's fastest-growing major industry. You'll never regret it. IBM is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Industry Offers Study And Work In Balance

By Willel Randolph
A&T College's Vocational Industrial Association provides a program which offers a balanced program of studies and work experience that have the common objective of preparing competent workers. This program develops skills, abilities, and occupational orientations and habits which imparts knowledge and information needed by individuals who desire to enter and make progress in employment. The goal is an American who, as a worker, is constructive, economical, socially, physically, and industrially. Such an individual will be able to live in society.

The School of Industry of A&T College offers training in the full range of technical and scientific vocations, and allows students to gain the knowledge, building construction technology, and related areas.

The completion of one of the above studies, one is qualified to receive a Bachelor of Science Degree. He is then qualified to work in a specialized field in the technical fields including teaching in the field concerned. A student of this period may be able to enter employment. This asset is one which can be worked toward.

Ninety-seven students are presently enrolled in these new programs.

Football Boys Display Form As Florida A&M Takes It 28-14

BY EARNEST FULTON

The Aggies were defeated last Saturday by a "non-traditional" Florida A&M team. The final score was 28-14.

The Aggies were beaten by their own mistakes with an occasional hand from the Rattlers. The defense actually gave up only one Rattlers' touchdowns on a drive. The other Florida scores were on intercepted passes and a blocked punt.

In the second half of the game A&M drove deep into Florida A&M's territory on a sustained drive. With the ball on the Rattlers' 20-yard line, quarterback Willie Pearson tossed a pass which was intercepted. The Rattlers raced 80 yards for a touchdown. The key run in the drive was a 10-yard burst by Mike Johnson. The Rattlers led 14-0.

In the third quarter of the game A&M drove down the field to the Rattlers' 30-yard line. On fourth down, the Aggies' quarterback Willie Pearson passed to Melvin Phillips from Pearson's 10-yard line. The Rattlers failed to intercept the pass. Pearson's punt was recovered by the Rattlers at the A&M 30-yard line. The Rattlers drove down to the A&M five-yard line and scored on a 10-yard burst by Mike Johnson. The kick for the extra point was good and Florida A&M led by a score of 20-0.

In the final quarter, the Aggies had the ball on their 30-yard line. A Willie Pearson pass was blocked by a Rattler defensive back and it was returned for a touchdown. The two-point conversion was good and the score stood Florida A&M 28 — A&T 14.
