The Register, 1966-01-28

North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University

Follow this and additional works at: https://digital.library.ncat.edu/atregister

Recommended Citation
https://digital.library.ncat.edu/atregister/269

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Digital Collections at Aggie Digital Collections and Scholarship. It has been accepted for inclusion in NCAT Student Newspapers by an authorized administrator of Aggie Digital Collections and Scholarship. For more information, please contact iyanna@ncat.edu.
Church Presents Group Of Stars In Broadway Theatrical Show

Soon to be presented at A. T. & College will be an excellent cast of "The Best of Broadway," directed by Mr. C. Dele Ture and featuring the following Broadway Theatrical Extravaganza.

This presentation will be in Harrison Auditorium on Thursday, February 24 at 8:00. Mr. de Ture takes the benefit of the Building Fund of Trinity A. T. & Zoo Church and consists of a staging group of stars from Broadway itself. This group will present the best of Cole Porter, Irving Berlin, Gershwin and Harold Arlen. Featuring in Costume, West Side Story, Specialized Broadway Highlights, and Dramatic Excerpts from current Broadway shows.

Mr. de Ture, the director, is a graduate of the Virginia Theological Seminary and College. After considerable controversy, he was graduated and received his B. A. degree in vocal music in Chicago. He has internationally known for his work in the field of music and drama. While spending four years in the Army during World War II, he made a two-year tour around the world with the Irving Berlin production, "This IS the Army." While in Hollywood making the movie version of his production, he conducted the voices "This is the Army" shown at the Hollywood Bowl.

Mr. Turner also appeared in the following New York Broadway productions: "Anna Lee" with Ethel Mermelstein, "Last in the Star" and "South Pacific." He sang the role of St. Stephen in "Pare Saints in Three Acts," on Broadway and Paris, France. He also appeared in the American and European companies of "Ferry and Beer" and for ten years sang with the New York Center Opera Company in "Carmen Jorina," Pann's "Rainbows" and "Show Boat." He has appeared this fall as a featured singer with the DePaur Chorus. He noted that for the finals last year, every seat in the house was taken care of the expected record spectators.

The group contends that the present seating arrangements is gross unrest and inadequate facilities. If there is such a problem, then all students should hear the burden, not just the president. It seems that upperclassmen and seniors are being deprived of a certain voice and that the freshmen and sophomores whom they represent should be heard immediately about these conditions. Time factor, classes, meetings, etc.

The condition in question is the overcrowded and bustling Murphy Hall with its overflow of freshmen and sophomore students. The lines seem to have no end; they circle the walls, at times. Possibly the extreme was reached when students were turned away from Murphy Hall. "Go back, the building won't hold anymore. Go to Brown Hall." Upon reaching Brown Hall students were met by the loud tones of someone saying: "Freshmen and sophomores cannot eat here—you must leave."

The main groups concerned here are the protesters, the student body at large, and the administration. Serving as spokesmen for each group are Melvin Whaley, senior, Chairman, A. T. &; George Stevens, junior, president of the student government, Greensboro and Dr. J. E. Marshall, dean of students, respectively.

The active protesters, according to Mr. Whaley, have been in the group for the past several months. The main issue is that the students are being deprived of certain rights by being required to eat at only two hotels. The students pay the same fees, they say, yet are forced to choose their own dining area or at least be provided for with equal and adequate facilities. If there is such a problem, then all students should be heard, not just the president. It seems that the president of the group or its representatives should be involved in a system of students between the two dining halls based on a method other than mere classification, says the group.

Mrs. Whaley, as speaker of the group, said that the Student Government should have recognized this problem and acted long ago. He feels that there should be equal representation in the S. G. for freshmen and sophomores. Previously this has not been the case with reference to underclassmen. It seems that representation priority has prevailed. It also seems that the president of the S. G. is partial to upperclassmen, says Whaley.

Underclassmen representatives feel that they should speak up for the majority of the freshmen and sophomore students who they represent...

(Continued on Page 3)

Dining Hall: Quasi Disaster As Overflow Creates Problems For Student Body And Others

By LEE HOUSE, JR.

The past week has been a hazardous event with a unimproved condition in the dining halls of A. T. & College. With the mud and water, students by the hundreds crowded in to eat. With the unimproved, forward assault air, the number and size of the dining facilities remain static. On occasion, such as last week's incidents, sanity reigns supreme.

The condition is the overcrowded and bustling Murphy Hall with its overflow of freshmen and sophomore students. The lines seem to have no end; they circle the walls, at times. Possibly the extreme was reached when students were turned away from Murphy Hall. "Go back, the building won't hold anymore. Go to Brown Hall." Upon reaching Brown Hall students were met by the loud tones of someone saying: "Freshmen and sophomores cannot eat here—you must leave."

The main groups concerned here are the protesters, the student body at large, and the administration. Serving as spokesmen for each group are Melvin Whaley, senior, Chairman, A. T. &; George Stevens, junior, president of the student government, Greensboro and Dr. J. E. Marshall, dean of students, respectively.

The active protesters, according to Mr. Whaley, have been in the group for the past several months. The main issue is that the students are being deprived of certain rights by being required to eat at only two hotels. The students pay the same fees, they say, yet are forced to choose their own dining area or at least be provided for with equal and adequate facilities. If there is such a problem, then all students should be heard, not just the president. It seems that the president of the group or its representatives should be involved in a system of students between the two dining halls based on a method other than mere classification, says the group.

Mrs. Whaley, as speaker of the group, said that the Student Government should have recognized this problem and acted long ago. He feels that there should be equal representation in the S. G. for freshmen and sophomores. Previously this has not been the case with reference to underclassmen. It seems that representation priority has prevailed. It also seems that the president of the S. G. is partial to upperclassmen, says Whaley.

Underclassmen representatives feel that they should speak up for the majority of the freshmen and sophomore students who they represent...

(Continued on Page 3)

Administration Deplores Unrest In Dining Halls

By LEE HOUSE, JR.

Dr. J. E. Marshall, representing the administrative position with reference to the dining hall dilemma, is quite concerned over the situation, which he maintains should not even be in existence. He feels that there is more than a few remarks in this area.

Initially, says Dean Marshall, with the full cooperation of the students and others involved, this current dining problem of gross unrest between Browns and Murphy Hall and just who should or should not eat in either would come to an end. Brown Hall, he reminds us, has a limited capacity in comparison with Murphy Hall and was originally designated as the dining facility for juniors and seniors. The former director of food service made a special assignment of some sophomores to Brown Hall in order to bring about a balance in the distribution of students between the two halls. This system had appeared to work fine.

Shortly after the change over...

(Continued on Page 3)

Angel Flight “Adopts” Unit Of Air Force Crew In Viet Nam

The Angel Flight, A. T. & College has adopted, for its own, the Air Force Unit now in Viet Nam. The organization, a sponsor group for the A. T. & Air Force ROTC Detachment, last week received word of the offer of adoption from the 5th Air Command Squadron.

Responding for the unit was Lt. Col. John D. Pace, commander, who expressed his appreciation for the thoughtfulness.

The Squadron, flying C-123 Providers, transport aircraft, operates in the air force of troops and supplies throughout the theater in support of combat operations.

"Our guys do a terrific job over here providing airlift into shore, unprocessed, forward air supplies. Many of the fields we serve and our crew are subject to hostile ground fire. Most of our personnel are "Punished Providers" which is a code name given to us by the enemy.

Our cargo takes on a variety of forms including medical items, rice and every foodstuff which constitutes the diet of the Vietnamese people.

The Angel Flight will keep in constant communication with the flyers, will write them letters, send cookbooks, and do those little things for them here at home which they cannot do for themselves.

CIAA Tournament Gets More Seats For 21st Contest

Nearly 1,500 seats are to be added in the Greensboro Coliseum this year for the 21st Annual CIAA Basketball Tournament to be held here for three days on February 24, 25, and 26.

Dr. William M. Bell, athletic director at A. T. & College and chairman of the Tournament Committee, announced at a meeting of the Committee here last Sunday that these seats are to be added at each end of the basketball floor to make the Coliseum a more comfortable theater. The new arrangements will accommodate the nearly 3,000 spectators.

By resolution that the finals last year, every seat in the house was sold.

Dr. Bell added that tickets are to be placed on sale at the Coliseum beginning on February 1, and may be purchased direct or by mail.

The Elmore M. Kennedy Angel Flight, a sponsor group for the A. T. & College Air Force ROTC Detachment, has adopted the 5th Air Command Squadron, now in action in Viet Nam. The group will receive a letter from Lt. Col. John D. Pace, commander of the unit, an expression of appreciation for the interest they have taken in the unit.

From left to right are Phyllis Smith, Farmville; Arlene Drane, Smithfield; Eudora Atkinson, Forest City; Camilla Turner, Roxboro; Harry Roberts, Charlotte; Virginia Purcell, Virginia; Georgia; Eileen Little, Thomasville; and Marilyn Johnson, Portsmouth, Virginia.
Dining Hall Situation

The term “dining-hall-situation” has been construed to mean everything from excessively long lines to lack of proper utensils. And, just as in years past, the term is becoming a frequently used one in A&Tland.

Since the new food service came to A&T, the cafeterias have literally become disaster areas. The lines are atrocious and student discontent is beginning to show. No one could venture to say that the new food service ever was a situation just as no one can say that the new food service has not added to this situation. Of course, this is beside the point. The point is that there is a situation and everyone wants to know what is going to be done about it.

It seems that the unrest arose over the fact that juniors and seniors were being directed to dine in Brown Hall, while freshmen and sophomores were to have their meals in Murphy Hall.

It apparently was rumored that students could dine in the cafeteria of their choice. “And then the trouble began to brew.” Freshmen and sophomores began to flow over Brown Hall. In an effort to correct this, the “dining committee”, consisted of freshmen and sophomores out and sent them back to Murphy. As a result of this action, the lines in Murphy Snowball gure to have no end. Even through the times the lines were going at full speed, the lines persisted. At times they encircled the entire lower half of the large dining facility.

Converted from a national committee, a student protesting group was formed. With their senior spokesman, Melvin Whaley, the group feels that upperclassmen should bear some of the burden that have seemingly been placed on freshmen and sophomores because they are restricted to eat in Murphy Hall.

The Student Government, it seems, supports the action of restricting freshmen and sophomores to Murphy Hall. Dean Marshall, who represents the administration in the matter of restrictions, feels that if full cooperation from all concerned, the matter will soon cease to be a problem. His plan, it seems, is to have dining hall identification cards issued. These cards will be based on classification and proportion for equilibrium. Sound familiar? It should. It’s almost a replica of what we had at the beginning of the semester.

It is, however, reassuring to note that undesirable conditions have not gone unnoticed and that concrete steps are being taken to correct the matter. It is hoped that in the spring semester, long lines and student unrest will be only a memory.

 Semester Versus Quarter

September brought to A&T College a bright new program, the semester system.

To upperclassmen it was something different; however, for freshmen the day was just beginning to break and they might or might not necessarily know what the changes meant.

To the transfer student, the lag now between semester’s end and the beginning of the next quarter is significant. This, of course, is beside the point. The point is that there is a situation and everyone wants to know what is going to be done about it.

Some students think the semester offers a longer period to adjust in classes and obtain a better working knowledge of the subject matter. Contenders of the quarter system, on the other hand, believe that no extra preparation has to be made for fall examination permits, and that were enrolled at A&T on the quarter program are trying to get adjusted in classes and obtain a better working knowledge of the subject matter. No matter what the disappointments, happiness, or unhappiness, what of the other students? Sad, but real, it is going to be done about it.

Nothing has not gone unnoticed and that concrete steps are being taken to correct the matter. It is hoped that in the spring semester, long lines and student unrest will be only a memory.

The concerned students went to the counseling office of the registrar. When they got to the front of the line, they discovered that all permits were either in the dormitory or in the cashier’s office. Even so, a wing tip properly complements a suit, while saddle shoes complete the casual scene. Can lead to righteous retribution; you pay for everything you do.

The leaves cut out, the thoughtless pencil smears, the regret now, the needless detours.

In these volumes that should serve for years.

Time after time you leave your careful建设和. Thus as you tremble in your night mare’s rages

Remember that you shouldn’t have cut those pages!

FASHIONS

Wing Tips and Saddles

In the rooms, when there’s a trip to be in the air, a sweater shirt is sufficiently warm and informal to accommodate the sweater-tied sweaters hold the edge, and corduroy jeans or wash-and-wear khakis complete the casual scene. What of the other students? Sad, but real, it is going to be done about it.

BATAVIA, N.Y.

If you were on a fall building and you asked yourself, “What is the new food service like something had been fired at you, what is the new food service like something had been fired at you?” It seems that the unrest arose over the fact that juniors and seniors were being directed to dine in Murphy Hall, while freshmen and sophomores were to have their meals in Murphy Hall.

Dean Marshall, who represents the administration in the matter of restrictions, feels that if full cooperation from all concerned, the matter will soon cease to be a problem. His plan, it seems, is to have dining hall identification cards issued. These cards will be based on classification and proportion for equilibrium. Sound familiar? It should. It’s almost a replica of what we had at the beginning of the semester.

It is, however, reassuring to note that undesirable conditions have not gone unnoticed and that concrete steps are being taken to correct the matter. It is hoped that in the spring semester, long lines and student unrest will be only a memory.

To upperclassmen it was something different; however, for freshmen the day was just beginning to break and they might or might not necessarily know what the changes meant.

To the transfer student, the lag now between semester’s end and the beginning of the next quarter is significant. This, of course, is beside the point. The point is that there is a situation and everyone wants to know what is going to be done about it.

Some students think the semester offers a longer period to adjust in classes and obtain a better working knowledge of the subject matter. Contenders of the quarter system, on the other hand, believe that no extra preparation has to be made for fall examination permits, and that were enrolled at A&T on the quarter program are trying to get adjusted in classes and obtain a better working knowledge of the subject matter. No matter what the disappointments, happiness, or unhappiness, what of the other students? Sad, but real, it is going to be done about it.

Nothing has not gone unnoticed and that concrete steps are being taken to correct the matter. It is hoped that in the spring semester, long lines and student unrest will be only a memory.

The concerned students went to the counseling office of the registrar. When they got to the front of the line, they discovered that all permits were either in the dormitory or in the cashier’s office. Even so, a wing tip properly complements a suit, while saddle shoes complete the casual scene. Can lead to righteous retribution; you pay for everything you do.

The leaves cut out, the thoughtless pencil smears, the regret now, the needless detours.

In these volumes that should serve for years.

Time after time you leave your careful建设和. Thus as you tremble in your night mare’s rages

Remember that you shouldn’t have cut those pages!

FASHIONS

Wing Tips and Saddles

In the rooms, when there’s a trip to be in the air, a sweater shirt is sufficiently warm and informal to accommodate the sweater-tied sweaters hold the edge, and corduroy jeans or wash-and-wear khakis complete the casual scene. What of the other students? Sad, but real, it is going to be done about it.

BATAVIA, N.Y.

If you were on a fall building and you asked yourself, “What is the new food service like something had been fired at you, what is the new food service like something had been fired at you?” It seems that the unrest arose over the fact that juniors and seniors were being directed to dine in Murphy Hall, while freshmen and sophomores were to have their meals in Murphy Hall.

Dean Marshall, who represents the administration in the matter of restrictions, feels that if full cooperation from all concerned, the matter will soon cease to be a problem. His plan, it seems, is to have dining hall identification cards issued. These cards will be based on classification and proportion for equilibrium. Sound familiar? It should. It’s almost a replica of what we had at the beginning of the semester.

It is, however, reassuring to note that undesirable conditions have not gone unnoticed and that concrete steps are being taken to correct the matter. It is hoped that in the spring semester, long lines and student unrest will be only a memory.

To upperclassmen it was something different; however, for freshmen the day was just beginning to break and they might or might not necessarily know what the changes meant.

To the transfer student, the lag now between semester’s end and the beginning of the next quarter is significant. This, of course, is beside the point. The point is that there is a situation and everyone wants to know what is going to be done about it.

Some students think the semester offers a longer period to adjust in classes and obtain a better working knowledge of the subject matter. Contenders of the quarter system, on the other hand, believe that no extra preparation has to be made for fall examination permits, and that were enrolled at A&T on the quarter program are trying to get adjusted in classes and obtain a better working knowledge of the subject matter. No matter what the disappointments, happiness, or unhappiness, what of the other students? Sad, but real, it is going to be done about it.

Nothing has not gone unnoticed and that concrete steps are being taken to correct the matter. It is hoped that in the spring semester, long lines and student unrest will be only a memory.

The concerned students went to the counseling office of the registrar. When they got to the front of the line, they discovered that all permits were either in the dormitory or in the cashier’s office. Even so, a wing tip properly complements a suit, while saddle shoes complete the casual scene. Can lead to righteous retribution; you pay for everything you do.

The leaves cut out, the thoughtless pencil smears, the regret now, the needless detours.

In these volumes that should serve for years.

Time after time you leave your careful建设和. Thus as you tremble in your night mare’s rages

Remember that you shouldn’t have cut those pages!
Dining Halls: Quasi Disaster

From the resulting situation, it was here at A&T, offense lists be published. The 28th and 29th will be Brown Hall. In News Flashes, punishment. It has also been presenting hall. Serving periods will be extended as necessary. The purpose of this procedure is to allow for eating and repairing in each dining hall.

It has been proposed that, if the distribution of “big” questions exist. Exactly what can and will be the problem and is presently working to rectify the situation. At the same time, however, it fails to completely expose the group of amount of confusion and the lack of cooperation among the students. Dr. Marshall points out that Brown Hall is obviously limited in capacity as compared with Murphy, and to the small group of freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors who are originally assigned there, and has hence been the accepted and logical decision.

This is also in keeping with the traditional privileges of upperclassmen. The administration is a difficult area which was necessitated a separate article.)

Decorum in the dining halls, in the student body and in all aspects of college life is a major concern. Students, as members of the university community, are expected to maintain high standards of behavior. This includes dressing appropriately, avoiding loud noise, and refraining from eating or drinking in inappropriate areas. The administration is committed to enforcing these policies in order to maintain a healthy learning environment.

In News Flashes, the administration continues to work on improving the situation. The problem has been ongoing for several weeks, and efforts are being made to address the concerns of students and faculty. The administration is seeking to implement changes that will enhance the overall dining experience for all students.

The Tennessee Valley Administration (TVA) and A&T College are new peddling programs for cooperation programs for students in-service training, students and faculty. As a result of the planning conference held last week at the college, there are three main areas of concern:

1. Operate the lower level of Murphy Hall for regular meals.
2. Restrict all students from Brown Hall to eat in Murphy Hall.
3. Operate the lower level of Murphy Hall for regular meals.

This, he says, can be done best by equalizing the conditions of Murphy and Brown halls. The administrative office of the TVA, to work in Brown Hall to equalize the conditions.

As a result of these changes, the problem of overcrowding in the dining halls should be alleviated. The administration is committed to ensuring that students have ample opportunities to eat and socialize in a comfortable environment.

The A&T - Winston Game

The Register

January 28, 1966

The Register
Aggies Edged By Akron Zips

In Close Intersectional Game

The Aggies last week dropped a close 78-72 basketball game to the University of Akron Zips, fifth ranked among the small colleges of the nation, in an intersectional clash played at Akron's Memorial Auditorium, in Akron, Ohio.

More than 4,000 spectators saw A. & T. bounce to a seven-point lead, midway the first half only to have it vanish at the intermission brought about by Akron's 18-10 run for the first shot and made it, and left for the rest placed with a 30-29 lead.

At T. pushed ahead only once during the second half, that on a layup by Bill Gilmer which put the score at 46-44. When the Zip took the lead at 28-26, they had it good.

The game was decided at the free throw line. A. & T. had 17 fouls during the second half, that on a point shooting for the final shot and made it, and buzzer. Akron, behind 29-30, went next took the lead at 48-46, they had the best for Akron with 23-points. Don Williams attack with 16-points. Also scoring in double figures were George Beck and Tony Skinner.

The Aggies will resume play to night against a team for a second exam. They will travel to Charlottetown to battle the Golden Bulls of the University of Connecticut. On Thursday, they will return to Morgan State College for a clash at Greensboro.

The Aggies are averaging 81.5 points per game, while holding their opponents to 82.2 points. The shot leaders are hitting at a 57.8 percentage.

Robert Saunders, left, star playmaker with the A&T College Aggies, and Pete Lewis (54), forward with the North Carolina College Eagles, appear to have been blasted in action when the two teams played recently at Greensboro.

Foss Predicts End Of Bonuses

For College Stars

WAUKESHA, Wisc. (AP) — Pro football's bonus battle for college players star and soon be over owners who will live of it. Says Amer.

ica League Commissioner Joe Foss.

Waukesha: The commissioner of the Professional Football League, has stated that the bonus battle for college players will end soon because the owners will live if it.

Foss added: "I've been talking to the owners who will live if it. Says American League Commissioner Joe Foss.

Foss told a civic group in this Milwaukee suburb Saturday night that the war of the wallet would end soon because, "when the rich get smart, they are losing money" by paying huge sums to untested rookies who may not prove to be 100 percent behind his desire to improve his educational background. The "big picture" of product development was brought into the exciting world of high-performance cars!

Currently, Larry Moore is on leave of absence, studying to acquire his M.B.A. degree at Michigan State. He feels—and rightly so—that we're 100 percent behind his desire to improve his educational background. The "big picture" of product development was brought into the exciting world of high-performance cars!

Larry Moore, B.M.E. Union of Roanoke

Here And There In Sports

With Sports Editor E. Fulton

The college graduate's initial exposure to the world of business is often less than exhilarating. The reason? A great many companies require the recent graduate to serve a long-term apprenticeship in a role that offers little or no opportunity to demonstrate personal capabilities. That is not the case at Ford Motor Company. Our College Graduate Program brings you into contact with many aspects of the business, encourages self-expression and helps you—and us—determine where your greatest potential lies. An important benefit of the Program is getting to know and work with some of the most capable people in the industry. One of many young men who believes he has gained tremendously from this experience and exposure is Larry Moore, a Product Design engineer. After receiving his B.M.E. in February, 1964, Larry joined our College Graduate Program and began work in brake design. Stimulating assignments followed in product evaluation and disc brake development. Later, he learned production techniques while supervising one phase of the Mustang assembly line operations. An assignment in Product Promotion and Training Department added still another dimension to his experience. The "big picture" of product development was brought into focus for Larry when he became associated with Thunderbird Product Planning. From there to "more than special Vehicles Sections... into the exciting world of high performance cars!

Larry Moore is on leave of absence, studying to acquire his M.B.A. degree at Michigan State. He feels—and rightly so—that we've 300 percent behind his desire to improve his educational background. Young men with talent, initiative and ambition can go far with Ford Motor Company. Think about it—and talk to our representative when he next visits your campus.

When you can't afford to be dull, sharpen your wits with NoDoz™

NoDoz™ Keeps Alert Tablets fight off the lazy, feeling of mental sluggishness. NoDoz™ helps restore your mental and physical energy so you can quickly get back to work.

Avoid NoDoz™ as safe as coffee. Anytime... when you can't afford to be dull. Sharpen your wits with NoDoz™.

SAFE AS COFFEE

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

diversity

The college graduate's initial exposure to the world of business is often less than exhilarating. The reason? A great many companies require the recent graduate to serve a long-term apprenticeship in a role that offers little or no opportunity to demonstrate personal capabilities. That is not the case at Ford Motor Company. Our College Graduate Program brings you into contact with many aspects of the business, encourages self-expression and helps you—and us—determine where your greatest potential lies. An important benefit of the Program is getting to know and work with some of the most capable people in the industry. One of many young men who believes he has gained tremendously from this experience and exposure is Larry Moore, a Product Design engineer.

After receiving his B.M.E. in February, 1964, Larry joined our College Graduate Program and began work in brake design. Stimulating assignments followed in product evaluation and disc brake development. Later, he learned production techniques while supervising one phase of the Mustang assembly line operations. An assignment in Product Promotion and Training Department added still another dimension to his experience. The "big picture" of product development was brought into focus for Larry when he became associated with Thunderbird Product Planning. From there to "more than special Vehicles Sections... into the exciting world of high performance cars!

Larry Moore is on leave of absence, studying to acquire his M.B.A. degree at Michigan State. He feels—and rightly so—that we've 300 percent behind his desire to improve his educational background. Young men with talent, initiative and ambition can go far with Ford Motor Company. Think about it—and talk to our representative when he next visits your campus.

SAFE AS COFFEE

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

An equal opportunity employer

Larry Moore, B.M.E. Union of Roanoke

The college graduate's initial exposure to the world of business is often less than exhilarating. The reason? A great many companies require the recent graduate to serve a long-term apprenticeship in a role that offers little or no opportunity to demonstrate personal capabilities. That is not the case at Ford Motor Company. Our College Graduate Program brings you into contact with many aspects of the business, encourages self-expression and helps you—and us—determine where your greatest potential lies. An important benefit of the Program is getting to know and work with some of the most capable people in the industry. One of many young men who believes he has gained tremendously from this experience and exposure is Larry Moore, a Product Design engineer.

After receiving his B.M.E. in February, 1964, Larry joined our College Graduate Program and began work in brake design. Stimulating assignments followed in product evaluation and disc brake development. Later, he learned production techniques while supervising one phase of the Mustang assembly line operations. An assignment in Product Promotion and Training Department added still another dimension to his experience. The "big picture" of product development was brought into focus for Larry when he became associated with Thunderbird Product Planning. From there to "more than special Vehicles Sections... into the exciting world of high performance cars!

Currently, Larry Moore is on leave of absence, studying to acquire his M.B.A. degree at Michigan State. He feels—and rightly so—that we've 300 percent behind his desire to improve his educational background. Young men with talent, initiative and ambition can go far with Ford Motor Company. Think about it—and talk to our representative when he next visits your campus.

SAFE AS COFFEE

FORD MOTOR COMPANY

An equal opportunity employer

Larry Moore, B.M.E. Union of Roanoke

The college graduate's initial exposure to the world of business is often less than exhilarating. The reason? A great many companies require the recent graduate to serve a long-term apprenticeship in a role that offers little or no opportunity to demonstrate personal capabilities. That is not the case at Ford Motor Company. Our College Graduate Program brings you into contact with many aspects of the business, encourages self-expression and helps you—and us—determine where your greatest potential lies. An important benefit of the Program is getting to know and work with some of the most capable people in the industry. One of many young men who believes he has gained tremendously from this experience and exposure is Larry Moore, a Product Design engineer.

After receiving his B.M.E. in February, 1964, Larry joined our College Graduate Program and began work in brake design. Stimulating assignments followed in product evaluation and disc brake development. Later, he learned production techniques while supervising one phase of the Mustang assembly line operations. An assignment in Product Promotion and Training Department added still another dimension to his experience. The "big picture" of product development was brought into focus for Larry when he became associated with Thunderbird Product Planning. From there to "more than special Vehicles Sections... into the exciting world of high performance cars!

Currently, Larry Moore is on leave of absence, studying to acquire his M.B.A. degree at Michigan State. He feels—and rightly so—that we've 300 percent behind his desire to improve his educational background. Young men with talent, initiative and ambition can go far with Ford Motor Company. Think about it—and talk to our representative when he next visits your campus.

SAFE AS COFFEE