Follow this and additional works at: https://digital.library.ncat.edu/atregister

Recommended Citation
https://digital.library.ncat.edu/atregister/272

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Digital Collections at Aggie Digital Collections and Scholarship. It has been accepted for inclusion in NCAT Student Newspapers by an authorized administrator of Aggie Digital Collections and Scholarship. For more information, please contact iyanna@ncat.edu.
The winner of the regional will be favored to win the nationals the next weekend in Evansville, Indiana. The Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association is holding its 51st Annual Basketball Tournament, Thursday, Friday and Saturday at A&T College. The first game of the tournament will be played in the NCJA College Division nationals the second weekend in Evansville, Indiana.

Norfolk State's unbeatable Spartans will be favored to win the tournament for the second year in a row. Their top rivals will be the smooth Wisconsin State Rams. Both teams are scoring more than 100 points a game. Two players with Norfolk State include Richard (Pops) Potts, the

By STANLEY JOHNSON

A new communications facility has been established on the A&T College campus. Radio station WANT goes into operation on Monday, February 23. The station will be under the direction of Mr. C. E. Dowdy, head of the communication studies department. The station will operate for five hours a day from 3:00 P.M. to 8:00 P.M. Plans for networking and advertising will be made in the spring.

The Federal Communications Commission has designed this station for use by the college because such stations must be restricted to the boundaries of commercial stations. Therefore, they are restricted to the boundaries of the college campus.

Signals leave the studio, located in Julian Price Hall, by cable and are transmitted by a transmitter located in strategic points on the campus. Because of a temporary shortage, transmitters are not located in all buildings. As the shortage is overcome, transmitters will be placed in more buildings to ensure a better picture.

The station is to be operated primarily by students with Mr. Melvin T. Alexander, Mr. Lois Kinney, and other faculty members as advisors.

The initial proposal for a closed circuit A.M. radio station was made at a meeting by the president of the college, October 19, 1964. After the meeting Mr. Alexander was appointed to gather information and data that would be needed for the preparation and final operation of the station. On August 8, 1965 he attended a workshop in Radio and Television Broadcasting at New York State University at Geneseo, New York, which is in a pioneer in closed circuit radio and television broadcasting. In the workshop Mr. Alexander had complete use of the facilities of one A.M. Radio Station, one F.M. Radio Station and one Television Station at the workshop, he was able to use all aspects, and operation and programming were discussed and demonstrated.

Plans for the station recently advanced last year when the college was given a radio console by the Greensboro Radio Station WEAL. The responsibility of setting up administration, organization, program and program development was divided among the faculties consisting of both students and faculty. The committee was appointed in the latter part of last year, students named to the committee were Samuel Tate, radio, and William McKinnis, radio, Dr. John Marshall Stevenson, Dr. John E. Marshelle, co-office. Special mention must be made of the following students who have worked diligently for our station: Ralph L. Wood, chairman, students are Samuel Tate, George Saunders, William McKinnis, and Cherryl Smith.

Mr. T. Alexander is the general manager, and Mrs. Lois Kink- ney is program director.
Through The Years

Basketball season is over for the CIAA teams for the year and the top teams are looking forward to the tournament February 24, 25 and 26 in the Greensboro Coliseum. A brief history and a look at how the Aggie team has performed the past eight years might give the progress of the Aggie team.

In the 1957-58 season the Aggies in the basketball championship for the first time since 1937, took the CIAA tournament and finally secured the runner-up position in the NCAC. In the tournament four games were played with five teams taking part in the competition. The Aggie defeated the North Carolina A&T 93-75 and beat the Johnson C. Smith 93-84. In the semi-finals the Aggies defeated the Winston Slates 75-68 and won the CIAA title. At the NCAC tournament the Aggies defeated the Johnson C. Smith 93-84 and the Winston-Salem 79-71 and were runner-up.

When radio station WANT went on the air in Greensboro, the Aggies were a part of the program. This in 1952 when the Aggie team was defeated by the Dixie States College 75-68. In the first game against the Dixie States College, the Aggiemen lost by only 16 points, 79-63. In the second game against the Dixie States College, the Aggies were defeated by 17 points 76-59.

Are the meals that have been served lately just served into the fire when they decided to improve the conditions in the dining halls? Is the ARA Slater Catering Service going into the once adequate and attractive meals introduced to the "Aggie-family" on January 3? This question was asked by The Editor of the Register, A&T College, Greensboro, North Carolina to THE REGISTER, A&T College, Greensboro, North Carolina. It was asked because the dining halls were noticed to be overcrowded and the meals were said to be inadequate.

The last year the tournament celebration its 15th birthday in the new Greensboro Coliseum and surprises took over. Eighth place Saint Augustine's conquered first place Jefferson C. Smith; Hampton stopped the Aggies; J. C. Smith beat A&T and was beaten by the Falcons of Saint Augustine's. Winston-Salem finally stopped the powerful Falcons in the final night of play.

Winston-Salem kept the championship in 1961 to widen the choice for the Rams; however, A&T College in 1959 and 1960. This time The Aggies and Rams considered themselves equal with their six years experience in the championship between the two schools (A&T 58, 59, 62 - Winston 60, 61). In 1963 the Aggie five ranked number three winning the championship over the Rams (71-69)

1954 found the men scratching hard for another large victory, and once again they brought it home. They moved all the way to the NCAA playoffs, defeated the State College of Iowa 91-72 in the consolation game. Akron finally stopped them 71-47.

If you can remember the surprises of last season's tournament, one need not tell you the Aggies were visitation winners ranking number three, and A&T 57-58. Appearing in the final the team achieved the Ram-Aggie trophy for the second straight year with the support of the Aggie family. They all will go the way making history at the tournament.

A Welcomed Addition

When radio station WANT went on the air last Wednesday, planning and preparation began over a long period of time reached a climax. Numerous committee meetings had been held as students and faculty members discussed various conclusions regarding WANT policy, FCC regulations, programming, and other items necessary for getting the station on the air.

As quietly as it is being kept, however, the successful broadcast on Wednesday was the result of "super-human" effort. The total effort involves personnel management and programming with special assistance from WANT and the A&T College.

The Register congratulates Station WANT and its personnel and welcomes it as another milestone in the history of A&T College.

The Gradual Change

Have you noticed the drastic changes in the food service in the dining halls lately? For example, there has been quite a noticeable reduction of the once ample proportions of food served. This has been the result of many changes that have most changed for the better. The food served was not only ample, but appetizing. What is causing this gradual change for the better? Is it to serve fewer people with less food? Is it to the fire when they decided to improve the conditions in the dining halls? Is the ARA Slater Catering Service going to the "Aggies" they made happy and quite satisfied.

Are the meals that have been served lately just served into the fire when they decided to improve the conditions in the dining halls? Is the ARA Slater Catering Service going into the once adequate and attractive meals introduced to the "Aggie-family" on January 3? This question was asked by The Editor of the Register, A&T College, Greensboro, North Carolina to THE REGISTER, A&T College, Greensboro, North Carolina. It was asked because the dining halls were noticed to be overcrowded and the meals were said to be inadequate.

The last year the tournament celebration its 15th birthday in the new Greensboro Coliseum and surprises took over. Eighth place Saint Augustine's conquered first place Jefferson C. Smith; Hampton stopped the Aggies; J. C. Smith beat A&T and was beaten by the Falcons of Saint Augustine's. Winston-Salem finally stopped the powerful Falcons in the final night of play.

Winston-Salem kept the championship in 1961 to widen the choice for the Rams; however, A&T College in 1959 and 1960. This time The Aggies and Rams considered themselves equal with their six years experience in the championship between the two schools (A&T 58, 59, 62 - Winston 60, 61). In 1963 the Aggie five ranked number three winning the championship over the Rams (71-69).

1954 found the men scratching hard for another large victory, and once again they brought it home. They moved all the way to the NCAA playoffs, defeated the State College of Iowa 91-72 in the consolation game. Akron finally stopped them 71-47.

If you can remember the surprises of last season's tournament, one need not tell you the Aggies were visitation winners ranking number three, and A&T 57-58. Appearing in the final the team achieved the Ram-Aggie trophy for the second straight year with the support of the Aggie family. They all will go the way making history at the tournament.

When radio station WANT went on the air last Wednesday, planning and preparation began over a long period of time reached a climax. Numerous committee meetings had been held as students and faculty members discussed various conclusions regarding WANT policy, FCC regulations, programming, and other items necessary for getting the station on the air.

As quietly as it is being kept, however, the successful broadcast on Wednesday was the result of "super-human" effort. The total effort involves personnel management and programming with special assistance from WANT and the A&T College.

The Register congratulates Station WANT and its personnel and welcomes it as another milestone in the history of A&T College.

The Gradual Change

Have you noticed the drastic changes in the food service in the dining halls lately? For example, there has been quite a noticeable reduction of the once ample proportions of food served. This has been the result of many changes that have most changed for the better. The food served was not only ample, but appetizing. What is causing this gradual change for the better? Is it to serve fewer people with less food? Is it to the fire when they decided to improve the conditions in the dining halls? Is the ARA Slater Catering Service going to the "Aggies" they made happy and quite satisfied.

Are the meals that have been served lately just served into the fire when they decided to improve the conditions in the dining halls? Is the ARA Slater Catering Service going into the once adequate and attractive meals introduced to the "Aggie-family" on January 3?
Nearly 6,000 music lovers packed the A&T College Charles Moore Gymnasium last week to hear the Ramsey Lewis Trio in a jazz concert.

By HULIA BATTLE

"Each member of the Ramsey Lewis Trio provides over his instrument," Full, slender Ramsey sits at his piano. He is the pianist, sporting what a golfer would call a high handicap. He is the one who jumps up and down at the full, round expression of Red Holt's face implying instrumental control. He is the one who jumps up and down at the wide array of percussion instruments.

The validity of this description onlookers, since the trio of the Ramsey Lewis Trio was used by the A&T College students, and we were praised that we expect the utilization of available materials.

Mrs. Nelle Coley Cites Old Duties

Of New Teachers

In a program designed primarily to acquaint the student mentally to do his practical teaching, Mrs. Nelle Coley addressed the James B. Dudley Chapter of the Student Teacher's Association. "Who Are the Student Teachers?" should expect from the earl,

The second point emphasized the fact that "the student teacher should pitch in on a moving train while being knocked backwards and run over." She further stated the function of the background shadows of the student teacher should not expect this changing vehicle to slow down.

Mrs. Coley cited the following duties of the student teacher, but in a humorous way:

She enumerated good sound work which would be helpful in the classroom. In a humorous way, she emphasized the fact that woman as qualities which both the critic teacher and the student teacher should possess.

In further pointing out the responsibilities of student teachers, Mrs. Coley informed that during conferences, both long and short, and into the meeting table which must be tactful.

She told the story of Ezra Shaw, newly elected president of the Student NEA, prevailed over the meeting.

Economics Club Features Social

In Cooper Hall

The Economics Club gave its first successful social affair last month in Cooper Hall. George Byrd, Jr., president of the club, welcomed everyone and introduced the faculty members present. It is to be especially interesting to the students to see so many of the economics instructors in attendance, including Dr. Virgil Bridges, chairman of the Social Science Department and Dr. J. O. Tate, advisor of club. Their presence showed a definite interest in the organization and its future.

The affair was highlighted by the presence and warm encouraging words of Dr. Jesse F. Marshall, dean of students. An extra feature added to the mood was the presence of the All American football ticket holders.

Youth 25 won first price, an A&T floor lamp; Lamie Robinson won second prize, an A&T necklace. An enjoyable time was had by faculty members and the students.

The Socialization.

Aggie Delegates Attend Session Of Legislature

During the week of February 17, 18, and 19, four students from the Aggie Social Science Department attended the 29th Annual Session of the State Student Legislature at Raleigh.

This legislation was held in Raleigh at the State Agriculture and Education building. There were four student delegations, with Alonzo Wallace, vice president of the student government, Roy White, president of the junior class; Richard Woman, president of the sophomore class; and Jimmy Womack, an economics major from Greensboro. In lightling the confusion of the situation, the three gentlemen of Ramsey sat upon the audience throughout their two-hour performance which was interrupted several times by applause.

Red Holt was impressive with his apparent mastery over the wide array of percussion instruments, while Jimmy Womack's bass guitar skill and Red Holt's high falsetto are entirely commendable by the group.

Facts About Trio Are Revealed

By BARBARA KEARNY

Ramsey Lewis was born in the city of Chicago thirty years ago. He was inspired to become a music student by his teacher. He met Red Young and Red Holt in high school. The group did not exist then because Red Holt and Red Dee belonged to a group known as the "Glad." Later, Jimmy Womack joined the group, and the Ramsey Lewis Trio "began in the music world, believe it or not, he wanted to be a classical artist. He attended several schools, among which were the University of Illinois, College University, and Upsal University.

Eleven years ago, he married a wonderful woman, whom he calls Gert. The happily married couple have five children: Dr. H. Eleven, who plays the piano very well; Ramsey III, Ten; Kelvin, five; who has recorded a children's record; Karry, three; and Kelly, eight months.

Holt has been with the group of Red Holt and Dee Young for eight years. There has been some discussion concerning the group as to whether this is the original group or not. Well, this is it.

Lewis Clements speaks of Ramsey as the "greatest man and the most wonderful man to make the great and the most desirable." He says that the largest crowd for the group was in Tennessee, but his popularity reaches across the nation. He is known in the younger generation as a pop artist; but to those with soul, he is the soul man. His first hit was "Something You've Got," but in the crowd "Ramsey was put him in the crowd."

Michael Levy, the road manager for the Ramsey Lewis Trio, has been with them one year and five months.

Lottie A&T, Ramsey and the group plan to venture to Den­

1. Oil Company's Campus Talent Scouts — Regular recruiting programs on college campuses have become standard practice as companies, large and small, seek to fill the gap between the present supply of trained people and the mass larger and growing demand in both technical and non-technical fields.

From left are: Darrell C. Archer of the oil company's Hayway Re­

The Humbie Oil emissaries also met with Dr. Lewis C. Dewy, presi­

WHEWBERGER PSEUDBO

THE FRANK HOUSE

1833 EAST MARKET STREET

College Shopping Center

BIG BULL (was 45c) Now Only 44c

COUPON PER PERSON

BOLOGNA WHOPPER

FISHWHOPPER

HAMBURGER
A&T Aquamen

Lose To Howard
As Slump Gains

The Aggie aquamen lost a swimming meet here Saturday to Howard, 48-41. It was the seventh loss of the season for the valiant aquamen with only one victory.

The Aggies were virtually outmatched by Howard. Howard won 19 swimming, including one young lad, 50-100 yard. Howard captured almost every first place and the young Aggies could finish a first in a few events.

The last of the Aggies did well and finished a couple of seconds and thirds. Howard it was probably defeated because of the "small" number of members on the Howard squad. Howard had enough swimmers to place different aquamen in several events, but it was required to use the same seven men over and over again.

The seven for A&T included Jack Maloney, E. F. Corbett, Gerald Flynn, Merit, Daniel Hinton, Robert Sanders and Anthony Skinner who were cited as the "Big Three." Incidentally, by proporcion of laws and law changes — just a few bills — the college had not received anything for the past few years. These students went as officials of the college, the Salem College, Delaware State, and Shaw. The team's manager is Lionel Jermaine, both freshmen; John Joseph, sophomores; and Frank Heim, junior. Also, a all-conference team was listed by Howard. Howard had enough swimmers to field a team. The Aggies did well and finished with five strategic factors which were unlikely to be applied to Aggies in general and Howard in particular. The Aggies did congregate that poor backgrounds, ecumenical relations, status of majors, over activity, and locale (poor academic atmosphere) were the major contributors to the poor academic performance of the Aggie. He bombarded heavily upon the lack of attention given to the intellectual development of the Aggie which is at the apogee in a cooperative atmosphere in which a college should shell abroad.

The panel, as a whole, did not venture to make changes for solution of the Howard problem. By doing so, Howard did not solve the problem, but he directed the Aggies towards some of the leading universities. These included Wake Forest, the Conference, and the one that Howard said was the "Big Three."

The student legislature of North Carolina is comparable to the United States Congress in that the delegates from all over the state of North Carolina gain actual experience in introducing, delivering, and ratifying bills and resolutions, as members and as senators. Holman, of the Conference Committee, was classified as a "Big Three." The student legislature (CSU) is the oldest student organization of its kind. Beginning in 1897, it has never missed a year.

Some of the participating colleges this year along with A&T were Duke, East Carolina, Elon, N. C. State, Duke, C. F. Smith, L. C. C., U. N. C., Pfeiffer, Salem, Wake Forest, Greensboro and a host of others. The college being awarded the pleasure of presenting the "best bill or resolution" from small colleges was Salem College. Duke University received the title of "Best Bill" and will now represent North Carolina at large colleges. The Salem College Resolution was entitled: "A Bill to be Entitled to Establish an Academic Honor Society."

After a long heated debate, Messrs.-hard and Donaldson, Duke's bill entitled: "A Bill of Rights for Student Affairs to the Constitution of North Carolina and to Establish a New Graded and More Reliable Method of Determining the Eligibility for the Judicial Proceedings of this state," was passed also, without much debate.

This student legislature acts as a representative body to the state legislature. The student legislature has the power to make sure that the state legislature works. The U. S. Constitution has the power to make sure that the state constitutions work. This has been the case with the various statutes of North Carolina, hero and historic leaders.

Aggies Defeat Vikings 75-6
In Last Game Of The Season

By EARNEST FULTON

The Aggies ended the regular season with a victory over Bears Derailed

As Bulldogs Win

Final Home Game

The A&T College Aggies closed out the home season for basketball last Thursday night with a 66-41 victory over the Shaw University Bears.

The game, moved to 3:00 p.m. because of a lighting problem, featured the North Carolina's Hamsey Lewis 19, was a slow, slow affair but the Aggies wanted little time in running up a high lead. The game was played in the hour and twenty-five minutes.

The Aggies jumped out to a 13-6 lead after the first fourteen minutes of action and held a 24-16 lead at halftime.

A full court press used by the Aggies in the second half paid off off and they also had another conference victory.

Tony Skinner and Bob Saunders led the scoring with eleven points, respectively. Ja...