Nannie Kearney
Is Candidate
For Miss A&T

Nannie Kearney who was recently elected state secretary of Phi Beta Lambda is a candidate for "Miss A&T." She is currently serving as a student counselor to freshman students at Carver Hall.

Nannie was among the one hundred-twenty honor students who were entertained at The Bar, Theatre on One Size Coach Trail in Greensboro recently. Nannie holds the highest average of all the girls in the junior class. She was one of four students who possessed perfect 4.00 averages at the end of the fall semester.

(Continued on page 4)

First Workshop Helps Student Journalists

By EULA BATTLE

Five secondary schools and seven on-campus organizations were represented at the first journalism workshop to be held at A&T College. The workshop was co-sponsored by The Register and the Department of English.

Highlighting the activities of April 27 was a guided tour of the Greensboro Daily News Plant. Previous participants had been divided into two groups and two guides awaited the group. After a briefing, the group was shown the machinery which is involved in printing a newspaper. It was made quite clear that it takes more than a typewriter and a printing press to publish a paper. Students were made aware of some of the problems faced by newspapers and the role of the journalist in solving them.

The tour proved to be informative as well as interesting.

Daily News. Mr. Snider enlightened the group on "Ethics of Journalism." He informed the students of principles and policies which a good newspaper adheres to. Several problems were involved in giving concrete events which concern the public. The final assignment of the day was for the students to reflect on their experiences and to develop an idea of what they would do if they were involved in giving fair coverage and policies which a good newspaper should maintain.

Other participants in the workshop were Dr. Walter C. Daniel who spoke on "The Reader's View," and L. A. Wise of A&T College who was present during the evening session.

The second and third sessions of the workshop were co-sponsored by the Department of English and the North Carolina Newspaper Association. "The Great Society and Some Pitfalls as Concerns for Economists" was presented by R. F. Harrington, Jr. and Edward Kemp, Jr. They will discuss "Reapportionment of State Senate and House of Representatives." Both young men have been rewritten by at least 20 play-writers and are involved in giving fair coverage and policies which a good newspaper should maintain.

The first and second sessions of the workshop were co-sponsored by the Department of English and the North Carolina Newspaper Association. "The Great Society and Some Pitfalls as Concerns for Economists" was presented by R. F. Harrington, Jr. and Edward Kemp, Jr. They will discuss "Reapportionment of State Senate and House of Representatives." Both young men have been rewritten by at least 20 play-writers and are involved in giving fair coverage and policies which a good newspaper should maintain.

The second and third sessions of the workshop were co-sponsored by the Department of English and the North Carolina Newspaper Association. "The Great Society and Some Pitfalls as Concerns for Economists" was presented by R. F. Harrington, Jr. and Edward Kemp, Jr. They will discuss "Reapportionment of State Senate and House of Representatives." Both young men have been rewritten by at least 20 play-writers and are involved in giving fair coverage and policies which a good newspaper should maintain.
No To Noble Aggies

It has come to the attention of this student that the interest held by the Student Government in student elections is so minute that one would think that this is a Communististic election where votes are not important and no choice for candidate is given. I have watched with calm contempt as the votes were cast and gone with little excitement by the student body unless a candidate is giving a dance in his support. Again, this time is here and the same old song will be sung again. Already it has presented itself.

A date was set for April 14 as the deadline for applications for the general elections to be held on April 28 and 29 in Bluford Library. The deadline had to be extended because non-interested students failed to comply with the deadline and those that did file were prompted to file as candidates for Student Government representatives as well as the office they desired. From experience, I can predict (I am hoping that I will be proved wrong) that these same few persons along with one or two more interested students will turn out at the polls on election day and vote.

If I sound a little insignificant, then you have read this with good meaning. However, to those few who refuse to be accused of not supporting our Student Government and classes, there is little future for you in the modern America that we live in. Our efforts are too little and our immediate and future aims are in jeopardy of being confused with those of the broad Americans that have no future at all. You will be associated and interested with that American that refuses to believe what one vote can do. By the same token, you will be that citizen that always complains of existing prejudices which our race has so nobly fought to overcome. Thus, the same problem will again appear at our college — the non-voters will complain while the office holders will try desperately to carry on the challenge that lies before them.

Now in the time to overcome this problem that plagues us year after year. Each of you that reads this editorial has the opportunity to make your own decision. Do you think that candidate is best qualified for the position. For a change use that privilege for it has the quality of a good American and a noble Aggie.

(PRYCE BALDWIN)

Painful Treatment

Ouch! My grosh, what did I do to deserve this treatment? I ate those vegetables that Mom dined to leave yesterday, and certainly hang up my clothes when I took them off. Good heavens, why, I even said my prayers last night. I just cannot understand it. I go through such horrid sufferings that . . .

It is simple. You see, grade is a decided disastruse affect upon me. The sight of Fs and Ds and Cs seem to cause as much pain and anguish, to me, as a pair of dog's teeth. So I protest against being put to work and begin to realize the true found . . . pain. Not only must I endure selfish pangs but, too, there is always Mom's old space - you-not to look forward to. I know that you, some of the boys that on days are usually ruined by grades. That is a nasty word. Sure, As' and Fs are as comforting as lattices on a hot summer day. But, how can I hold such thoughts with a grade on the horizon? No, I will not allow you to work. You do I chance to focus my eyes upon such loveliness.

Oh, give me freedom! Spare me from this agonizing pain, I am just too young to die. Discard these little pests called grades and let me live in peace. Loose me from these bands of discouragement and despair and give me hope to live in peace and to burst forth like a flower. . . . Good heart, here is a C in Fairy Tale Class and one in Hopscotch Class. I never realized I was so great. Tony, the tiger, hasn't got a chance.

(IIDA V. SELLARS)

Saluting The President

In the past months, President L. C. Dowdy has made many wonderful efforts to establish a relationship between himself and the student body. Many of his efforts have been unnoticed or just taken for granted. However, the entire student body can appreciate the fact that they do have a President who is interested in the students. For this, he should be thanked.

An example of President Dowdy's dedication to the students of A&T College is the monthly chat which he and student leaders have. Mr. Dowdy acts as moderator. Activity such as this may not be a massive, campus-wide pursuit, it is the ideal that generates a family atmosphere between the President and the student body.

The monthly chat is just one of President Dowdy's endeavors with the students, and the summation of these endeavors is an increased confidence in the President and the student body.

(WILLIAM ADAMS)

To Noble Aggies

It has come to the attention of this student that the interest held by the Student Government in student elections is so minute that one would think that this is a Communististic election where votes are not important and no choice for candidate is given. I have watched with calm contempt as the votes were cast and gone with little excitement by the student body unless a candidate is giving a dance in his support. Again, this time is here and the same old song will be sung again. Already it has presented itself.

A date was set for April 14 as the deadline for applications for the general elections to be held on April 28 and 29 in Bluford Library. The deadline had to be extended because non-interested students failed to comply with the deadline and those that did file were prompted to file as candidates for Student Government representatives as well as the office they desired. From experience, I can predict (I am hoping that I will be proved wrong) that these same few persons along with one or two more interested students will turn out at the polls on election day and vote.

If I sound a little insignificant, then you have read this with good meaning. However, to those few who refuse to be accused of not supporting our Student Government and classes, there is little future for you in the modern America that we live in. Our efforts are too little and our immediate and future aims are in jeopardy of being confused with those of the broad Americans that have no future at all. You will be associated and interested with that American that refuses to believe what one vote can do. By the same token, you will be that citizen that always complains of existing prejudices which our race has so nobly fought to overcome. Thus, the same problem will again appear at our college — the non-voters will complain while the office holders will try desperately to carry on the challenge that lies before them.

Now in the time to overcome this problem that plagues us year after year. Each of you that reads this editorial has the opportunity to make your own decision. Do you think that candidate is best qualified for the position. For a change use that privilege for it has the quality of a good American and a noble Aggie.

(PRYCE BALDWIN)

Painful Treatment

Ouch! My grosh, what did I do to deserve this treatment? I ate those vegetables that Mom dined to leave yesterday, and certainly hang up my clothes when I took them off. Good heavens, why, I even said my prayers last night. I just cannot understand it. I go through such horrid sufferings that . . .

It is simple. You see, grade is a decided disastruse affect upon me. The sight of Fs and Ds and Cs seem to cause as much pain and anguish, to me, as a pair of dog's teeth. So I protest against being put to work and begin to realize the true found . . . pain. Not only must I endure selfish pangs but, too, there is always Mom's old space - you-not to look forward to. I know that you, some of the boys that on days are usually ruined by grades. That is a nasty word. Sure, As' and Fs are as comforting as lattices on a hot summer day. But, how can I hold such thoughts with a grade on the horizon? No, I will not allow you to work. You do I chance to focus my eyes upon such loveliness.

Oh, give me freedom! Spare me from this agonizing pain, I am just too young to die. Discard these little pests called grades and let me live in peace. Loose me from these bands of discouragement and despair and give me hope to live in peace and to burst forth like a flower. . . . Good heart, here is a C in Fairy Tale Class and one in Hopscotch Class. I never realized I was so great. Tony, the tiger, hasn't got a chance.

(IIDA V. SELLARS)

Saluting The President

In the past months, President L. C. Dowdy has made many wonderful efforts to establish a relationship between himself and the student body. Many of his efforts have been unnoticed or just taken for granted. However, the entire student body can appreciate the fact that they do have a President who is interested in the students. For this, he should be thanked.

An example of President Dowdy's dedication to the students of A&T College is the monthly chat which he and student leaders have. Mr. Dowdy acts as moderator. Activity such as this may not be a massive, campus-wide pursuit, it is the ideal that generates a family atmosphere between the President and the student body.

The monthly chat is just one of President Dowdy's endeavors with the students, and the summation of these endeavors is an increased confidence in the President and the student body.

(WILLIAM ADAMS)
Logan High Wins Debating Contest
Darden High School Places Second

Logan High School, Concord, placed first in the North Carolina High School Debate Contest finals conducted at A&T College April 14. Darden High School, Wilson, was second. In the second division, Beaufort County High School, Pantego, won first place; Frank High, LaGrange, was second; and Harrell High of Dunn was third.

In order for Logan to get to the final, the teams competed in the triangle -- area contest -- in which they received a pass to district competition in Salisbury. Logan's affirmative team defeated Conetoe. Logan's negative team defeated Newbold High, Lincolnton; and its negative team defeated Conetoe.

At the finals in Carver Hall, Logan's negative team won over Laron High, Raleigh; and its affirmative team won over Mary Putter High School, Oxford. Members of the Logan teams were John Saddler, Randall Glaster, and Sarah Scott -- affirmative; Stephanie Russell, Elaine Root, and Donna Bell -- negative. Their coaches were Mike P. L. Palmer and Mr. W. L. Foard.

Dr. King Cheek of Shaw University was critical judge for the finals with members of the A&T Department of English serving as judges of the preliminary contests. Awards were presented by Dr. Glenn F. Stakhan, dean of instruction. The debate was under the supervision of Mr. O. A. Degree, principal of Sampson High School, Roosevelt.

It's An A&T Professor, Not A 'Cheat' Hunter

By E. F. CORBETT

If in your travels about the countryside this spring and summer you come across a man, armed with a shot gun and firing it, don't get out of your car, it might not be a 'cheat' hunter who has 'gone off his rocker,' or one with more brains than you, but just some professor of A&T College.

The professor is Dr. Artis P. Graves, chairman of the Department of Zoology, an accomplished game collector, who is also expert at taxidermy.

Under special permission by the U. S. Department of the Interior and the North Carolina Wildlife Commission, Dr. Graves may collect game, in and out of season, for use in biological studies.

Because of this privilege, Dr. Graves has frequent encounters with game wardens and law enforcement officers, who have turned out to be pleasant experiences, but with not a lot of explanation of the showing of several certificates which create such unusual privileges.

"I can usually understand," explains Dr. Graves. "But other law enforcement officers are generally more difficult and on many occasions have threatened to take me in, certificate included."

Even when the law isn't around, Dr. Graves says that he often gets nasty glares from passersby, plain folk, who register no particular interest in the animal specimen, not the plaster animal specimen, not the biological displays, but real life specimens collected, studied and preserved by Dr. Graves.

Two lakes maintained at the A&T College farm have proved to be valuable sources for studies in ecology and aquatic biology. Among the unusual visitors to the area have been starred ducks, a triton, an American alligator, minks, but birds have shown is wider variety. He has observed and collected snipe, woodcock, grebe, bittern, coot, rail heron, and an assortment of wild ducks and geese.

From the wooded and swampy grounds around farm, Dr. Graves has collected swamp hawks, owls, and red-shouldered hawks.

He took his prize specimen just last week, a Canada goose, the finest that he has ever seen. It is an avid hunter. Dr. Graves goes to the fields almost every weekend during the hunting season.

Museum cases in the A&T College Department of English serve as judges of the preliminary contests. Awards were presented by Dr. Glenn F. Stakhan, dean of instruction. The debate was under the supervision of Mr. O. A. Degree, principal of Sampson High School, Roosevelt.

Museum cases in the A&T College Department of English serve as judges of the preliminary contests. Awards were presented by Dr. Glenn F. Stakhan, dean of instruction. The debate was under the supervision of Mr. O. A. Degree, principal of Sampson High School, Roosevelt.

Cadets Make Trip To Dallas During Recent Vacation

By LEE HOUSE, JR.

Two Air Force Cadets in the professional programs here at A&T, James E. Payne and George T. Wade, representing A&T's chapters of the Arnold Air Society, flew to Dallas to attend the 18th Annual National Arnold Air Society Convention at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Dallas, Texas.

Cadet Major E. J. Payne, Jr., a senior electrical engineering major from Charleston, Virginia, is the campus commander of the Arnold Air Society and was the official delegate to the convention. Cadet Second Lieutenant G. T. Wade, a junior history major from Waynesboro, Virginia, is campus commander-elect of the A&T Society and was the alternate delegate.

Wade and Payne were invited to attend the 18th Annual National Arnold Air Society Convention, which was held at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Dallas, Texas, April 16.

Wade recommended the trip to the Arnold Air Society Council as a vital asset to their experience. They observed that they went over this week. The Angel Flight is the sister organization which also has several pledges this season. The Arnold Air Society and its affiliate group invite further interests. Interested? Write the Arnold Air Society, Blair J. Bemiscuse, P.O. Box 190, Fort Worth, Texas, 76101.

Cadets Payne and Wade mounted the trip as a visit to their exposure to the exposure of the following distinguished individuals: General J. M. McConnell, Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force; General Bernard Schriever, commander of the Air Force Systems Command; General William C. Lindsey, Commander Air Force Operations. They were able to visit the Air Force Museum and Air Force Academy. The Arnold Air Society and its affiliate group invite further interests. Interested? Write the Arnold Air Society, Blair J. Bemiscuse, P.O. Box 190, Fort Worth, Texas, 76101.

Wade and Payne mounted the trip as a visit to their exposure to the exposure of the following distinguished individuals: General J. M. McConnell, Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force; General Bernard Schriever, commander of the Air Force Systems Command; General William C. Lindsey, Commander Air Force Operations. They were able to visit the Air Force Museum and Air Force Academy. The Arnold Air Society and its affiliate group invite further interests. Interested? Write the Arnold Air Society, Blair J. Bemiscuse, P.O. Box 190, Fort Worth, Texas, 76101.

Voting delegates from the James B. Dudley Chapter attended the 18th Annual National Arnold Air Society Convention at the Statler Hilton Hotel in Dallas, Texas. Payne was in camp commandant of the Elmore M. Kennedy Squadrons of Area 9 of the AA Society. Wade was commander-elect.

Student NCTA Elects A&T Coed
To Serve As 1966-67 State President

Eleven members of the James B. Dudley Chapter of the Student National Congress of America, along with other chapters, attended the Student North Carolina Area Convention of Student NCTA at North Carolina College, Durham, on April 16.

Highlighting the meet was the election of officers for the 1966-67 school term. Four A&T representatives were elected. Eliza Battle, president of the James B. Dudley Chapter, was elected state president; Gloria Funkere and Mildred Ellis were elected recording secretary and corresponding secretary, respectively; Jonathan Byers was elected parliamentarian.

Four North Carolina College representatives were also elected. They included Requena Thompson, first vice-president; Pearl Davis, second vice-president; John Davis, third vice-president; and Shepherd Scott from St. Augustine High School.

Principals in the Journalism Workshop conducted last Saturday included Mrs. Loreno M. Marrow, principal of Sampson High School, Roosevelt; Miss Vivian E. Irving, as assistant manager, Irving-Swann Press, Inc., Raleigh; Mr. William D. Snider, editor of the Greensboro Daily News; members of the Register staff and journalism class; high school students; editors of other college publications and newspapers.

Planned in the workshop were the following: a discussion involving the problems of high school journalism; a trip to the NCTA office in Raleigh, where students were able to meet with the editor, Mr. William D. Snider, and Mrs. Loreno M. Marrow, principal of Sampson High School, Roosevelt; a tour of Wake Technical Institute with members of the journalism workshop conducted last Saturday included Mrs. Loreno M. Marrow, principal of Sampson High School, Roosevelt; Miss Vivian E. Irving, as assistant manager, Irving-Swann Press, Inc., Raleigh; Mr. William D. Snider, editor of the Greensboro Daily News; members of the Register staff and journalism class; high school students; editors of other college publications and newspapers.
A&T Track Team
Places Second
In Va. Meet
By EARNEST FULTON

The A&T track team finished second in the Virginia Tech Intercollegiate Track Meet last Saturday in Petersburg, Va. The Aggies scored a total of 40 points, but Norfolk had the most points in the meet.

The Aggies took eight first places. Sam March had two firsts, along with Bob Beamon and Elvin Sanders.

March took the 100-yard dash in 10.2 seconds and the 220 in 23.9 seconds. Bob Beamon won the long jump with a leap of 23'7" and the triple jump with a leap of 60'5/8". Elvin Sanders won the shot-put with a "pull" of 59'9" and the discus with a toss of 105'9".

Ronald Cotton won the pole vault with a vault of 15'10", and Mike Hart won the high jump with a leap of 60'5/8".

Roy "Sparman" Thompson placed second to Beamon in the long jump with a leap of 23'7". Charles Marks placed third in the 120-yard high hurdles, and the relay team composed of March, Marks, Beamon, and "Sparman" placed fourth in the relay event.

The Aggies down Delaware 8-4 In Baseball
By JOYCE DALTON

The Aggie baseball team defeated Delaware State 8-4 last Saturday behind the pitching of John Quick of Devils Island, Parish and Henry Flaminio.

Aggies took a 8-0 lead in the first inning on singles by Flaminio, Hubbard, and Handley, and a base hit by Williams. The early outburst knocked out Delaware State's starting pitcher, Field.

Delaware came back for one run in the top of the second. The Aggies came back to the top of the third for one run scored on a balk and a wild pitch.

The big inning for the Aggies was the fourth inning. Delaware State's pitcher started the inning off by walking Hubbard, William, and Mark, loading the bases. Parish then hit a double that scored Hubbard and Williams. Lightfoot followed with a sacrifice fly that scored Mack. Jagers lined into a single into center field and promptly stole second base. Parish then came in for the seventh run on Boyd's force out. John Quick ended the inning by flying out to the center-field.

Aggies got their final run in the fifth inning when Flaminio led off with a double down the right-field line. Hubbard and Williams then struck out. Mack followed with a line single to right that scored Flaminio. Partin got on base via a base-on-ball. Delaware State's second baseman, Slaughter, made a spectacular play to rob Lightfoot of a hit to end the inning with the Aggies leading 8-1.

Delaware State rallied for two runs in the top of the sixth and one in the top of the seventh.

Ruby Thomas took over the mound starting the eighth inning after Quick had struggled through the seventh. Thomas held Delaware State scoreless for the final innings.

Nannie Kearney (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

Nannie is not really a bookworm; she enjoys reading, listening to records, and conversing with friends. Many of her clothes are home-made.

Nannie makes no empty or foolish promises that may not be fulfilled in the future. She asks your vote to me as a position in the office of Miss A.T. Your vote may determine a place on the A&T staff; go to the polls and vote.

Who makes the promises in return for your vote? Nannie says, "I am willing to devote more time and energy toward better representation for A&T. College and I am elected, I will strive to prove that serving the interests of woman students on the college campus is my primary goal.

We set out to ruin some ball bearings and failed successfully

The Bell System has many small, automatic telephone offices around the country. The equipment in them could operate unattended for ten years or so, but for a problem.

The many electric motors in those offices needed lubrication at least once a year. Heat from the motors dried up the bearing oil, thus entailing costly annual maintenance.

To stamp out this problem, many tests were conducted at Bell Telephone Laboratories. Lubricant engineer George H. Kitchen decided to do a basic experiment that would provide a motor with the worst possible conditions. He deliberately set out to ruin some ball bearings by smearing them with an icky gunk called molybdenum disulfide (MoS2).

Swack! This solid lubricant, used a certain way, actually increased the life expectancy of the ball bearings by a factor of ten! Now the motors can run for at least a decade without lubrication.

We've learned from our "failures." Our aim: investigate everything.

The only experiment that can really be said to "fail" is the one that is never tried.

Bell System
American Telephone & Telegraph and Associated Companies

ONE HOUR MARTINIZING
"THE MOST IN DRY CLEANING"

100 East Market Street
Greensboro, North Carolina

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

Harrington, Graves, and House
(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1)

of his high school. He is a sophomore political science major here at A&T College and a candidate for the vice presidency of the junior class. Lee lists a few of his qualifications as follows: he is a writer, typist, and reporter for the college newspaper; a member of the Fortnightly Club (literary organization); member of the Stilhorn Club; the College Council; a mem­ber of the Student Union Commit­tee; an honor student; he is a participant in a special S. R. O. C. program (Tiger Flight); he is the official news representative to the Student Government; he served as Chief-Committee for "Operation Sophomore Weekend"; and this week he was inducted into the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity.

He too is an advocate of "Unity among the members of the class and for the betterment of A&T."