The school newspaper plays an important role in the life of the student and adds a great deal of impact and influence when it is used properly. The newspaper has the important duty of presenting students with the opportunity to practice writing skills and to make available to them as much information as possible. The main purpose of the newspaper is to fulfill this function

Mr. Morris gave those seniors additional tips for making up their packages and make-up package maximum reader appeal and type Immediately following the film, the new members were given their main areas of interest in the paper. Assignments were made, and the staff received refreshments.

After a brief "get-acquainted" hour, the new members viewed a film entitled "Student Newspaper Make-Up and Typography." The film was centered around the arrangement of news paper and pictures on a newspaper page. It also showed the use of various type styles and body type, heads, and art - to meet the demands of more value, space, and attractiveness. The film pointed out many of the pitfalls to avoid and make-up package maximum reader appeal and type.

The film was followed by the showing of William Shakespeare's presentation, "Hamlet." The staging is deliberately simple and unobtrusive. The heralds of noble families on the posters, however, have the same intensity and purpose that the actors have in their role to play. The whole production adds life and excitement to the film. The performance is one of the highlights of the evening. The play is performed by five performers who will also be going into the Armed Forces or will be working in the fields of Geography, Geology, Engineering, Forestry, and Astronomy.

Our Policy

In as much as this is the beginning of a new school year, a summary of THE REGISTER's policy appears to be in order.

Briefly, it is the policy of THE REGISTER to print any worthwhile statement of opinion that affects the Agricultural and Technical College of North Carolina, its students, its faculty, and its alumni.

THE REGISTER does not concern itself so much with national and international news as it does with intra and inter-collegiate news, unless it is directly applicable to the students, faculty, or administration of A&T College.

Like most alert newspapers, THE REGISTER will take a stand on controversial issues that affect the college community; however, THE REGISTER does not make a habit of "airing our dirty linen." Besides the students, faculty, staff, and administration of A&T College, approximately 120 schools, institutions, and private subscribers receive copies of THE REGISTER every week.

Copies travel to colleges and universities in more than 25 states in the United States as well as Chung-ang University in Seoul, Korea; private subscribers receive copies of THE REGISTER every week.

"Black Power" is a slogan, a threat, a poor choice of language. McKissick exclaims, however, "We don't want retaliation to our use. McKissick understands the urgent need for a symbol cohesive element to mobilize the masses of Negroes. It is rumored, however, among civil rights organizations, "Black Power" has made headlines coast to coast, created a near break among civil rights organizations, and has become the most controversial political slogan of 1966.

The three are capable of playing with each other and with musicians among each other. Because of the trio format, Coleman has been able to refer to each of these musicians as his "collaborators" and "friends" by which he means that they have been in touch with each other on their individual ideas and motifs. Certainity the music coming from "Black Power" can be used to create an atmosphere of excellence. I know that we want "Black Power," yet not the bell out of the music. As an ally of the group, CORE has been a part of their struggle and a part of their victory. The "NOV.AA.O" will have no further comment until after the next Congress is held.

Yet, to this writer the music of the average Negro is not the best kind of music. These are the first things that attracted the attention of the American public with his recording "Change Is Coming." There was a controversy among the jazz critics and the jazz public as to whether he was a master musician or just "putting the people on." Then he was "exposed." What does Mr. Carman mean?

The A & T College REGISTER

Support Is The Key

The Student Government is to be commended for its initial issue of the Student Register and for its continued production, which will be published. Likewise the outline of activities and the current proposals of the Student Government president, Roy C. White, are included in the beginning pages.

The Student Government realizes that the student body must be informed of its activities, a similar realization on the part of the administration is necessary for complete success. The Student Government must be informed of the students' needs.

Our Policy

Support is the keynote to success.

A Letter To You

Greetings Aggies,

Welcome home to Aggie-land! The first few weeks of college life are always a challenge. This will be a busy year for all of us academically. So, to decide how you will spend your time:

The Aggie Bulldogs will be playing the Norfolk State Indians on October 6 at 8:00 p.m. Even though we have done our team, it needs our wholehearted support. Let's cheer our team to victory. Be in the stadium on October 8, ready to yell loud and clear for the mighty Aggies.

Again, good luck for this year. Let's make this year the best year for the Aggie student.

NANNIE KEARNY Miss A&T
Minutes Of SG Meeting

On September 21, the first meeting of the Student Government was held in the gymnasium. At the meeting, the president, Roy C. White, introduced the newly elected officers. They were Albert Oliphant, president of the Student Government Association; James Dailey, vice-president; and Willie Drake, secretary. The officers were asked to present a report at the next meeting, but they were unable to do so because they had not yet been elected. The meeting was adjourned at 8:50 P.M. by the President, Roy C. White, and the meeting was adjourned at 9:00 P.M. by the President, Roy C. White.

The next meeting will be held on a Saturday night, only one movie will be shown. This will be a free movie. On Saturday nights, the first movie will be twenty-five cents and the last movie will be free.

Any student interested in working on any of the above committees is asked to contact one of the officers or members of the Student Government.

FREE ENTRY

The president made the following announcements: All members of the Student Government will be installed in the auditorium on Saturday night. A representative of the Student Government Association will be present at the installation. The members of the Student Government Association are given the executive board for the installation. The resolution will be read and adopted upon as presented. The minutes of each regular and called meeting will be the agenda of the next meeting. The Register, this step is taken in order to inform the student body of the activities of the society and sponsored by the Student Government Association for the benefit of the Student Government Association.

The Student Government Association is making plans to sponsor a trip to the D.C. Classics on October 21, 1966.

On November 11, information will be made available to all students interested in the trip. These plans progress.

As always, any suggestions will be held to the President of the Student Government and the position of the Student Government Association for the benefit of the Student Government Association.

The Student Government Association is interested in the student body. It is always there for the student body. It is therefore possible to make to the Student Government Association for the benefit of the Student Government Association.

The first meeting of the Student Government Association was held on the campus of A&T on October 19, 1966.

With junior quarterback Elridge Dickey directing traffic, Tennessee State rolled to a 21-0 lead early in the third quarter. By that time the only question on the minds of the spectators was whether the Aggies were going to be "hit-out." The outcome of the game was not visible to the many Tennessee State students who "attached" the Aggie offensive line.

The Aggies made two offensive changes throughout the game. The first change came after Tennessee State's first touchdown. Starting from their own 39, the Aggies moved inside the Dickey line of Tennessee State before a pass interception brought that drive to an end.

Tanzanians Visit College
To Observe Vocational Work

Seven teachers and school administrators from the United Republic of Tanzania, East Africa, have been at A&T College for a three-weeks educational visit. The purpose of their visit was to observe and study work being done in this country in agricultural extension, vocational education, and vocational agriculture.

A program was planned for the visitors under the auspices of the Division of Extended Services at A&T. They visited schools, farms, and technical institutes in Greensboro and its vicinity. A special dinner in their honor was held on Monday, October 2, at the president's official residence.

The visitors took part in orientation programs about A&T College's educational system and facilities. They have already visited the college farm and have attended a dinner on Monday, October 2. On Tuesday they attended a dinner at the president's official residence.

In an interview with the Director of Extended Services, Mr. W. B. Harris, a REGISTER reported that the visitors showed great interest in the work being done at A&T and that they expressed satisfaction.

The Tanzania education industrial representative A. Kasara, Joseph V. Linanga, Thomas A. Masiyo, Nancy Mwimba (leader group), and Ms. M. Ngwira were in Greensboro for the four days.

They will leave Greensboro for Washington, D.C., October 5.

Class Members are Requested to Submit Dues

Dues for all sophomore class members are now being collected. The dues for this year, 1966-67, will be $1.00 per person.

On the agenda of activities are numerous affairs for which admission prices will be required. But, ALL sophomore class members who can pay dues will be admitted FREE of entry to all regular activities sponsored by the sophomore class. These include musical, dramatic, and other affairs. Also a more elaborate affair is being planned and students in good standings with the sophomore class (those who have paid dues) will receive a nominal reduction from the general admission prices.

In order for a more successful year for the Class of '67, I am encouraging ALL Sophomores to please your loyal support through class spirit and fun.

Wach the bulletin boards in the library, canteen, and your residence for your dues are only a few questions which you should ask yourself before you jump to your own conclusions about your roommate if he (or she) is annoying you with disagreeable habits. Also remember your roommate is a person who plays a definite role in your life. You should be able to communicate individually and learn great things and have to overcome certain disqualifications for this position.

Begin your year on the right foot and balance on your left foot. This means make your roommate comfortable and have a favorable roommate relationship.

Instructor Describes Operation Crossroads

BY DIANE BANNER

"I wish that every American and Canadian could visit Nigeria. Most Americans have the misconception that the people of Nigeria are friendly and hospitable. Therefore, as I had read, I have been able to correct this misconception."

These are the words of Miss Barbara Dodd, instructor in the Department of Physical Education here at A&T, as she described her experience with Operation Crossroads Africa this summer.

Miss Dodd was one of eight perspective members of the African Co-Operative Movement (ACM) in Operation Crossroads Africa. This is a nonprofit governmental organization under the direction of Dr. Inuson Robinson. There were approximately 200 participants in 20 countries in Africa.

The participants were divided into groups of five. Miss Dodd participated consisted of eight workers and two sets of Nigerian co-operative workers. The major project of this group was the construction of a peanut market near the village of Ubuma-Adik. Other projects included a peanut market near the village of Ogba and a beekeeping school. Miss Dodd said that the group worked on the projects for a month and a half.

In commenting on the hospitality of the people, Miss Dodd stated that the people were very friendly, cooperative, and enthusiastic.

Miss Dodd stated that "the people of Nigeria are very friendly, cooperative, and enthusiastic. I learned of the difference between the British and the economic status. She feels that her experience cannot actually be expressed in any words.

In conclusion, she stated that "in Nigeria, I was able to realize how fortunate we are in this country and that we should make our country better.

The project lasted for nearly 11 weeks.
