Alumni Win Offices In N. C. Elections

AT COURTHOUSE

Both candidates realized the success of their campaigning as they watched election returns pour in late Tuesday and early Wednesday. Frye sat with a small group of campaign workers at the headquarters, an abandoned ABC store on East Market Street.

Frye attributed his success in being elected to bloc voting in predominantly Negro precincts. Arriving in Frye, this is the same type of thing that happened in the May Democratic primary. Frye stated that he regarded bloc voting as a driving influence in the Negroes for his campaign.

Two years ago the bloc ballots was not enough for Frye to win in the Democratic primary. This time, as election results indicated, it was not the same. He received favorable votes in east Greensboro as a result of his endorsement by the Greensboro Citizenship Association. In this section of Greensboro voters refrained from casting their votes for his white opponent. Frye agreed that his endorsement by this group probably produced the margin of victory, but he pointed out the fact that he did much better in white precincts in Tuesday's election than he did in the primary.

"This time a lot of people voted a straight democratic ticket and I'm on it," stated Frye.

In commenting on whether or not he will face an unusual amount of pressure in the legislature's next Negro, he stated, "I'll be like any other freshman - learn my way around - where to sit. But they will learn to get along with me and I will work with them."

Frye is greatly concerned with the Negro who was prevented during the 1968 campaigning. He is an avid supporter of law and order and justice. "The purpose of law is to maintain order and stability. If you place emphasis on law and order and not on justice, the emphasis is being misplaced," Frye stated.

Students from this campus, Bennett College, and UNC-G are working hard to make Attorney Frye's effort a success.

Student "Blow" Money Needed

BY BARBARA M. JOYNER

President Dowdy met with the AOF in his regular monthly "chat," October 19, in which he presented ideas and proposals for the beautification of the campus, betterment of educational instruction for the students, and other issues concerned with the AOF. His first proposal was to ask students to participate in investing some of the money they "blow" in the construction of an all-black grocery store in which black men can sole ownership and control. "But," he added, "the white man has trained us not to trust each other," and this could be, and is in fact, today a hang up in the unification of the black people. The President stated, "Blacks should first believe in themselves." This proposal will be brought out and presented to the students.

The development of the physical features of the campus was his next proposal. Particularly, the Mem­orial Union was the object of this. Some suggestions were enlarging the pool to 20 times its present size, the pool could be used as an ice skating rink in the winter and a ski jump in the summer. Mr. Dowdy also proposed a new restaurant to the AOF in his regular monthly "chat," October 19, in which he presented ideas and proposals for the beautification of the campus, betterment of educational instruction for the students, and other issues concerned with the AOF. Voter-Registration: A Success

By HILLIARD E. PHELPS, JR.
Managing Editor

The students at A&T who "took a pause for the cause" of voter-registration in Greensboro should give themselves a "pat-on-the-back." These were the students who freely gave their time on Saturdays to the NAACP and other groups which led a voter-registration drive here in the city.

We can now see the benefits of our hard effort to make more Black people aware of the importance of voting. However, more important, was our getting these people registered to vote in the election last Tuesday.

These were the people who played a decisive role in the election of Attorney Henry E. Frey to the North Carolina House of Representatives and the election of Attorney Electra M. Alexander to a District Judgeship in Guilford County. We can look back and see that we have played a decisive part in the history of North Carolina. For it truly is history in North Carolina for a Black man to serve as a judge in this state.

M. Alexander to a District Judgeship in Guilford County.

Furthermore, Attorney Alexander became the first woman, black or white, to serve as a judge in this state.

Our work should encourage people of all races to take an active role in our elections.

We can now see more clearly that the future of the black community is dependent upon the number of Black people who vote.

For if only a few people vote, the candidates that are elected are not going to be interested in our education, welfare, or housing needs.

We can now see that our efforts to get more Black people to vote have paid off.

The next step in our quest for a democratic society is to get more Black people to register to vote.

We plan to have 5,000 more Black voters on the books by next semester.

To those who are not registered to vote, I urge you to register now.

To those who are registered, I urge you to vote in the next election.

Thank you for your hard work and dedication.

Sincerely,

Betty Harris

Library Needs Improvement

EDITOR OF THE REGISTER:

In our library here on the A&T State University campus there are a great many things which could be improved. Among these things are damaged books, books on reserve being taken out, and students finding the library overcrowded.

In the area of damaged books, a great many things could be said. Often, students have checked out material from certain books, journals and periodicals in the library. In some cases, these books have been torn out. Or maybe the whole book has been taken out and not returned.

What can be done about the situation? We need to let the students know that the library is a place to study, not a place to take care of personal needs.

When students realize that they have a better place to study and find the proper information they need, I believe the problem will be solved.

Coed Decrees Aggies' Spirit

EDITOR OF THE REGISTER:

The student body was actively engaged in the spirit of homecoming this year. The various activities that took place were proof of what "good Aggie" spirit is.

The Greeks were busy welcoming guests to campus and making sure they were properly greeted. On Friday, the Aggies gathered at the Morgan Bars: "Here lies Morgan," "Go to make a comeback," and other signs encouraged the students to do their best.

The cheerleaders were also doing their part to bring the students together.

The popular "How Our Readers See It" feature was very well received.

The Register is one of the most unbiased, informative campus papers I have ever read. But I cannot understand why I have never read a notice which told how much we Aggies really enjoy our paper and how proud we are of it.

TO THE EDITOR:

Being a sophomore, I have only had the opportunity to look at the campus paper for three semesters. I have never had the chance to say at this time that these editions I did read were very wonderful.

Big Kiss For Staffers

EDITOR OF THE REGISTER:

I believe that a Kiss Is A Success.

I am happy to report that A&T state University is the first to report on the success of the voter-registration drive in Greensboro.

Our success can be attributed to the efforts of the NAACP and other groups who worked tirelessly to register as many people as possible.

We are proud of the fact that we have registered over 5,000 Black voters by the time we go to press.

We hope that this success will encourage other groups to continue their efforts.

Thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

Betty Harris

The Rated Was Taken For Granted

EDITOR OF THE REGISTER:

There are some things too many of us take for granted.

Recently, it was announced that THE Register would not have a last publication for the following week. As a result, the students were very upset as well as I was.

I feel that the library will be a place to gather in the library; only a few students are available. Consequently, many students are not taking advantage of the library as a place to study.

When students don't use the library, they are not taking advantage of the library for what it was supposed to be used for.

Peace Corps Expands For More Services

The officials of the Peace Corps and the State University of New York College at Brockport announced completion of arrangements for continuing and extending the unique Peace Corps-College Degree Program to admit a fourth group of candidates in June, 1969. The members of this contingent completing the fifteen-month program which terminates the upper division undergraduate education with Peace Corps assignment are now serving on international educational and cultural development efforts of their host countries. During their two year sojourn they will have the opportunity to earn up to twelve semester credits toward a bachelor's degree.

The candidates will be selected from the ranks of students in good standing at an accredited college who are completing their sophomore or junior year by June 1969. These selected will be able to earn an A.B. or B.S. degree and be eligible for a Peace Corps assignment in one academic year flanked by two summers of fully subsidized and integrated academic courses and Peace Corps training. They will be expected to major in mathematics or the sciences; and be prepared for Peace Corps training, two full years prior to entrance into Peace Corps service.

who have only a limited time to eat before attending classes in the vicinity of Hodgin and Graham Halls, could eat in the dining hall nearer to them. This had been tried before, but students were not satisfactorily cooperative.

Another proposal was to close the street behind Scott Hall leading to the Union because of the "race track" attitude the car owners had. This is dangerous to pedestrians and drivers.

In his five-year report presented to the Board of Trustees entitled "My Exciting Five Years," President Dowdy states that the percentage of Ph.D.'s on campus has increased from 25% to 40%. Copies of this report will be put in Bluford Library.

Included in his chat was the fact that teachers should be more relevant in instruction. This has reference to a teacher's unwillingness to pursue discussions brought up in class outside of the standard "book learning."

When the Aggies of A&T and the Golden Bears of Morgan State met for the first time in competition, it was a meeting of giants. Despite Morgan's 27-20 win over 100. More than 310 engineers will study there in 1969. It's the most advanced facility of its kind.

Is it possible to be passable at 30?

Absolutely. If you're a 30-year-old engineer who's failed to keep up with the latest developments in your field.

Because Western Electric's an acknowledged industrial leader in graduate engineering training, that's one worry engineers don't have. Our carefully-completed Corporate Education Program, led by tenured Professor Thomas, N., J., for instance, will have a resident staff of over 100. More than 310 engineering courses will be offered, and about 2,400 engineers will study there in 1969. It's the most advanced facility of its kind.

Ask around. You'll find that when it comes to anticipating change, Western Electric is way out in front. And we make every effort to keep our engineers from feeling too.
