Work Begins On Dining Hall

The latest sound on campus is that of structural steel beams being hammered in the ground. The beams which will soon be tested for support of 180 tons will eventually support a new campus dining hall facility. The facility is being built in the area in front of Curtis Hall.

According to Jerald M. Martena, dean of Administration, the $1.7 million structure will be of a three leaf clover shape with two stories. The ground floor will house the "Commons" area. This "Commons" area will keep students from having to wait outside the dining hall. A director's office, food storage rooms and toilet facilities will also be on this floor.

The second floor will house a 450 capacity dining room in each of two of the clover leaves. Four serving lines with the latest in modern equipment will be capable of serving 800 persons per hour.

The kitchen, situated in the third leaf on the second floor, will also be well equipped and will include an employee's dining hall. Martena estimated the cost of kitchen and serving equipment at close to $233,000.

Special conveniences for students, will be an escalator that will assure quick movement of students from the "Commons" to the dining area. Also, a special conveyor belt will carry dirty dishes to the kitchen and return them completely clean in approximately five minutes. A mezzanine-balcony room for small groups is also planned.

Martena mentioned that he saw no reason why the facility could not serve the entire student body. He stated that a proposal had been drawn for the renovation of Murphy Hall into a facility which would house all factions of student affairs.

Construction of the 47,412 square foot dining hall began March 30. Tentative date for completion is 420 days from initial work; therefore, the facility should be ready for use by the 1973 summer.

The structure was designed by W. Edward Jenkins, a Greensboro architect and A&T graduate. Construction is being handled by Mid-South Construction Co. of Greensboro.

Larry Hinton, a political science major from Durham, will head the 1972-73 student government association.

Elected to the position of president of the SGA, Hinton won by a margin of 237 votes over his opponents, Ronald Phillips and Stephen Blake.

Janice Morgan will wear the crown as Miss A&T. She is a physical education major from Paterson, New Jersey.

Other contenders for the crown were Doreen Green, Louise Murriel, Annette Stallings, Gloria Holloway and Brenda Latham.

Bennie McMorris was elected vice president of the SGA and Mary Minnicks was elected secretary. Avon Morgan won the position of treasurer.

Ron Gillon, a professional biology major and a native of Greensboro, was uncontested for the office of president of the senior class. Constance Wiggs, a sociology major from Kenly, will reign as Miss Senior.

Elected to the junior class offices were Tyrone Stephenson as president and Priscilla Keel as secretary. There were no contenders for the crown of Miss Junior.

John Kerns, an uncontested candidate, will serve as president of the sophomore class; and Keith Walters, as vice president. Reigning over the crown of Miss Sophomore will be Denise Ryles from Washington, D.C.

New SGA Officers Mary Minnicks, Bennie McMorris, Avon Morgan, Janice Morgan, and Larry Hinton (seated).

Topping Re-Elected Editor Of The Register

Ronald Topping, a rising senior, majoring in psychology, was re-elected as editor-in-chief of the A&T Register at the end of March.

He and the other elected officers of the 1972-73 staff will be introduced at the annual banquet tonight at McClure's restaurant.

Topping served as editor-in-chief of the staff during 1971-72 school year. A staff member for three years, Topping has also served as news editor.

The election also culminated with Linda King, a rising senior from Kannapolis, obtaining the position of associate editor and Patrice Dunn, an Oxford native and mathematics major, being retained as managing editor.

The position of business manager was retained by a senior business administration major from Clinton, Weldon Washington. Janet Jones, a home economics major from Fuquay-Varina, was also re-elected as news editor and Jacqueline Glisson of Sumter, South Carolina, majoring in biology, retaining the position of sports editor.

Other staff heads elected were Doreen Green, an art major from New York, as fashion editor; Ruth James, a junior business administration major from Apex, as fine arts editor; Michael Braye, a sophomore psychology major from Riegelwood, as chief photographer; Connie Griffin, a junior biology major, from Fuquay-Varina, was elected circulation manager; and Oliver Carson, a junior physical education major from Cleveland, was named production manager.

Also named to this executive staff board were Cassandra Wynn, a sophomore English major from Huntersville, as assistant managing editor; Janice Smith, a sophomore English major from Warsaw, as assistant news editor; and Gregory Phillips, a freshman physical education major from Winston-Salem, as assistant production manager.

Topping will begin his second year as editor-in-chief of the student newspaper in August. He will be leading the organization into its 79th year of operation.

Are You Going?

Crime is again on the increase here at A&T. An increasing number of students have been caught shoplifting in community stores.

America, being a capitalistic society, invariably punishes offenders more severely for crimes against property than for crimes against people. Shoplifting is a crime against property and store owners are waging total war. Many new devices are being used to catch and discourage would-be thieves.

The Greensboro business community is on the verge of Paranoia. Many of us have felt the bad breath of sales clerks on the back of our necks as we try to shop. As you walk into a store, you will be followed and watched closely even though you may not realize it. Any action the store thinks is shoplifting may be grounds for arrest.

In the past, Greensboro judges have been very lenient with A&T students charged with shoplifting. However, they have informed the administration that students convicted of shoplifting will be given jail terms in the future.

If students do not stop trying to steal, the Greensboro business community will see that the educational level of the Black prison population increases with the large number of former college students in jail.

After all, if you have to go to jail, go for stealing a million dollars, not for stealing candy bars.

BLACKS AND BLACKNESS

By Rosie Stevens

The central theme of the Black struggle in recent years has been Black control of Black people's affairs. We see this reflected in the fight for community control of Black schools, the rise of successful Black politicians from Black communities, the recent political convention, and Black business enterprises. We have noted within the last year the opening of two vital enterprises within our own community, the Uhuru Bookstore and Greensboro National Bank.

Blacks have obtained political autonomy in several large cities. This political control, linked with backing by vital institutions in the Black community, has had some very good results. More jobs have been provided by the Black controlled banks, the hotels, the stores, etc., since very few whites apply for jobs at Black businesses. Also, this ownership has been very non-exploitive in nature. These enterprises do not draw the community.

Recently, emphasis has been placed not only on local control, but also on a state and national level. Blacks are currently running for offices that are attainable, and also for the purpose of placing pressure on previously insensitive areas of government. Though it is impossible for a Black person to become President within the next four years, a certain amount of bargaining power is to be had from the running. Many of us, as college students, will have a say-so in what goes on in the government because we are registered voters. We will have a voice in determining our future.

Somewhere in "The Godfather," a discussion is held concerning the sale of drugs. Someone proposes that the drugs should only be sold in the Black community since Blacks were content to stay on the ground and wallow in the dust. We wonder what Puzo really thinks of the thrust toward Black autonomy.

We know we are not wallowing in the dust.

Shoplifting is stealing

Last year, over 3 billion dollars worth of merchandise was shoplifted. And you ended up paying for it. The honest customers pay higher prices for the problems and losses that shoplifting creates. But when the shoplifter gets caught, he begins to pay . . . through prosecution, court, humiliation, and a permanent police record. The cost of stealing is a lot higher than the cost of buying.

SGA Plans Elections To Fill Many Vacant Class Offices

By Janice Smith

The SGA is now formulating plans to schedule elections for vacant class offices. According to Vice-President, Jimmy Hill, the SGA hopes to let new and old class officers work closely with respective elections for the positions still open.

In the rising senior class, candidates will be seeking the offices of vice-president, treasurer, and secretary. Next year's junior class has open offices for vice-president, treasurer, and Miss Junior. Vacant positions in the up-coming sophomore class are secretary and treasurer.

Concurrently with elections, the SGA is also working on plans for the first state conference of YOBU (Youth Organization for Black Unity) which will be called Harambee; plans for a Black Week on campus are being prepared in the near future.

Harambee is scheduled to convene on Saturday, April 22, 1972, on the campus of NCCU. The purpose of the conference is to acquaint more youth across the state with YOBU's goals, its structure, and its purposes.

Registration and opening will take place from 10:00 a.m. until noon. Dwusu Sadaukai (Howard Fuller) will be the keynote speaker for the morning session.

The second session begins at 1:00 p.m. and ends at 3:00. It consists of eight workshops in specific areas which youth across the state have been dealing. These areas include voter-registration, drugs, Black National and State caucuses, Black People's Union Party, and summer planning.

Campus Ministry Plans April Activities

United Campus Christian Ministry at A&T has scheduled a number of religious-centered activities April 16 through April 22. The organization's purposes involve efforts to enhance the religious atmosphere on campus and to encourage young people in the ministry.

UCCM Week is to begin with a worship service in Harrison Auditorium at 6 p.m. April 16. The speaker is Reverend John W. P. Collier, Jr., Secretary of Home and Foreign Missions of the African Methodist Episcopal Church. The music for the service is to be rendered by the St. James United Presbyterian Church Choir. Another event scheduled for the week is a benefit concert featuring Henry Dees, a baritone from Detroit, Michigan, and also brother to the Reverend Mr. Lloyd Dees, director of UCCM at A&T. Donations are a dollar for students and two dollars for adults. Patron donations are five dollars for adults.

An "Exhibit of Black People" is another program planned for the week. This exhibit will occur in Room 214 of the Student Union. The exhibit, which is free, will include pictures and information about Black ministers around the country and some in the Greensboro area. According to Dees, the exhibit will give students a chance to become familiar with what Black men in the ministry are doing.

Students Participate In Exchange Program

By Betty Holeman

Fifteen A&T students participated in an exchange program with Rutgers University during the week of March 19-25. Ten Rutgers students came to Greensboro. They were Robert Arrington, Ailene Denny, Lois Gentry, Lynn Hyman, Glendora Hill, Dorothy Tinder, Norma Singleton, Annette Warren, and Matthew Worrel. They were mostly from Camden with a couple from Philadelphia.

The A&T students were Malinda Allen, Fred Avery, Mayola Barrow, Hattie Breeden, Shirley Chapman, Robert Degraphenreid, Katie Graham, Betty Holeman, Wayne Moore, Rosetta Morrison, Karen Patterson, Pamela Price, Gail Ross, Lula Saunders, and Joseph Sharpe.

This trip was for one week of field laboratory experience on inner-urban problems in teacher education. This program is sponsored by the United States Office of Education under Title 3. It is now in its third year. It was initiated by Dr. Dorothy Prince, chairman of the Education Department. In the past years seven to nine students from A&T spent a period of five weeks in Camden doing student teaching. This year it was changed to allow students to have this opportunity at an earlier point in their professional education career.

The purpose of this field experience was twofold, to provide an opportunity for students at A&T to develop an awareness of the distinctive problems of urban life and education in an urban setting through observations and visits of the educational system followed by seminars; and to meet and hear certain community leaders; and to acquaint students with reading materials and resources relating to urban education.

B&G Trying To Fill Bald Spots On Campus

By Cassandra Wynn

Grass has been planted by the Buildings and Grounds in various "bald spots" on campus. The grass was planted the first week of the spring holidays in order that growing grass would get a head start on student's shoe soles. Director of the Physical Plant, Marvin B. Graeber, feels that, if traffic on newly planted grass does not become too heavy, a significant amount of grass (enough to cut) should be present by Monday.

There are a few wooden horses to keep "shoe sole traffic" off the grass; but, according to Graeber, there are not enough money and man power to put up permanent barricades.

Graeber mentioned that grass had been planted in February but the results were fruitless. Attitudes of students about the beauty of the campus have improved, according to Graeber's observations; but he feels students could do much better. Graeber says he appreciates those few organizations that are trying to help beautify the campus. When asked what will be done if the newly planted grass fails to grow, Graeber simply stated that the grass would be replanted. He added that the grass will fail to grow only if heavy "shoe-sole traffic" continues.

Graeber revealed that plans have been formulated to beautify several key areas on campus. The key areas include the Brown Hall area, the entrances and gates, and the Dudley Building area. Other areas to be landscaped include High Rise, Senior Hall, Crosby Hall and Merrick Hall. The Student Union is to be relandscaped.

Each week Dave A. Johnson, III, writes a weekly publication called "The Rap" which includes WANT's recent hit soul survey and other information concerning WANT and what it does. To increase student support of "The Rap" and WANT, a free album will be given to any person who returns, the copy of "The Rap" to Price Hall with the corresponding number that is called during the broadcast. "The Rap" is available in Brown and Murphy Hall every Monday evening.

shoplifter (shop'lif tēr) n. One who steals goods from a store while business is going on. -/lifting n.

Shoplifting Is Stealing

It's the same old story . . . "getting something for nothing" . . . stealing from the neighbor down the street who manages a retail store . . . sneaking out of a store with stolen merchandise while responsible shoppers are paying for theirs. An outlaw who preys on the retail scene . . . the shoplifter is a crook.

When caught, and inevitably they are caught . . . there is prosecution, court, and a permanent police record. Think twice. Authorities are getting tough with shoplifters. No second chance. No "let's have a little talk" . . . they throw the book. The cost of stealing is lot higher than the cost of buying.

Everyone wants to be wanted . . . but not for theft.

Why doesn't General Electric talk about thermal pollution when they talk about nuclear power plants?

General Electric has been talking nuclear power plants ever since we pioneered them in the fifties. And we think they can help solve America's energy problems in the 70's and 80's. But we're also aware that nuclear power has problems of its own.

Problems worth talking about. Like the environment.

Actually, we felt one of the greatest advantages of nuclear power was environmental.

Unlike fossil-fueled power plants, there is no smoke to pollute the air.

But like fossil-fueled plants, there is warmed water released to surrounding waterways.

Cooling it.

We recognize thermal pollution as a serious problem. And GE and America's utilities are working on thermal problems at nuclear sites on a plant-by-plant basis.

Many people don't realize, for example, that utilities are required by federal law to design and operate their plants within temperature limits prescribed by the states.

So utilities are spending millions of dollars on dilution control systems, cooling ponds and cooling towers to comply.

But, in addition, utilities are sponsoring basic research on heat exchange and its effect on aquatic life. More than 97 utilities have been financially involved in over 300 such studies.

Good effects?

It's been found, in some cases, adding heat to water can actually be beneficial. Warm irrigation water has extended growing seasons.

Warm water has created new wintering ponds along water-fowl migration routes. Florida is using it to grow shrimp and lobster.

In Texas, it's increasing the weight of commercial catfish by as much as 500%.

Work to be done.

Listing these benefits is not to beg the issue. Thermal effects remain a tough problem to solve at many sites. Each plant must be considered individually, in its own environment, and this is being done.

General Electric, the utilities and environmentalists will continue to work hard. Because we think the advantages of nuclear power far outweigh the disadvantages.

Why are we running this ad?

It's one ad of a series on the problems of man and his environment today. And the ways technology is helping to solve them.

The problems of our environment (not just nuclear power problems) concern us because they will affect the future of this country and this planet. We have a stake in that future. As businessmen. And, simply, as people.

If you are concerned too, we'd like to hear from you. Write General Electric, Dept. 901-CN, 570 Lexington Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10022.

Bluford Library Makes Plans For National Library Week

Routine getting you down? Spring is a fine time to shed your mental cobwebs. Visit your library and browse around. You're sure to find a book to suit your mood or interests. Stop by your library today—"Reading makes the world go 'round" and "You've got a right to read."

The purpose of National Library Week is to create a better-read, better-informed America by encouraging life-time reading habits and stimulating greater library use. This program for a better-read, better-informed America was launched in the spring of 1958 as the first concerted nation-wide effort to focus public attention on reading as a source of personal fulfillment, on the importance of literacy in our national progress, and on the libraries which, used fully and supported properly, can make reading accessible to everybody. The annual week is both the climax and the inauguration of many year-round efforts to encourage individuals to read more and to stimulate wide-spread public support for libraries of all kinds.

Our National Library Week Program will attempt to do three basic things: inspire, inform, and involve. First, it will seek to arouse you and make you aware of your need for reading, for information, for continuing self-education. Secondly, it will encourage you to believe that what you learn and think and contribute has meaning not only for yourself but for your community and your nation. Along with this, it will inform you that your library can offer you a wide range of knowledge and enjoyment to satisfy every interest and purpose. Finally, the staff of the F. D. Bluford Library, encourages you to make fuller use of your existing library facilities, demand more of your library, and take action to help improve it.

The F. D. Bluford Library has planned a Musical Book Review, April 19, at three o'clock in the library auditorium. This program will include music and refreshments. The music, which will come from movies and musicals based on popular books and plays, will be provided by a saxophone ensemble, directed by William C. Smiley

Manpower Center

Sponsors Career

Confab

By Deborah McRae

A Career Planning Conference is being sponsored by the Manpower Research Center, Thursday, April 20.

The Department of Labor recognizes that this university has a special competence in Manpower and it has given the faculty and students a fully-funded program in Manpower.

The program is carried out by the Center for Manpower Research and Training, Room 213, Carver Hall. Dr. Howard Robinson is director of the program. The center offers courses in Manpower specialties and supports research on the employment problems of minorities and women.

Thursday, faculty and students of the center will pool their expertise to provide up-to-date career planning information. The topics are (1) Are graduates from A&T going to find jobs and (2) Information about job opportunities being available in order that freshmen and sophomores choose the right majors.

The speakers for the morning are Professor M. E. Simmons, from the Department of Economics, Mrs. Ruth Gore, director of Counseling and Testing Center; Professor Richard Robbins from the Department of Economics along with student presentations from the various departments.

Dr. Alice E. Kidder of the Department of Economics "hopes everyone who can, will attend the conference."

The time of the conference is 9:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Thursday, April 20th, in Carver Hall Auditorium.

A little known way to fly free.

Call Eastern or your travel agent. Ask for Leisure Class.*

Arrive 20 minutes before flight time.

Wait for regular passengers to board. And hope the plane fills up.

If the first flight is full, you fly on a later flight, free.

Every airline has First Class and Coach reservations.

But Eastern has a third kind, as well. It's called Leisure Class.*

Here's how it works.

First, you buy a Leisure Class ticket. You pay the same student fare as you'd pay for Coach.

But we don't guarantee you a seat on the plane when you get there.

If you do get on, Leisure Class is just like Coach.

But, if Coach is full, you may fly First Class. (For Coach fare.)

In which case Leisure Class is considerably better than Coach.

Or, if the whole plane is full, you won't get on the plane at all.

In which case, Leisure Class is fantastic.

If you don't get on your scheduled flight, we refund your money.

And put you on our very next flight that has seats available, free of charge.

You do get your 25% discount on Leisure Class tickets.

But Leisure Class does not apply to some other reduced fare tickets. Nor to the Air-Shuttle; nor Bermuda, Mexico, Jamaica and Bahama flights.

Nor when the originally scheduled plane is grounded due to weather conditions, equipment failure or equipment substitutions.

In order to qualify for a free ride, you must present your Leisure Class ticket at the boarding gate twenty minutes before flight time.

And, if you have to wait, it will be anywhere from several minutes to several hours.

But, if you've got more time than money, you probably won't mind at all. Call Eastern or your travel agent.

They have all the details.

Rampaging Aggie Basemen Post 9-0-1 Record At Mid Season

By Blannie Bowen

The 1972 Major League baseball season has not started because of the player strike, but the collegiate teams have been playing steadily since early March. The Aggies have been playing better baseball this season than the World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates played last year.

The 1972 edition of the Aggies has a 9-0-1 record. They have defeated some powerful teams in the process of their rampage. They will face two potent opponents this week-end at Memorial Stadium in Howard and Morgan State.

Coach Mel Groomes has worked extremely hard in conditioning his players, and he is seeing dividends from the work-outs. The upcoming series has caused Coach Groomes to remark, "We have to win both games this weekend to be an MEAC contender."

Some of his tension should be alleviated by the fact that his freshman southpaw, Al Holland, is 6-0. Holland had his "dream game" this week against NCCU. Most people agree that Vida Blue throws smoke, but Holland threw "fire" against Central.

Holland pitched a no-hitter, faced only 28 men, and he fired his third strike out past 25 Eagles. His 25 strike-outs is a world's record for a 9-inning game. This is a feat which has eluded the great Sandy Koufax, Bob Gibson, or Vida Blue.

It is agreed that the Aggies have pitching; William Parks has stolen 25 bases in 26 attempts - the Aggies have speed; Coach Groomes considers Aaron Ball as the best MEAC catcher, and he also considers center fielder Ken Smith as his best all-around player - the Aggies have defense.

Co-captain Charles Middleton is better than last year. He is swinging the bat with a cool .404 average, and the Aggies definitely have an exciting offensive team.

The only thing missing from the team is fan support. A&T students are admitted free for all home games. The only time that adults and visiting students will be charged is at the High Point and Catawba games. The visiting students will pay a meager .25 and the adults will be charged $1.00.

The Aggies will face High Point next Wednesday night at the stadium. High Point has defeated highly-regarded Carolina, Maryland, and N.C.State. Coach Groomes says modestly, "They're the better team with their 17-3 record."

When Howard and High Point come to town, they will be handsomely greeted by the "flame thrower," Al Holland. They will also be greeted by the supporting cast of the mighty Aggies.

Aggie Netmen Bomb UMES And Delaware

By Blannie Bowen

The 1972 edition of the Aggie tennis team has started out the season with some impressive accomplishments.

The team has an over-all 2 and 0 record with these victories coming at the expense of the University of Maryland, and Delaware State. They defeated Maryland 7-2, and white-washed Delaware State, 9-0.

The team is composed of three seniors, two juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman. Their caliber of play has improved greatly because of the play of Corbett Johnson, and captain Adolph Platt. Roy Moore is more productive this year because he has shown more dedication to the fine points of tennis.

Ronnie Platt, a freshman from Clinton, stepped in for Oscar Hart and he came through brilliantly, and Coach Matt Brown thinks that he has a great future.

There are seven players on the team and four of them are from Clinton. Ronnie and Adolph Platt, Corbett Johnson, and Robert Sampson are the Clinton players. Oscar Hart, Jimmy Dickens, and Kim Poe are the other members of the team.

In the singles division, Oscar Hart is number one and 1-0. Ronnie Platt is 1-B and he has a 1-0 record. Number 2 with a 1-1 record is Robert Sampson; number 3 is Adolph Platt with a 2-0 record; Roy Moore is 4th with a 2-0 record; Corbett Johnson is 5th with a 2-0 record; and Jimmy Dickens has a record of 1-1 and he is number 6.

In the doubles, number 1 is Hart and Johnson with a 1-0 record and 1B is Johnson and R. Platt with a 1-0 record. Second is Sampson and A. Platt with a 2-0 record, and third is Moore and R. Platt with a 2-0 record.

Team individual totals for singles is 10-2, whereas the doubles record is 6-0. Coach Brown feels optimistic about the team's success in stating, "I am well-pleased with the complete team effort thus far."

Golfers Doing Well In New Aggie Sport

By Jacqueline Glisson

Birdie, par three, and bogey are strange words in North Carolina A&T State University's athletic vocabulary, but these terms are common to the sport they describe, golf, which has successfully been initiated on a varsity level.

Since each school in the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference must field teams in seven sports, A&T assembled six student golfers to represent the university in league play. To date the team is undefeated, having topped three conference rivals for a 3-0 impressive record.

Last Monday, the victorious golf team travelled to Durham to triumph over the N.C. Central team in a 255-265 match. They played a three-man game. Low man for A&T was Charles Delaney with 82, while Larry Lewis and William McSwain gathered 86 and 87, respectively. Golf coach Murphy Street commented, "The team played a good game and were consistent."

Just before the Easter holidays, A&T collected golf victories over the University of Maryland-E.S. with the score of 282-313 and over Delaware State at 489-514 in Greensboro's Gillespie Park Golf Course. Low men in the A&T-Maryland game for A&T were Leroy Collins and William McSwain with 93 each, while Charles Delaney was low man with 86 in the A&T-Delaware game.

First year Coach Murphy Street was assigned the task of building A&T's gold program and the long time golf instructor, who has been on the United States Golf Association's minor league tour, has gotten the Aggies off to a good, victorious start.

Street has 20 years of golfing experience and is familiar with several of the Black stars on the Professional Golfers Association (PGA) tour, some of whom were his childhood friends.

The six players who have shown Street a lot of promise are Leroy Collins, Charles Delaney, William McSwain, Larry Lewis, Broderick Rogers, and Ron Phillips. "The team is enthusiastic and has a great deal of potential," analyzed Street.

In explaining the true nature of golf, Street enthusiastically responded, "Gold is a game of relaxation, not tightness. It requires 10-15 per cent physical and 85 per cent mental ability to effectively play golf. It is important to have a good foundation, grip, and stance. You must be a sharp thinker and remember many things." Along with these pointers, the players must practice for improvement. On an alternating basis, they practice on week days at Gillespie Park Golf Course for

Team Places Second At WSSU Meet

By Lance Van Landingham

Coming back from a two-week vacation, the Aggie track team placed second to Winston-Salem State in a meet with St. Augustine's and Livingstone, Tuesday.

The day started off poorly for the Aggies when they didn't enter a team in the 440 yd. relay. In the 120 yd. high hurdles a false start wasn't called back and Elijah Spruill had to come from behind to get second while Lance VanLandingham finished fourth. In the 100 yd. dash Clyde Williams ran a 9.9 second and placed fifth. At this time A&T was down by only 10 points. In the mile run Preston Cottman and Donald Jenkins placed third and fifth, respectively.

In the 880 yd. run the Aggies scored more points when Ricky Majette, Preston Cottman and Eric Handy placed second, third

Intramural Basketball Tourney Shows Excitement Fast Action

By Blannie Bowen

The 1972 tournament season is almost over, but not quite. The Aggies won the MEAC, Kentucky State won another NAIA title, UCLA will probably win another NCAA championship, but the intramural title is still up for grabs.

After the Easter break, the intramural tournament gets underway with its usual "shoot 'em-up, bang-bang" style of play. There were 41 teams at the start of the season, but the field is now narrowed to only the championship clubs of each division.

The tournament starts April 10th at 5:30 in Moore Gym. The games will be played at an hour interval with four games per night, and the final game should be completed by 11 p.m. each night.

The schedule starts on the 10th in this order: Alpha Phi Omega vs. Alpha Phi Alpha, Epicureans vs. Tau Phi Tau, Hell Inc. vs. Kool Phi Sly, and the final night game pits Mission Impossible vs. High Phi Point.

The next day's action starts with the game between the Esquires and Phi Beta Sigma. BOSS vs. IEEE is the next game, followed by Omega Psi Phi vs. Iotas, Cobras vs. Real Things, and the final game is played between the Smokers and the Renegades.

The final day of the opening round puts the Squires against the Hounds at 5:30, followed by the Niggerbockers-T-Devils game. The opening round will come to an end after the Bullet-Tribe game at 7:30.

"Survival of the fittest" is the name of the single elimination which is involved in this tournament. The team which proves that it is the fittest will definite deserve the intramural championship trophy.

and fifth in that order. The Aggies got 6 more points from the 440 yd. dash when Maurice Watson and Ray Crosby placed.

In the field events A&T's weightmen cleaned up. Rex Smith, Carl Collins and Danny Coleman placed 1, 2, 3 in the discus, then came back and got first, third and fourth in the shot put. Meanwhile Winston-Salem won the pole vault unopposed, Elijah Spruill, high jumping for the first time in two years, missed winning the event by the tip of his toe. In the long jump, Glen Turner and John Bryson placed second and third. Turner also placed third in the triple jump later on that day.

Back on the track, Lance VanLandingham, running the 440 intermediate hurdles for the first time, placed third. In the 3 mile run Ricky Majette placed fourth. In the final event, the mile relay, A&T was out leaned by Winston-Salem and got second.

The team travels to Norfolk, Virginia, for the Norfolk Relays tomorrow.
