Marshall Releases New Policy

By Benjamin T. Forbes

A revised version of the policies, procedures, and guidelines regarding coed visitation was issued Wednesday by Dr. Jesse Marshall, vice-chancellor for student affairs.

In a letter addressed to Col. William Goode, dean of student management, and Mrs. Lucille Pezzotti, dean of students for organizations and development, Marshall stated, "Since the recommendation made by the University Council sought to modify guidelines in order to permit universal application of the visitation policy to all students enrolled, I am requesting you to instruct all members of your residence hall staffs that effective Thursday, October 9, all hall residents may participate in coed visitation."

There are three procedures and guidelines for implementation of the new policy.

The first of the guidelines states that "If coed visitation is not approved by two-thirds of the residents of a residence hall, the same shall be publicized by various communicative media."

Thirdly, "Coed Visitations may be reconsidered by a participating hall at a meeting of the residents of the hall if a petition is signed by one-tenth of said residents. Participation may then be changed by a two-thirds vote provided that a majority of the members of the hall are present and voting at the meeting."

The revised policy also states that coed visitation shall be operated on an honor basis in each residence hall that participates. Times for coed visitation are as follows:

- Thursday 6:00 p.m. - 11:00 p.m.
- Friday 6:00 p.m. - 11:00 p.m.
- Saturday 3:00 p.m. - midnight
- Sunday 3:00 p.m. - 11:00 p.m.

Exceptions to the residence hall supervisor may be made concerning the number of guests a person may have, but each person is limited to two guests under the regular circumstances.

Study lounges are to be installed in each residence hall if at all possible.

The policy also states that a standing committee will be established for the purpose of adjusting procedures and guidelines as the need arises.

A card system will be set for signing in guests and signing out guests. Cards must show some type of identification. The information on the cards should contain the name of the guest, name of the host, and room being visited. These cards must be destroyed within a reasonable time after the guest has departed.

Lights in the rooms must be kept on at all times, doors are to be locked at all times, and the name of the guest must be written down.

A revised version of the Co-ed Visitation session respectively. Voting shall be by secret ballot and shall be supervised by the hall director.

The conversations circulating around campus about the proposed athletic stadium have many people wondering about what is really going on.

Cal Irvin, athletic director, released a statement concerning the fact that the projected building of the stadium is not going to go forward.

Irv, said, "The stadium drive is progressing very satisfactorily and according to plans. The original idea was to solicit a prime list of potential givers, including alumni, students, boosters, booster sites, and friends who we felt would be highly motivated to offer their support."

He continued, "We were very successful in realizing a combination of pledges and monies totaling about $50,000 even before the official campaign was under way. The recent Al Atles banquet was used to officially launch the campaign for the stadium."

Irvin said, "Immediate future plans call for the appointment of a Blue Ribbon Stadium Committee composed of alumni, faculty, students, and citizens to spearhead an all-out fund-raising effort among individuals, corporations, foundations, churches, civic groups and club organizations."

Dr. Lewis O. Dowdy, chancellor, has indicated that, in the very near future, he will appoint a full-time director to manage the stadium effort.

He continued, "The idea now is to seek the $1.5 million needed for the first phase of the stadium complex by the end of January 1, 1976. If this goal is accomplished, it is hoped that construction on the proposed facility could begin by late 1976."

The policy also states that a committee of alumni, faculty, students, and citizens to spearhead an all-out fund-raising effort among individuals, corporations, foundations, churches, civic groups and club organizations.

"The complex will ultimately contain full lighting, artificial turf and an all-weather track."

Irvin said, "The original plan was to seek at least $500,000 from individuals and group donors with the remainder from stadium bonds. Many of the initial donors have paid or pledged $50,000 or more, which will entitle them to a life time seat in the stadium and other special benefits such as..." (See Irvin, Page 2)
Students Favor Zodiac Specials

By Zavery McDougald

A new and well-accepted idea has been implemented in the Food Service Department this year. This idea of Zodiac Special, was formulated by Lawrence Munson, director of Food Services. Student opinion concerning the Zodiac Special varies. Clifton Craig, a junior, communication major from Chapel Hill, commented, "It's a good addition, that should have been done earlier." Troyetta Russell, a Capricorn junior psychology major from Jackson, commented, "It's a very interesting change which gives the students something to look forward to, and it also exemplifies unity." Seretha McNeill, a Cancer and senior early childhood major from Fayetteville, commented, "It's a good addition, that should have been done earlier." Seretha McNeill, a Cancer and senior early childhood major from Fayetteville, commented, "I hope the students will take advantage of this offer." The next Zodiac Special will be held on October 30, for all Libras. So, all you well-balanced people come out and participate.

If you attended the A&T and J.C. Smith football game last week, as all Aggies certainly did you probably worked one or more times by several young men dressed in black and gold. They may have seemed to be begging for money. These men of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity were collecting the money for the Greensboro Heart Association. One of the mottos of the Fraternity "service to all mankind," spurred the efforts of the brothers of Alpha Phi Alpha. The project chairman, Leroy Hartfield, announced, "With the total cooperation of our brothers, we were able to present a check for $101 to the Greensboro Heart Association." A concert by Greensboro’s own Margaret Tynes, soprano with the Metropolitan Opera, will climax the series with a program of major art works by Sibelius and Schumann, March 15-April 16.

Margaret Tynes, a native of Greensboro, moved to Greensboro with her father to accept the pastorate of the Providence Baptist Church. After finishing A&T, she received a master’s degree from Columbia University and studied at the Juillard School.

Miss Tynes has concentrated throughout the United States and has sung under the batons of the world’s foremost conductors. She currently makes her home in Milan, Italy, with her third-born husband, Hans von Klier. Tynes is the father of the noted Black actor, James Earl Jones. The elder Jones was contemporary and personal friend of the late Langston Hughes. His readings and poetry will be entitled “The Black Man’s Journey to Freedom.”

Jesty Dixon has been called one of the most imaginative young musicians in the field of gospel music. As noted singer, arranger and pianist and organist, Dixon formerly was accompanist for the late Mahalia Jackson and jazz-singer Marion Williams. He recently received a Grammy nomination for his song, “Hellow Sunshine,” and he was named “Gospel Artist of the Year” at Madison Square Garden.

The Rod Rodgers dance troupe features abstract styles, dance drama, jazz and modern works done to the music of popular art artists.

In addition to directing his own company, Rodgers has directed the “Black Cowboys,” and choreographed several productions for national television. He is also widely known as a master teacher and lecturer.

Lightner Defeated In Primary

Raleigh, N.C. AP-Cleveland Lightner, elected Raleigh’s first Black mayor two years ago, was defeated earlier this week in a bid for re-election.

Lightner trailed with 5,644 votes as former legislator Jyles Coggins led the three-man field with 10,201 votes and Councilman Oliver Williams came in second with 7,324 votes. William and Coggins will vie in the city’s Nov. 4 general election.

Raleigh council elections are nonpartisan.

Lightner had no immediate comment on his loss. He was the first Black mayor of a major predominantly white Southern city. His chances were dimmed after three members of his family ran into legal problems during the past year. Last week his daughter, Debra, was charged with fraudulently use of a credit card, a misdemeanor.

During the summer, his son, Lawrence, was sentenced to 10 years in jail for contempt of court on a charge that he had made an obscene gesture at a judge. The young Lightner was in court to answer a charge by his wife that he had struck her, though that charge was later dropped.

In January, Lightner’s wife, Marguerite, was accused of conspiring to receive and dispose of stolen goods. Mrs. Lightner was acquitted after an eight-day trial.

Campus Haps

The History Club, in conjunction with the History Department, is sponsoring a bus trip to South Carolina. The bus will depart at 10:00 a.m. on November 8 and return on November 9. Some of the points of interest will be Boone’s Plantation, Old Charleston, and Oyo Tunji. There are only 30 available spaces. Persons interested in going should pay their fees in Room 318 Hodgin Hall. The cost will be $15.00 per person.

Students are reminded that the Aggie Booster Club is sponsoring a bus trip to Baltimore on Nov. 1. Cost of the trip, including transportation, room, ticket to the A&T versus Morgan game and a ticket to the Colts versus Cleveland pro game on Sunday will be $46.00 per person. The money must be paid to Richard Moore, Room 203 Dudley Building by October 18.

Students desiring only the transportation, may pay $19.00.

Reverend Sampson Buie, pastor of Roberts Chapel Baptist Church in Greensboro, will be the guest speaker on Sunday, October 12, at 11:00 a.m. in Harrison Auditorium. Rev. Buie is also a Community Relations Specialist at A&T.

An Aggie Homecoming Pleases Everyone

As all of us should know by now, Monday will be the beginning of a week of homecoming festivities for the Aggies. The week will include such a variety of activities that everyone should become involved in some aspect of the celebration. There will be activities for Aggies of all ages.

One can rest assured that there will be more than enough "styling, profiling, moving, and grooving" during the week. But, homecoming wouldn't be quite the same without this element.

However, the thing that makes an Aggie Homecoming so appealing to everyone is the spirit we put into it. Everyone seems to be psyching himself up for the week-long celebration. Even the football players gain an extra incentive to win the homecoming games.

Exactly what is it that instills this mysterious spirit within us? Maybe it is the combination of all the events (reunions, social events, religious ceremonies, and the football game). All these things help make us remember how proud we are to be Aggies.

Homecoming is always an enjoyable and extraordinary event that everyone associated with the Aggie family (members and non-members) looks forward to.

Let There Be Education For All

By Daryl E. Smith

The elimination of racial duality in the educational system in North Carolina is the major problem Black students face today. The present system of educating leaders for this society has always been lopsided and in favor of the predominantly white institutions.

The growth potential for influencing racial changes has been set back another 10 years by the unwillingness of this state and the federal authorities to proceed with dismantling the dual educational system.

The burden of eradicating this duality should not be on the victims, but on the very people who engineered this system from the beginning. Black institutions of education have suffered from lack of sufficient capital, quality programs which would attract all people and the development of library holdings for the students to enhance their minds.

Education should be for all people and not just for selected individuals.
Harrison Players Will Do 'Porgy'

Before the Richard B. Harrison Players at A&T decided to stage the drama, "Porgy," for their first production of the year, they relied heavily on some research undertaken by the university's speech department last year.

Miss Bernadette Anderson and several of her students spent several days in and around Charleston, S. C., researching the old gullah language spoken by Blacks there.

"This kind of information has been very valuable to us in preparing for "Porgy," said Dr. John Kilimanjaro, who will direct the play.

The play will open a four-night stand in the Paul Robeson Little Theatre beginning October 14.

"We have had a lot of fun doing this play together," said Kilimanjaro, "and we are certain that it will be a first class theatre fare."

Like Kilimanjaro, the student actors also excelled as actors in the forthcoming play. "It's definitely going to be different," said Baxter Griffin, a freshman speech and theatre major from Winston-Salem. "It has elements of humor and seriousness.

Although he had no significant experience as an actor in high school, Griffin has adjusted well to acting, according to Kilimanjaro.

Another newcomer who will appear in the play will be Sandra Jones of Winterville. Her background in high school was in modern dancing. But she said she chose theatre as a major at A&T "because I have always wanted to try my hand at acting."

"This will definitely be a show people can relate to," said Sandra. "It really shows you the inner feeling of Blacks."

The lead role of Porgy will be played by veteran actor Avery Verdell, while the role of Bess will be played by Mary Logue.

Reservations for the play may be secured by calling the box office at 379-7852.

OUT OF THE MOUTH'S OF BLACK FOLK

Henry Highland Garnet (1815-1882)

Although Henry Highland Garnet was born a slave in Maryland, he became a successful minister, teacher, editor, and missionary, as well as an eloquent speaker. The statement below, excerpted from his speech, "An Address to the Slaves of the United States of America," was delivered at a National Negro convention in Buffalo, and it is indicative of the militant attitude which was characteristic of Garnet. "Brothers, ams, arise! Strike for your lives and liberties. Now is the day and the hour. Let every slave throughout the land do this, and the days of slavery are numbered. You cannot be more oppressed than you have been—You cannot suffer greater cruelties than you do. Rather die freemen than live to be slaves. Remember that you are four million!"
Donated TV Equipment Still Remains Uns usable

By Daryl E. Smith

"WEMY-TV donated over a quarter of a million dollars worth of TV equipment but it can't be used by the students because we can't get the parts and supportive equipment that go along with it."

This statement was made by Anthony Welborne, media technician in the television department. Asked why the donated equipment has not been fixed, Welborne said, "Dr. Ellis will only purchase a purchase order for the minimum amount of parts, but not for emergency supplies used to back up the present system."

By Deborah Daniels

Homecoming is one of the main events students anticipate for various reasons of their own. Nevertheless, one can agree that a diversity of activities occur to keep energetic students occupied and entertained throughout the celebration.

Many and outstanding attractions in the history of A&T have been incorporated in the minds of witnesses of them. Since the theme is "A Blast from the Past" it is appropriate to disturb your mind with golden memories of the past during homecoming.

If you were here in 1973 you would have witnessed during homecoming halftime, that the drum major did not march on the field as they normally did. On the contrary, they flew on the field in a helicopter.

In 1974 homecoming during halftime, the band had a treat in store: an Aggie Bulldog who played in the final. Naturally it was a man in a dog's outfit.

"Homecomings are better every year," stated Dr. Waverly Rice during his farewell to the students. He says that in the past years, homecoming didn't have themes at all they do now. Also he thinks the floats are better because they are made commercially instead of by the students as they were in previous years.

"Styles are open now," a former Miss A&T, Dr. Pearl Bradley of the Speech Department commented. "Homecoming has a set pattern and it hasn't varied much. But I can remember the times when there were fireworks. But I enjoyed the reunions and games.

Miss Jean Bright of the English Department reminisced about an incident during an A&T Homecoming in which the students and other members of the Fort Nightly Club participated. They had made a float with Anthony and Cleopatra statues on it. As they were being pulled in during halftime, they noticed, too late, that tools, such as hammers and saws, were left at the feet of Cleopatra.

Pamela Elaine Carlson Will Present Recital

Pamela Elaine Carlson, a flutist in the A&T State University Symphony Band, will present her senior recital Tuesday, Oct. 12, at 3 p.m. in the Richard B. Harrison Auditorium. Carlson is the daughter of Mrs. and Mr. Walter F. Carlson, Jr. She is also a majorette in the marching band, special service chairman of the Band Council, and secretary-treasurer of the MVC (Music Educators National Conference).

A&T WH Clash With Norfolk

By Nicie Cannon

A&T is only one week away from its homecoming and the midway point on the football schedule.

The Aggies played according to form and dispatched Johnson C. Smith last Saturday without a great deal of difficulty. George Ragdale went a part of the way in establishing himself as the MEAC's top running back.

The 6-0, 185 pound Baltimore, Md., native rushed for 126 yards on 22 carries and two touchdowns. He was the most damaging weapon A&T could come up with against Smith.

Even a more promising sign was evident in A&T's offensive line. Up until last week the veer offense had totally failed.

With some permanent changes in personnel, and the birth of the Power I attack, the offensive front has gained some necessary timing and strength.

Whether the 21 points was a TRUE indication of what Aggie fans can expect or not is still up in-the air but it was indeed a welcome change from the previous 7-0 defeats.

Tailback George Ragdale was named the "MEAC Offensive Player of the Week" as he accounted for 126 yards rushing and two touchdowns in A&T's 21-0 win over Smith.

Just a week ago, splitend Dexter Feaster gained a

Navy Wings of Gold. They mean a lot to Lieutenant John Burton, from DeKalb, Mississippi. And they say a lot about him, too. Skill. Determination. Self-confidence.

After finishing college, John entered the Navy's Aviation Officer Candidate School. He worked hard, and it paid off. Now, he's a helicopter pilot facing new and different challenges every day. But, more important, John had what it takes to earn his wings and fly Navy.

If you're a college senior or graduate, the Navy offers you a program that can start you on your way to an exciting career in the field of aviation. It's called Operation Challenge. It all begins in Pensacola, Florida with the basics: the theory of flight, principles of navigation and Navy customs. From there, you'll be trained to pilot jets, multi-engined aircraft, or helicopters. You'll learn formation flying...take cross country hops...and fly at night and by instruments. The ultimate test is landing on an aircraft carrier. That means a short runway—and one that's moving. Sure it's tough, but we teach you to handle it.

There's more, too. After graduation, you'll work with a great team of professionals. Plus have a chance to travel...see the world...and have some fun. Call your Navy Operation Challenge Recruiter.
