Material Command Selects A&T For Program

A&T State University has been selected to coordinate a $350,000 cooperative education program, designed to interest more minority students in the field of engineering.

L. Col. Harold Lanier, director of the Cooperative Education program at A&T, said the university is already accepting applications for the program for next summer.

He said interested high school graduates, who are accepted into the program, will be provided with a summer job next summer at one of 10 naval installations around the nation.

"After being provided with a meaningful work experience at some engineering installation," said Lanier, "the students will be able to earn the balance of their college fees through the summer employment."

Slurs Cause Butz’ Resignation

Editor's Note: Secretary of Agriculture, Earl L. Butz' comments concerning Blacks were too vulgar and offensive to be printed in this publication.

WASHINGTON (AP)- Reprimanded by President Ford for slurs against Blacks, Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz said he regretted his language and resigned Monday.

Butz was summoned to the White House on Friday and was given "a severe reprimand" by Ford, who found Butz' racial comments "highly offensive," presidential aides said.

The reaction rolled in quickly from both Republicans and Democrats. There were strong calls for Butz to resign or for Ford to fire him.

Butz remarks were first reported in an article in The Rolling Stone Magazine by John Dean, a convicted Watergate figure, who said Butz made the comment in a conversation aboard an airplane after the Republican convention in Kansas City.

In his comment, as quoted by Rolling Stone and the magazine New Times, Butz referred to Blacks as "colored," and described in a derogatory manner what he characterized as their sexual, dress and bathroom predilections.

White House officials said Butz told Ford about his comments after discovering that New Times was naming him as the Cabinet official referred to by Dean in the Rolling Stone story.

Congress was closing out its final session of the year Friday night and the Butz quotation spread rapidly through the Capitol. There were immediate demands that Ford fire him, many of them from Republicans.

Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., the only black member of the Senate, called Butz' remarks "vulgar and offensive."

It was the second such incident in which Butz has had to issue a public apology. He apologized earlier after being called to task for a November 1974 remark widely regarded as offensive to Catholics and Italian-Americans.

Butz, 67, was appointed by former President Richard M. Nixon and was rumored to be close to quitting at least twice since Ford took office.

He said interested high school graduates, who are accepted into the program, will be provided with a summer job next summer at one of 10 naval installations around the nation.

"After being provided with a meaningful work experience at some engineering installation," said Lanier, "the students will be able to earn the balance of their college fees through the summer employment."

A&T students last summer were employed in installations in San Diego, Calif., Bethesda, Md., Newport, R.I., Cherry Point, and Warminster, Pa.

Lanier said it is possible for students in the program to earn $10,000 or $12,000 from four years of summer and cooperative work experience.

Hurry tomorrow!!

By Patricia A. Owens

Mrs. Laura Thornton, acting director of the dining hall, revealed that the mezzanine will no longer serve lunch to the staff members, so that the students will be served better. Not many staff members eat in the mezzanine, but in the Red Carpet Room. The two cafeteria staff members who served in the mezzanine will now serve the students, Mrs. Thornton said, "Students benefit from two more mature persons serving them. There were primarily freshman students serving. Students don't like to serve students."

Mrs. Thornton also revealed that these changes were mentioned in the report by James Garfield, director of auxiliary services. The report was later submitted to Chancellor Dowdy and Matthew King, the vice chancellor of fiscal affairs who approved these changes. These changes included the closing of the mezzanine the same day band members, all athletes, cheerleaders and persons who participated in intramural sports were to eat in Brown Hall. This was to help make the lines shorter in the cafeteria.

Positive changes are beginning to happen already in the direction of the cafeteria.

Margaret Roberta Farr, a senior nursing major, has been elected president of North Carolina Baptist Student Union. Purposes of this organization are to correlate, strengthen, and to unify the work of the various Baptist Student Unions, in the state.

Furthermore, the organization also aids in relating the gospel to one's life and to the lives of others. Its membership consists of 23 colleges and universities. Among these, only two participants are Black Universities. They are A&T and North Carolina Central.

When asked how she felt about being elected to the new position, Margaret said, "It was strange being elected because I had not planned to run, however, some students from A&T convinced me to."

Margaret was elected to this position in May of 1976, in Ridge-Crest, where the annual BSU conferences are held.

In addition to her election into the BSU organization, Margaret is secretary of the A&T Gospel Choir, a member of the Alpha Chi and Alpha Kappa Mu honor societies, and chairman of the United Christian Fellowship. A native of Rocky Mount, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Farr.

Budweiser, presents "Beer Talk"

How much foam on a glass of beer?

1. Maybe you like your beer without a lot of foam.
2. So you pour it gently down the side of the glass.
3. Well, that's fine—that'll do it. But here's something to think about!
4. You just might be surprised at how much mellower and smoother the flavor becomes when you pour any beer smack down the middle.
5. And when it's Budweiser you're pouring... well!!
6. If you think this looks good, just wait till you taste it!

Tentative Budget Calls For Work On Vet School

Assembly. It was discussed by the board's budget and finance committee prior to presentation to the board this week. The tentative budget calls for initial work on a proposed school of veterinary medicine at North Carolina State University. It would also keep the state program of assistance to students in private colleges at its present level.

In outlining the budget proposal to the committee, President William C. Friday described the salary increases as the "number one priority" for the UNC system. "This is the number one priority and it must be. We have not kept up and it will hurt qualitatively if we don't," Friday said.

A recent report by the American Association of University Professors suggested that faculty salaries throughout the university system had slipped in the last year in comparison with salaries offered by other universities across the nation. Explaining the drop, UNC officials have pointed to lack of pay raises by the 1975 General Assembly. At the same time they said, faculty salaries nationwide were increasing between five and seven percent. Signaling his plans to lobby forcefully for the salary increases and other budget requests during the coming session of the General Assembly, Friday asserted, "We intend to work hard for this budget."

It is doubtful, however, that the General Assembly will be able to fund the entire UNC request. Recent revenue estimates indicate the coming General Assembly will have only about $147 million available for appropriation increases.
AFL-CIO Vows To Assist NAACP

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) The AFL-CIO and 128 individual defendants have won a week's postponement of the deadline for posting a $1.56 million bond that organized labor says it will help provide the money through its own fund raising efforts and the AFL-CIO said it would help provide the rest.

The suit grew out of a 1960's Black boycott of white merchants in the Claiborne County seat of Port Gibson, 60 miles southwest of Jackson. The merchants charged they were the victims of an illegal secondary boycott because the Black grievances were with local government and not the stores.

After almost three years of testimony and proceedings in Hinds County Chancery Court here, Chancellor George Haynes held the defendants were guilty and liable for $1.2 million in damages.

Haynes refused Thursday to reduce bond on grounds the required defendants to post 125 per cent of the judgment. The defendants appealed this ruling to Mississippi Supreme Court Justice William Inzer but he also upheld it.

David Seth Michaels of Jackson representing the defendants before Inzer, said the inequity of the situation had been relieved when Judge Orma Smith issued a temporary federal district court order at Oxford to delay collection of the judgment.

Smith set a hearing on the matter for Oct. 7 in Oxford.

In New York, the NAACP said it had raised $763,000 toward the appeal bond and organized labor had guaranteed the other $800,000. The guarantee came from the AFL-CIO and the United Auto Workers.

Number One
Workers Lack Proper Attitude

By Maxine McNeill

Though the cafeteria food is presently under attack by students, that isn't the only problem students have to face while in that building. Another problem is the less than cordial attitudes displayed by some of the workers.

When a person takes a job in the cafeteria such as taking the numbers at the end of the line, he or she should know the line cannot move until the students are served. This is not understood all of the time, though.

On one occasion a particular line had run out of food and students had to wait about 10 minutes before they could be served. Instead of hurrying the people serving behind the counters, this number taker made rather harsh statements to the students. They were told to take anything and hurry up because she was ready to leave.

That was not the proper attitude for the workers to display. This is only one incident of thoughtlessness shown by a cafeteria worker but there are many others.

Besides having to eat the food, students have to put up with that type of attitude. It would be nicer if the workers could be a little friendlier since students endanger their lives by eating the food served in the cafeteria.

Home Economics Department Starts
New Cooperative Education Program

By Margaret L. Brown

The Home Economics Department has started its first co-op program for dietetics and food nutrition majors with the Ball, Inc. Consumer Service Division in Muncie, Indiana. Ball Inc. is famous for canned equipment, recipe books, consumer letters, and TV and radio commentaries on preparing canned foods and food value.

Alpha Kappa Mu Plans
Several Fall Activities

"Alpha Kappa Mu Honor Society plans to initiate several programs this academic year," said Yvonne Anders, president of A&T's chapter.

Yvonne said in keeping with its aims of emphasizing studies, research, original investigation, creative work and publications, AKM has planned a number of activities.

One of the main events the honor society has planned is a consolidated honors banquet. This banquet, said Yvonne, will be a fall activity. Its purpose is to bring together all of the honor societies on campus in order for an exchange of ideas to take place.

Yvonne hopes that the exchange of ideas will be geared toward the stimulation of others toward scholarly pursuits. "Moreover," said Yvonne, "we hope, as a group, to develop programs which will support the developing scholar, giving him the opportunity to realize his potential."

Black Leaders
Draft A New Set Of Proposals

SALISBURY, Rhodesia AP-Black nationalist leader Joshua Nkomo said Monday that Black African presidents have drafted a new set of proposals for moving Rhodesia toward Black majority rule.

Nkomo, who heads one wing of Rhodesia's African National Council, claimed the new proposal would superecede the plan worked out by U. S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and reluctantly agreed to by Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian D. Smith.

"There is no such thing as the Pretoria agreement," Nkomo said, referring to the meeting in the South African capital of Kissinger, Smith and South African Prime Minister John Vorster. The plan drafted at that meeting called for Black majority rule within two years.

Nkomo said a conference called by the British government to deal with the Rhodesian transfer of power was "not called because of the Kissinger document, it is because of the heads of state document. It is a completely new document."
Drawing Winners Receive Money

By Maxine McNeill

Last Friday, the Career Planning and Placement office held its annual career day drawing. A five-dollar certificate was given to each one of the 20 winners.

Terry Tyson, SGA president, drew the names of the students who won. The winners were: Shirley Murphy, biology major; Terry B. Wiley, junior, accounting major; Terry Smith, senior, accounting major; Michael George, professional biology major; Janice Hooker, junior political science major; George Briggs, sophomore electrical engineering major; James R. White, electrical engineering major; Edward Cardwell, mechanical engineering major; Matthew Bush, sophomore business administration. Gilford Watson, industrial technology; William Tann, senior, electronics major; Brenda C. Walker, senior recreation major; Thomas A. Warren, physical education major; Charles Wright, junior physical education major; Randy Clark, senior, business administration major; Darlene Cooper, sophomore, nursing; Michael Jenkins, junior, electrical engineering major; Anthony Turner, political science major; Robert Courts, junior accounting major; and Steve Estes, an industrial technology major.

According to Leon Warren, assistant director of career planning and placement, the drawing was sponsored by the career planning office to encourage students to come over and take advantage of the companies that took part in the career day activities.

"Many students fail to take advantage of the career planning office which is the best thing for them," said Warren. "Last year we had 534 companies to take part in over 100 activities on campus."

Selected Cadets Receive New Positions In Army ROTC

The Army ROTC command structure for this school year was announced according to Diane Fisher, Intelligence Officer. Senior cadets were appointed to fill positions as follows: Battalion Commander, Stanley V. Cash; Executive Officer, Marcus E. Floyd; Administrative Officer, Robin S. Arledge; Operations Officer, Ronald Lamb; Supply Officer, Reggie C. Lanning; Ranger Company Commander, Victor L. Street; Drill Team Commander, Larry W. Campbell; Precision Drill Team Commander, Shannon M. Langan; Marksmanship Commander, Frank E. Batts; "Hold for Your Life" Commander, Thomas A. Price, and Advanced Leadership Commander, Arthur N. Boone.

Cadet Cash, the battalion commander, is a Lieutenant Colonel. Cadets Floyd, Street, and Boone are majors, and the remaining officers are captains.

Those selected cadets were awarded these positions based upon their performance at ROTC Advanced Camp, overall academic standing, and demonstrated leadership traits. All are expected to be commissioned into the United States Army upon graduation next spring.

Surprise! A&T has found a running game. The Aggies rushed for over 200 yards in their convincing 37-22 victory over Johnson C. Smith last Saturday night.

Coach Hornsby Howell unleashed a hazardous, new stable of "horses" on the Bulls and three of them will be familiar for the next few years. The first was freshman William Joyner who exploded from out of nowhere to stardom in just a single half of play.

The next was Jeff Wilkes who powered over tackler after tackler to help set up one of several scoring opportunities the Aggies churned through.

The third and perhaps the most effective was converted tackle George Small who moved in at fullback. The Aggies didn't have to play catchup in a ball game. It's a lot easier watching the other guy struggle for a change.

Again A&T struck quick, as Johnson C. Smith was forced to punt after a 48 yard return of an intercepted pass. This made it 37-14, A&T on Gerald Johnson's 80 yard punt return.

Dexter Feaster who caught five passes for 121 yards for another brilliant performance. It was Aiken who time and time again opened up holes in their defense to run through. He is certainly deserving of his All-MEAC status.

The Aggie defense put a terrible thumping on the Golden Bulls Saturday night. Pinckney was rather subdued in his comments about just how confident Mel Pinckney in regard to the 1976-77 A&T wrestling team.

The Aggies took over from the defense of massive ends Larry Barham, and Anthony Porchia, and it makes you wonder about the games that A&T had problems running in.

A word should be directed to the offensive line. It was the finest blocking night for an A&T offensive line I've seen in four years. Wheeler Brown, Joe Bloomfield, Greg and Chris Roberts demonstrated that they are the best unit in the conference.

But more than anything the game may have belonged to guard Ron Aiken as anyone else. Aiken threw a bone crunching block to set Dexter Feaster loose on a 61 yard gallop to the endzone via Ellsworth Turner's pass. The key to the game was the offensive line. It was wonderful watching the other guy struggle for a change.

The Aggies Defeat JC Smith 37-22

Lucien Nibbs and Dwaine Board were the key. Board recovered a Smith fumble to set the stage for Smalls second short touch down run. This made it 37-14, A&T. Again Smith was forced to punt as Nibbs dropped Williams in the backfield.

The Aggies had very impressive drives in the last 15 minutes but failed to capitalize. Joe Crabby intercepted Wayne Banks' pass to stop Smith's only drive.

A&T was forced to punt as Smith retained possession on their own 20. The Bulls drove the 80 yards to make the score 37-22, A&T on Gerald Johnson's 14 yard catch from Banks.

Next Saturday A&T will look for a second straight Coach Howard Bannlith set that up with his 33 yard runback of an intercepted pass. The ball ended at 24-24.

After the thrilling halftime performance by the Marching Machine, the Aggies took charge again. Bruce Black scored on a one-yard touchdown. The Joyner-Wilkens team along with Dexter Feaster who caught five passes for 147 yards will be a factor against Norfolk State.

Ellsworth Turner continued his domination of MEAC as he completed 13 of 22 passes for 260 yards. The Aggies are 3-1 on the season.

By Dennis Bryant

In their first three games, the Aggies managed a meager 205 yards in rushing. Saturday night the Aggies netted 483 yardage total offense with 225 yards in rushing, to go on to defeat Johnson C. Smith 37-22.

The key to the game was the running of William Joyner and Jeff Wilkes, who combined for 180 yards rushing.

With NCCU and Alcorn State having been upset earlier, the Aggies appeared to be on the same road. Johnson C. Smith got on the board to lead 7-0 on a 77 yard pass play from Turner to Dexter Feaster.

The next possession the Aggies drove 55 yards in six plays, to make it 14-7. Ron Scott's reception of 10 yard pass from Turner to make it 3-0.

On Smith's next possession, the defense of massive ends sécurized on a three yard plunge. It looked like the Aggies were on their way to a breakout as they drove to Smith's one yard line only to have a slipping penalty nullify a touchdown.

Johnson C. Smith recovered a fumble at A&T's 42 yard line. Earnest Williams scored from the one to make it 24-14.

Earnest Williams scored from the one to make it 30-14.

It was Aiken who time and time again opened up holes in their defense to run through. He is certainly deserving of his All-MEAC status.

The half ended at 24-14. The Aggies had very impressive drives in the last 15 minutes but failed to capitalize. Joe Crabby intercepted Wayne Banks' pass to stop Smith's only drive.

A&T was forced to punt as Smith retained possession on their own 20. The Bulls drove the 80 yards to make the score 37-22, A&T on Gerald Johnson's 14 yard catch from Banks.

Pinckney Anticipates Good Year

By Craig Turner

"In the next tournament, we should do as well or better than we did last year." Those were the words of a confident Mel Pinckney in regard to the 1976-77 A&T wrestling team.

Pinckney was rather subdued in his comments about just how confident Mel Pinckney in regard to the 1976-77 A&T wrestling team.

The two individuals we lost from last year's squad did not wrestle a great deal for us although they were super people," Pinckney explained. "We should do much better this year if we were to wrestle the same schedule.

Pinckney, the coach of the year for the next two or three years, pointed to the fact the Aggies have beefed up their schedule with over 80% of its slate being members of Division I.

Included in the Aggie schedule are such powers as The Citadel, Missouri, Tennessee, Georgia, Richmond, Yorktown, John Collins (N.Y.), Elizabeth City, and Campbell. Pinckney explained that his team would have a very tough road. "We will be on the road nearly every time we wrestle. Out of the 20 matches on our schedule only eight will be here."

The colorful coach also stated that the MEAC conference tournament would be held here in Greensboro.

In Intramural Football

By Dennis Bryant

In last week's intramural play, Blood blazed the bullies with a 48-0 win.

Ronald Johnson scored two touchdowns and Francis Tuck caught a pass for another one as the Blood looked unstoppable.

The game was completed on Friday after rain delayed the Thursday game. Blood stands at 4-0 for the year. Madness is 0-3.

The wrestling squad will be without the services of an assistant coach for this season. "He left us to go to Barber-Scott to coach Athletics and Soccer teams. I don't think it will hurt us any since we have such a good bunch of guys."

In other action, the Orphans and Grooves forfeited their game as fighting broke out between the teams. The Grooves have been banned from any other intramural play.

Intramural basketball started Monday night, October 4, at Moore Gymnasium. The tourney consists of eight teams made up from around the campus.

L.J. Pipkin And Joe Starks

Are Appointed Co-Captains

L.J. Pipkin, who was rated by Basketball Weekly as one of the top college freshmen last season, and Joseph Starks, a transfer student from Hampton Institute, have been named co-captains of the 1976-77 A&T basketball team.

Pipkin, a 6-0 forward, saw considerable action on last season's Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference championship team and participated in the National Invitation Tournament in New York's Madison Square Garden. Pipkin is a native of Laurinburg.
Athletes Suffer From Diarrhea

By Margaret L. Brown

Several football players came down with a strange illness the Tuesday before the Florida A&M game.

Dr. Lewis Barbee, chief of medical services, here diagnosed the illness as an acute case of diarrhea.

Dr. Barbee said, "Some of the players had diarrhea but not all, because there was no common pattern in the symptoms."

Dr. Barbee also stated, "Some of the group of players who were given medication may have discarded it by throwing it in the shrubs and on the sidewalk by the infirmary the making matters worse!"

The cause was believed to have been the water or food supply. The water was tested and proved to be negative. It was the same water the rest of the campus uses.

Coach Hornsby Howell said, "There is no proof it was the cafeteria food and that is not my rumor."

Dr. Barbee said, "From my evaluation of the situation, it does not point to food services at the present time."

Dr. Barbee commented, "If I thought it was food service, I would call in the proper authority to sample and test the food."

None of the football players was put in the infirmary except Joe Crosby who was hospitalized for 30 minutes in Tallahassee, Fla., for stomach pains.

"The cause of the illness is unknown. It can't be pinpointed without a proper work up."

Barbee said, "Coach Howell said, "I was glad that it wasn't any worse. I thank Mrs. Thornton for giving the players food to build up their energy and to Medical Services for their cooperation in getting the fellows to recover."
