

North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University
Aggie Digital Collections and Scholarship

NCAT Student Newspapers

Digital Collections

3-19-1982

The Register, 1982-03-19

North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digital.library.ncat.edu/atregister>

Recommended Citation

North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University, "The Register, 1982-03-19" (1982). NCAT Student Newspapers. 934.

<https://digital.library.ncat.edu/atregister/934>

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Digital Collections at Aggie Digital Collections and Scholarship. It has been accepted for inclusion in NCAT Student Newspapers by an authorized administrator of Aggie Digital Collections and Scholarship. For more information, please contact iyanna@ncat.edu.

Congrats Aggies & Aggiettes

THE A&T REGISTER

"COMPLETE AWARENESS FOR COMPLETE COMMITMENT"

VOLUME LIII NUMBER 31 NORTH CAROLINA AGRICULTURAL & TECHNICAL STATE UNIVERSITY, GREENSBORO, NC

Friday, March 19, 1982

Dr. Dorothy Alston (left, special assistant to the chancellor), Chancellor Edward B. Fort (center) and Charles McIntyre (right, vice chancellor for fiscal affairs), along with Paula Jeffries (budget director) met with SGA officers Wednesday to address key topics. (Photo by Randall Taylor)

New Black Newspaper, National Leader To Be Announced At Media Conference

The unveiling of a new national Black newspaper will be discussed at the 5th annual A&T State University Mass Communications Conference on Mar. 27.

Participating in the discussion will be Claude A. Lewis, the paper's editor and publisher, and Ragan Henry, one of the nation's foremost minority broadcast owners and managers. Lewis was formerly senior editor of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

According to Lewis, the new paper, to be known as the National Leader, is being founded to "create a vehicle through which Blacks may communicate.

"The weekly newspaper is an old tradition. However, the National Leader will stress the progress and development of Black America in spite of the system," Lewis said.

Joining Lewis in managing and editing the paper will be Pat Patterson, the founding editor of Black Enterprise Magazine. Staffers will include Denise Stinson, formerly of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, and Lou Ransom, formerly of the Pittsburgh Courier.

The conference, sponsored by the A&T mass communications program, will begin Friday, Mar. 26, with a lecture by Dr. Pam Johnson, publisher of the Ithaca (New York) Journal.

Saturday's sessions will include a luncheon talk by Lem Tucker, CBS correspondent, and a workshop on the much publicized Janet Cooke case.

Participating in the conference will be high school and college students, journalism educators and professional journalists from across the nation.

Persons wishing to register for the conference are asked to contact Mrs. Joyce Jones at 919-379-7582.

Fort: 'Returning $900,000 Will not Affect Academics

By Audrey L. Williams

SGA President Stephen Kirk met with Chancellor Edward B. Fort Wednesday to challenge why A&T may have to give $900,000 of tax dollars back to North Carolina and why the Corbett Sports Center could not be used for a concert that had been scheduled for March 20.

The meeting which deliberated for two hours, included top ranking A&T administrators and SGA executive members.

Charles McIntyre, vice chancellor for fiscal affairs explained that A&T along with other state supported schools and agencies may face a possible 5 per cent cut in its expenditures this year.

McIntyre said, "When the state legislators made their appropriations, it was assumed that there would be an increase in revenue and we're all aware that it didn't happen."

"The state budget office needs an additional $125,000,000 to balance the budget for next year."

According to McIntyre a large portion of the $125,000,000 needed by the state includes a 5 per cent cost of living salary increase for state employees.

He said, "If the state does not find the money to continue its salary increase, state

(See Fort Page 2)

Security Officer Injured In Early Morning Explosion

A campus security officer was injured this morning while investigating a gas leak in the A&T Register Office, according to newspaper staff members.

James Frank, a member of the campus security force, responded to call from a Register staff member about a gas leak in the campus newspaper office. He arrived around 6:18 a.m., talked with staff members about the source of heat in the building, then went outside to check for a possible origin of the leak.

When he returned inside, Franks asked Michael Fairley, editor-in-chief of the Register, where the heating unit was located and Fairley directed him to a room near the side door.

Franks went inside the room but told Fairley to stand back because there might be an explosion. Fairley said, as he proceeded to another area of the building, he heard and saw an explosion. Franks ran from the room with flaming hair and clothing. Register Managing Editor Tony Moore wrapped Franks in a denim jacket to extinguish the flames, then he and Production Manager Thomas Harris rushed him to the infirmary while Fairley called an ambulance. No one else was injured.

Franks was later taken to Greensboro Hospital where his condition was listed as stable. Members of the Greensboro Fire Department arrived

(See Explosion Page 2)

1977 Nobel Prize Winner To Lecture In Martena

Dr. Rosalyn S. Yalow, winner of the 1977 Nobel Prize in physiology and medicine, will present a public lecture, the Martena Hall auditorium Saturday at 7 p.m.

Dr. Yalow's lecture on "Radioactivity in the Service of Man" is a feature of the university's Natural Science Honors Colloquium sponsored by the MARC honors Minority Access to Research Careers (MARC) program.

Dr. Yalow was awarded the 1977 Nobel Prize for her pioneering work in radioimmunoassay, a technique which allows the measurement of hormones in very small concentrations. She is currently senior medical investigator and director of Solomon A. Benson Research Laboratory at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Bronx, New York.

The prize winning scientist began her career at Hunter College in New York City. She then went to the Veterans Administration Hospital as assistant chief of its radioisotope and nuclear medicine services. In 1970 she became the chief of nuclear medicine there. She has also served as a research professor in the Department of Medicine at Mt. Sinai School of Medicine.

Dr. Yalow is currently the distinguished professor-at-large at the Albert E. Einstein College of Medicine at Yeshiva University; and chairman of the department of clinical sciences at Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center in Bronx, New York.

(See Nobel Page 6)

Janet Cooke Case

Conference Panel Topic

The much publicized "Janet Cooke Case" will be the focus of a workshop at the fifth annual A&T State University Mass Communications Conference on Mar. 26-27.

Cooke

The conference of professional journalists, managers, educators and students, will be held in the Hilton Inn and on campus.

Cooke is the young Black newspaper reporter who

Fort

(Continued From Page 1)

Fort told Kirk, who is a member of the Trustee Board that, "You (Kirk) as member of the Trustees were given a variation of the same information that we're sharing here now, as well as that which we received in some detail with the student senate recently."

Fort also said, "My assumption is that when an SGA president is provided with information like this, he is supposed to use his or her own mechanism to inform his student body constituencies."

"I can assure that the remaining four Black institutions in this system as well as the predominately white institutions of this system, are taking their lumps too. Perhaps some of them more so than we are."

Kirk said he was not informed of the breakdown of what areas that would be affected by the reversionment.

But Fort said when he met with the treasury office, areas that would be affected had not yet been agreed on.

Fort assured Kirk that the reversionment in funds would not hurt A&T's academics and instructional aides.

The cuts, according to McIntyre would affect lapsed salaries, travel, supplies and equipment.

Kirk said in his letter of grievances to the chancellor that the SGA executive board, now in need of $8,000, "deserves to go out in style."

In his final grievance, Kirk was told that the mini concert could not be held in the Corbett Sports Center because of resigned from the Washington Post after the Pulitzer Prize scandal about her newspaper article entitled "Jimmy's World."

Leading the panel at A&T will be Bill Green, who was ombudsman for the Washington Post, investigated and wrote the major report for the newspaper on the matter.

The panel on "The Janet Cooke Case: Implications for Mass Communications" will be held Saturday, Mar. 27, at 10:45 a.m. in Room 213 of the Memorial Student Union.

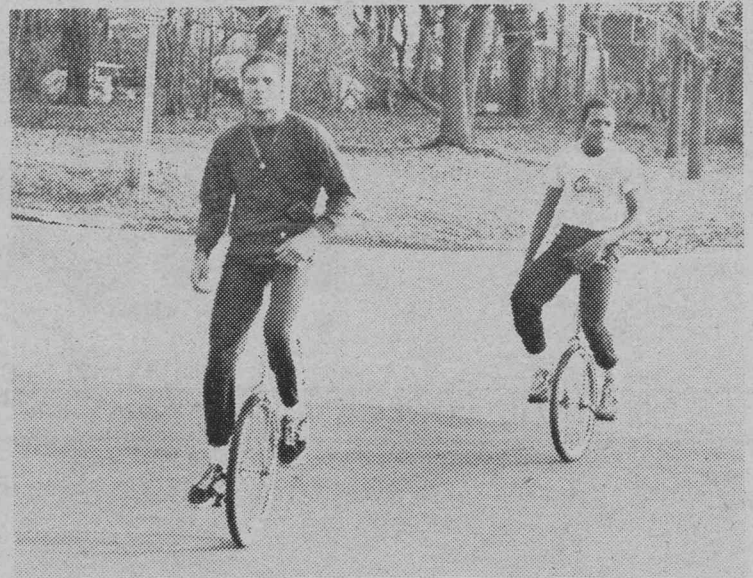

The workshop is sponsored by the mass communications program of the A&T School of Arts and Sciences.

Joining Green on the panel will be Walter Rugaber, executive editor of the Greensboro-News-Record; Jim Hefner, news director of WFMY-TV; Terri Knight, an A&T student; John Hashimoto, a student from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and the Rev. Jim Clark, a Greensboro minister. Rev. Clark will examine the ethical and moral questions surrounding the case.

Other participants in the conference will be Dr. Pam Johnson, the first Black female publisher in the United States; and Lem Tucker, a CBS news correspondent.

Registration for the conference, including the luncheon at which Tucker will speak and a conference reception on Friday night, (Mar. 26) is $3 for students and $7.50 for non-students. Interested persons may register for the conference in the Public Information Office in the Dudley Building or by calling 919-379-7582.

Marvin Gilmore (left) and Sam Livingston (right) enjoy the warm weather on their unicycles. (Photo by Darryl Watson)

the already damaged basketball court.

In order to hold another concert in the Center, the SGA or administration would have to buy or rent proper matting to deter further damage to the floor.

Kirk later said, "It is not we the students' fault that there are no adequate mats for the floor."

"Having or not having a mat may be what decides if there is a concert."

McIntyre told Kirk that it would cost thousands of dollars to have the floor resurfaced due to deteriorating conditions brought on by nonsports related activities such as dances.

The accounting of former Budget Officer Thomas Boyd was also questioned because of contradicting figures with the SGA and the budget office of revenues generated and spent by the SGA.

Explosion

(Continued From Page 1)

at around 6:50 a.m. and extinguished some boxes that were ignited by the blast.

The Register office suffered minor damage but none of the equipment used to produce the paper was harmed.

University and city fire marshalls said the building was safe as long as the gas and heating unit were cut off.

★ ★ Pizza Inn Presents ★ ★
WEEK FULL OF SPECTACULAR VALUES

MONDAY "ALL YOU CAN EAT" Barbecue Beef Ribs, Baked Potato Bread & Our Super Salad Bar 5 P.M. TIL 9 P.M. Just Say, "More!" 4⁹⁹	TUESDAY "ALL YOU CAN EAT" Pizza, Soup & Our Super Salad Bar. Family Buffet. 5 P.M. TIL 9 P.M. Just Help Yourself! 3³⁹
WEDNESDAY "ALL YOU CAN EAT" Spaghetti w/meat sauce, Garlic bread & Our Super Salad Bar. 5 P.M. TIL 9 P.M. Just Say, "More!" 2⁹⁹	THURSDAY "ALL YOU CAN EAT" Delicious Lasagna, Garlic Bread & Our Super Salad Bar. 5 P.M. TIL 9 P.M. Just Say, "More!" 3³⁹
FRI.-SAT. "ALL YOU CAN EAT" Our famous Luncheon Buffet: Pizza, Soup & Salad Bar. 11 A.M. TIL 2 P.M. Just Help Yourself! 2⁹⁹	SUNDAY "ALL YOU CAN EAT" Family Buffet. Your Choice: Pizza, Spaghetti, Lasagna & Salad Bar. 12 Noon TIL 3 P.M. Just Say, "More!" 3⁵⁹
MON. thru SAT. Every lunch is an "ALL YOU CAN EAT" Buffet at Pizza Inn. Pizza, Soup & Our Super Salad Bar (11 A.M. TIL 2 P.M.) for just... 2⁹⁹
Children Under 12 Dine at Reduced Prices.
Pizza inn You get More of the Things you Love. 5 LOCATIONS TO SERVE YOU: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • 4207 High Point Road • 4800 West Market Street • 2517 Battleground Avenue • 1015 Summit Avenue • 110 West Fairfield Road, High Point

Richard Pryor

By JODY R. MARTIN

(A Review)

Mixing lowfat milk with homogenized milk may be hazardous to your health, and if you'd like to find out why, go see "Richard Pryor Live on the Sunset Strip."

Richard Pryor is at it again in what is basically a sequel to his original "Richard Pryor Live Concert Movie," and like most sequels, it does not come up to the standards set by the original.

However, this is not supposed to be the original movie, nor is it the same Richard Pryor.

In a movie that may turn some of his old fans off, or go over the heads of others, Pryor inserts serious philosophical overtones into many of his jokes, prompting audiences not only to long moments of laughter, but also giving them something serious to think about.

On the whole, it's good old

Rich, as he spins out jokes about sexual relationships, the establishment, his marriage, and even his recent accident. But underneath all the jokes and curse words, there is a marked difference.

In comparison, this movie is not as hilariously funny as the first, nor is Pryor as comical or wild on stage as in the first. But in "Live on the Sunset Strip," I believe we get to see a more personal and sincere Richard Pryor, one that you'll probably like a lot better than before. The only problem with this movie is that the cameramen show too much of the audience laughing, an effort which takes something away from many of the funnier moments of the film.

"Live on the Sunset Strip" is currently playing at both the Janus and Carolina Circle Six Theatres and is a great film, so don't miss it.

The A&T Dance Company will perform during the International Students Day celebration on March 27. (Photo by Randall Taylor)

Child Development Laboratory To Hold March 22-26 Workshop

Elizabeth Schaefer, a nationally prominent consultant in the field of child development, will participate in a week long child development workshop at A&T, Monday March 22-26.

Schaefer, a representative of the High School Research Foundation in Ipsilanti, Mich., will keynote the workshop sponsored by the A&T Child Development Laboratory in Price Hall.

Ramona Clark, director of the laboratory, said the workshop will be attended by administrators of child development programs, programs for handicapped children and school children.

She said A&T has been selected by the High School Research Foundation to become a specialized center (replication site) for the training of pre-school children.

Discussions at the workshop will include the mainstreaming of students, cognitive development, and the rights of children.

The workshop will include demonstrations by pre-school children and demonstrations by teachers Catherine Arledge, Raymond Sterling, Cathy Jackson and Leslie Parr.

Persons interested in attending the workshop are asked to contact Clark at 379-7885.

CAMPUS HAPS

The Oratorical Contest and Speech Choir presentation is set for Thursday, April 22. Students wanting to participate in either activity should meet with Dr. Lois B. Kinney on Monday March 22, at 6:00 p.m. in Room 212, Crosby Hall. Participation in either or both events is open to all A&T students. Prizes and other awards will be presented to contest winners and to selected students who pass the Speech Choir auditions.

Summer school preregistration is March 16-April 16. See your academic advisor or department head for necessary information. Schedules are available in your department or in the Summer School Office in Room 208 of the Dudley Building.

All Veterans interested in reactivating the Veterans Association are asked to meet in the Memorial Student Union Lobby Monday, Mar. 22, at 6 p.m.

A recruiter from the UNC-G School of Business and Economics will be on campus Wednesday, Mar. 24, seeking students interested in pursuing an MBA degree. Students should schedule an appointment in the Placement Office and all majors are encouraged to apply.

Need information for research papers or theses? Check out the C.A.R.E.S. - Computer Service in F.D. Bluford Library. Contact the reference Librarian at 379-7617/7618 for more details.

Mar. 22 through 26 has been declared Residence Hall Week. Each hall is asked to participate in activities involving etiquette.

Monday, Mar. 22: Connoisseur's Day: Students are invited to attend a "How to Seminar" in the Commons area of Williams Cafeteria. How to select wines, order drinks and eat seafoods will be discussed. The consultants will be a bartender, a Matre D and a caterer.

'Butler Did It' To Be Presented In Little Theatre

"The Butler Did It," a two-act comedy thriller, will be presented by the A&T Department of Speech Communication and Theatre Arts on March 24 through March 28 at 8:15 p.m. in the Paul Robeson Little Theatre.

There will also be matinee performances on Saturday, March 27 and Sunday, March 28 at 3 p.m. The play is made possible by a grant from the R. J. Reynolds Performance Challenge Fund, with scenic construction by the North Carolina Scenic Studios, Inc.

John and Linda Harris, Jr., a husband-wife team, will produce the show. Mrs. Harris, a graduate of New York University, will direct the play, while her husband will be responsible for the sets, costumes and lighting.

The setting for the play is a rehearsal set of an off-Broadway show in New York. Appearing in the play are Kevin Dill, Debbie Smith, Arnold Pinnix, Cynthia Mitchell, Miller Lucky, Jr., and Avery Verdell.

STUDENT CREDIT

Ever wish that while traveling, vacationing, or maybe just for emergencies, you could have a national credit card?

Well, now — YOU CAN — obtain a Master Card or Visa while still in school, no co-signer required.

We have established a division to exclusively handle the credit needs of college students... freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors... so you can enjoy the conveniences of credit NOW, and have your credit established for your professional life after graduation.

On a 3 x 5 card, print your name and complete address. (Enclose $2.00 for postage and handling.) Send to:

Creative Credit International
Collegiate Credit Division
Suite 303 - Penn Lincoln Bldg.
789 Penn Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15221

Thanks, Brother James...

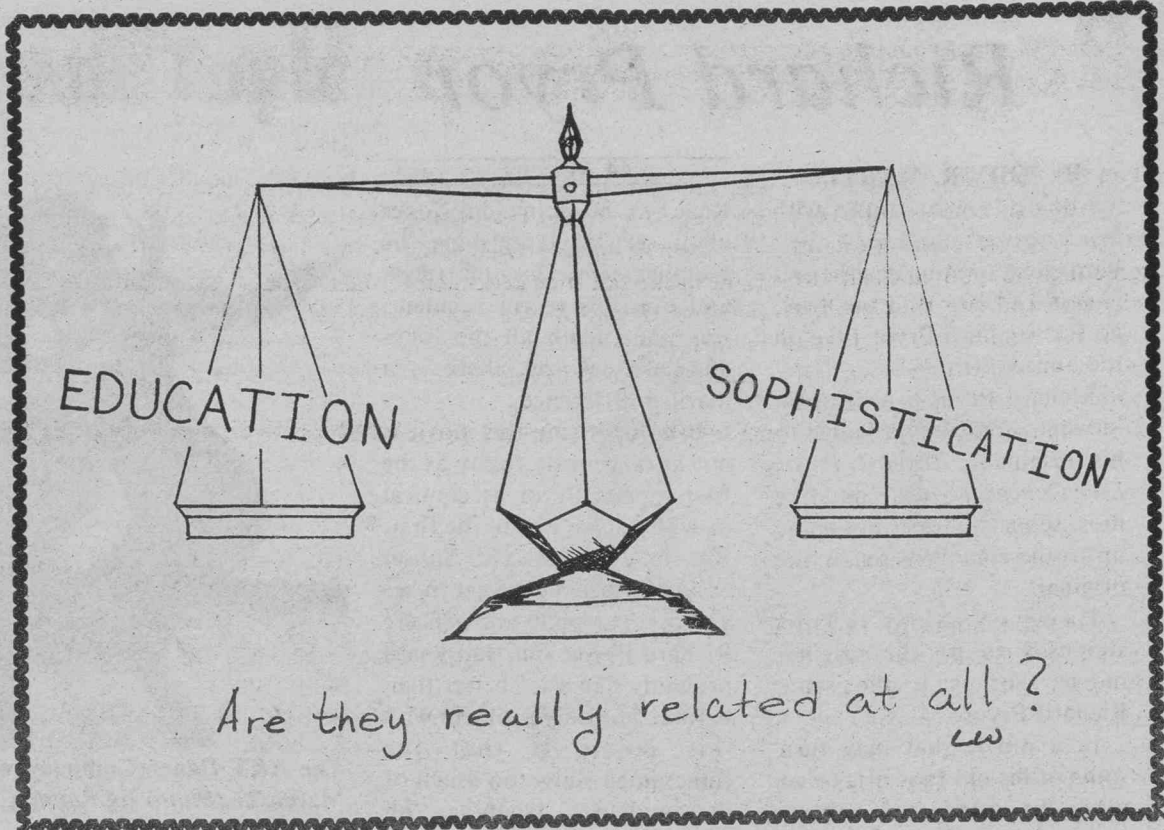

"Accidents can happen." An often used expression that generally carries little significance to the user, unless he or she is the victim. Whenever adversities strike a friend or acquaintance, their contemporaries usually offer consoling elocutions like, "I know how you feel," or "I can relate to that." But in reality, they only have a partial knowledge of the experience because the hurt belongs exclusively to the victim. Onlookers cannot know the extent of his or her pain.

The unfortunate mishap at the office today brought these thoughts closer to home and the heartfelt thanks of the entire staff go to Officer James Franks, who was injured while performing his job. Had it not been for his urgings, this editorial would have been written by someone else.

The media can have a numbing effect on the lives of people and their daily exposes on violence make tragic events seem no more uncommon than walking down the street. But, when an accident happens, it grips the viewer with a force that can't be matched on any television set.

Special thanks are also in order for the university and city officials who investigated the matter and helped the staff with its task of producing the paper. Booby prizes are in order for the news media that settled for hearsay instead of maintaining the journalistic oath of accuracy and fair play (WQMG in particular).

Last and certainly not least, the Register staff asks the entire university family to think about Brother Franks as you attend your daily endeavors. And everyone should consider what side of the fence he might sit on the next time he hears the phrase, "accidents can happen..."

Aweless Corbett

By Tony Moore

Congrats to the basketball team for winning the 1982 Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference Tournament in Winston-Salem.

Condolences for the defeat in the opening round game of the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament against West Virginia in Logan, Utah.

A personal blast to Coach Don Corbett.

It was sickening to read in the Greensboro Record statements Corbett made to News-Record sports writer Wilt Browning while in Logan.

"Our players walked in and looked at all the television stuff and all the lights. They've never seen that many lights before and all those different colored lights. They're so awed."

Pity the poor, deprived Black athletes who are awe-struck by television lights. The culturally indigent souls must travel to Logan--the town that excitement forgot--for exposure to elegance.

Be ever mindful of the things you say to J-people. Especially pink J-people. Especially pink J-people who don't even know the name of the university where you work.

It's amazing the images such statements conjure.

In the March 2 issue of the Register, erroneous information appeared in the editorial entitled "Late Semester Blues".

A student who does not withdraw from classes by the specified deadline may only do so after that date with the consent of his department chairman, school dean or the vice chancellor of academic affairs.

So, if you fall so far behind in your classes that you cannot possibly catch up and you miss the specified deadline, just stick it out and do the best you can.

That's what university officials will probably tell you. Any explanation offered will more often than not be viewed as an excuse rather than a reason.

And, if you do stay in that class and fail, tough!

Doth sayeth the university

The A&T Register

Published twice weekly during the school year by students of North Carolina Agricultural and Technical State University.

To receive the A&T Register, please send $9.50 for one year or $17 for two years to the A&T Register, Box E-25, NCA&TSU, Greensboro, North Carolina, 27411 to cover mailing and handling costs.

Editor-In-Chief.....Michael A. Fairley
 Managing Editor.....Tony Moore
 News Editor.....Audrey L. Williams
 Business/Ad Manager.....Deborah Sanders
 Sports Editor.....Wade Nash
 Production Manager.....Thomas E. Harris
 Head Typist.....Sandra J. Stewart
 Entertainment Editor.....Rosalind Simpson
 Art Editor.....Pearless Speller
 Chief Photographer.....Harold Tyson
 Circulation Manager.....Phyllis Fennell
 Distribution Manager.....Randall Taylor
 Adviser.....Mrs. Loreno M. Marrow

Represented For National Advertising By
COMMUNICATION ADVERTISING SERVICES FOR STUDENTS (CASS)

1633 West Central Street
 Evanston, Illinois 60201

The Paper Plague

By Deborah M. Sanders

Attention: business executives, secretaries, instructors and administrators. Do you have any paperwork growig on your desks or in your file cabinets? Paperwork that you should have sent off, corrected or mailed away during your day, but now your intentions are past due.

Do you know happens when paperwork-germs are allowed to grow in your office? They are left to colonize speckled with ink-ridden signatures, stampings and other symptoms. Paperwork that is left unattended becomes a plague that is transmitted from one office to another at unalarmingly slow rates. On the other hand, paperwork that moves quickly from office to office, to its final destination, does not become diseased like its plague-ridden counterpart. Therefore, one must always take precautions when handling paperwork. One must make sure that it is indeed approval-stamped so that possibly long awaited goods may be delivered--perhaps, to poor hard working students and others.

Register, Keep Up The Good Work!

Editor of the Register:

On behalf of the HORNET staff, I would like to extend greetings to you and all the elements of North Carolina A&T. I would like to thank you for keeping the lines of communication open with us. I always read every edition of the Register whenever I receive it. Your editorials are very good, straightforward and to the point. "Keep up the good work!"

And speaking of good work, YOUR AGGIES WERE FANTASTIC IN THE MEAC. The men played very well, especially James Anderson and Joe Binion. They were all over the court, exerting the intensity to win the conference title. They were unstoppable; even when the fight broke out they kept their poise and ended the game victoriously.

And let me not forget your fans, your cheerleaders and Miss A&T, who were beaming with pride and confidence in their team throughout the MEAC.

I'm sorry that I can not say this about our fans and cheerleaders who showed no interest in the tournament. I look forward to seeing A&T do it again next year. I hope our team will get better so they can play the Aggies for the title. Until then, cheerleaders keep up that superb cheering and fans keep hollering for your Superteam.

Sincerely yours,
Joan A. Samuels
Editor In Chief

The (Delaware State) Hornet

The Aggies were fantastic in the MEAC. They were unstoppable. they kept their poise and ended the game victoriously.

Keep A&T
Beautiful

Editor of the Register:

The Council of Presidents, which represents all registered campus organizations, would like the student body to show its support for Dr. Fort's objectives by joining with us in a year-round campus clean-up effort.

On Saturday, March 27, we would like you to come out with all organizations and share in our efforts to beautify our campus. We ask for your help from 9 to 10 a.m.

We are asking that all students in organizations meet in front of the building of their academic interest and clean up the grounds in that area.

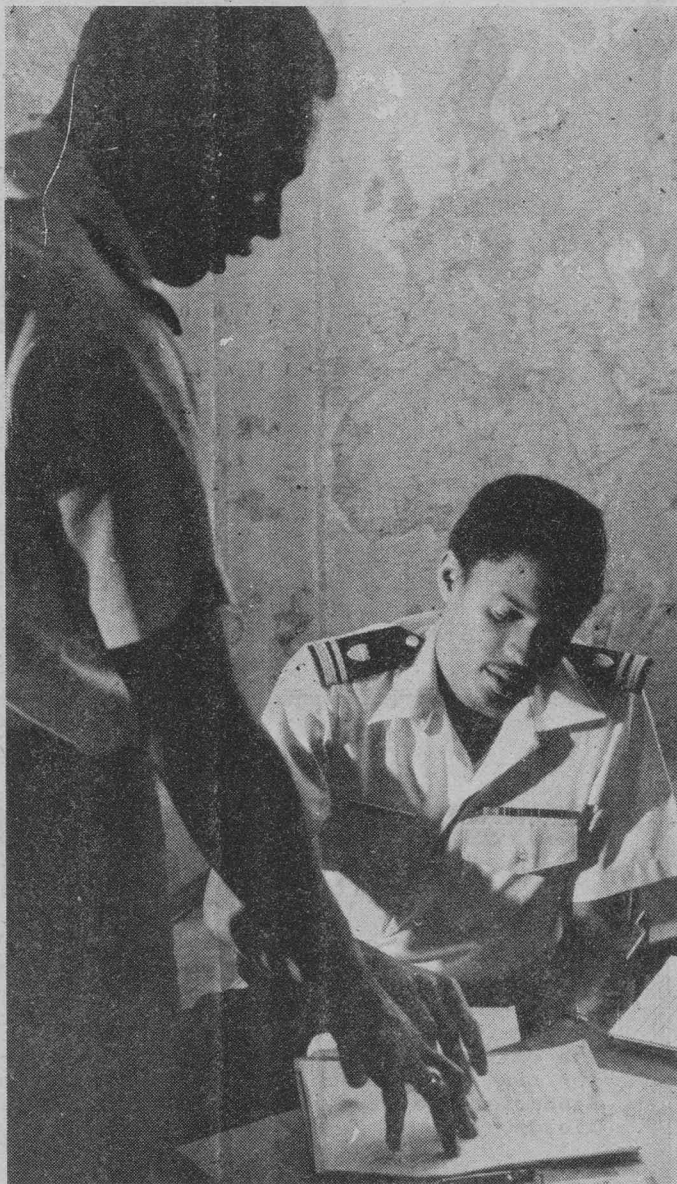

Students not belonging to any organization are asked to meet in front of their dormitory and clean the dormitory areas.

This is the third segment of the campus beautification campaign. After each group finishes cleaning their area, we would like for you to clean the pathway enroute to the cafeteria.

This is our campus, so let's spread our Aggie Pride into maintaining our campus grounds, dormitories, and other facilities. KEEP A&T BEAUTIFUL!

Carl Locus
President,
Council of Presidents

JUNIORS! EARN UP TO $10,000 WHILE COMPLETING YOUR COLLEGE DEGREE.

If you're a junior in good academic standing and of good moral character, the U.S. Coast Guard can help you pay for your senior year of college. Through the Enlisted College Student Program the Coast Guard will pay you while you complete your education. Among other benefits you get:

- Free medical and dental care
- Tuition assistance for post graduate education
- Thirty days paid vacation per year
- Seniority for those who make the Coast Guard a career

How It Works: You apply for this program during your junior year. If you are selected to attend Officer Candidate School, you will be enlisted into the regular Coast Guard for four years. During the summer following your junior year, you attend eight weeks of basic training at Cape May, New Jersey, as an enlisted person drawing full pay. You advance to the grade of Seaman Apprentice upon successful completion of recruit training, then return to college for your senior year. During your senior year you will be in the Coast Guard, on active duty and drawing full pay and allowances (approximately $895 per month). Wearing a uniform to class is not required and your only duty will be to earn your degree, whereupon assignment to the next available OCS class follows. The 17 week-long school is conducted at Yorktown, Virginia. Upon graduation from OCS you receive your commission as an Ensign in the Coast Guard Reserve to begin serving a three year active duty commitment. Your commissioned starting salary will be at least $16,000 per year while you accomplish some of the most important work in the country—performing search and rescue missions—protecting our coastlines, waterways and environment—regulating our 200 mile economic control zone—intercepting narcotics traffic.

How To Apply: To see if you qualify for this program, call Lt. (jg) Stephen Jackson collect, Monday-Thursday, 6:30 A.M.-4:30 P.M., at 202-426-1823, or you may write him at: Commandant (G-PMR-3), U.S. Coast Guard 2100 2nd Street, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20593.

HELP OTHERS. HELP YOURSELF.

THE U.S. COAST GUARD

The 1981-82 basketball season ended as a banner year for both Aggie teams. Team and individual honors were garnered to emphasize a positive future for the Aggies.

Joyce Spruill's Aggiettes played themselves to the number two spot in the state Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women tournament in Wilmington. They competed in the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference Tournament and lost a tough contest to this year's champion, Howard University's Lady Bison.

Shirley Hall and Lori Smith paced the A&T attack in rebounding and scoring.

Donald Corbett guided the Aggies to their second post-season contest and Corbett was named MEAC coach of the year for the second year in a row.

Corbett was determined to gain the automatic berth in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament which would add $120,000 to the A&T athletic fund. He won the battle of words with Howard Coach A.B. Williamson at the conference's opening banquet. Corbett said, "A&T is the MEAC's defending champion and we'll prove it on the court." The Aggies did, and they dominated the conference's individual honors.

Freshman sensation Eric Boyd earned tournament Player Of The Game, despite fouling out with more than three minutes remaining. Boyd scored sixteen points, grabbed eight rebounds, passed for six assists and controlled the flow of the game.

Joining Boyd on the All-Tournament team were teammates Joe Binion and James Anderson.

Binion tallied 14 points and pulled down seven rebounds. Binion played a vital role in the Aggie zone defense that forced Bison star James Ratiff into a three for 16 shooting performance. Ratiff connected on eight of nine freethrows, but grabbed 14 rebounds.

James Horace played a super championship game. He grabbed eight rebounds, added 14 points and blocked several shots. His play was very instrumental in the Aggies' 79-67 win.

By WADE NASH

THE SPORTS REPORT

Darryl Battle gave a stellar performance, grabbed steals, blocked shots and gave added support to the A&T frontline.

A&T placed Boyd, Binion and Anderson on the All Tournament team along with Florida A&M University's Darry Spence and Howard's James Ratiff.

The Aggies' visit to the playoffs was brief but rewarding. A&T lost a shoot out with 14-ranked West Virginia 102-72, in the Far West Regionals played in Logan, Utah. The contest was aired locally on WGGT (Channel 48) and nationally on ESPN. The Aggies never quit and the 82 attempted field goals is an indication that we had some shots.

The Aggies had their chance at the national title and that means a lot. My picks for the final four are UNC, Missouri, Virginia and Georgetown.

My picks could be off, but so were the people that picked DePaul.

The intramural racquetball tournament and its field of 32 will start next week. The football staff will be led by Roger Buswell, Ron Beard and Rick Franz. The ROTC will be paced by Col. Monroe Fuller, Maj. Willie Boykin and Maj. Albert Mitchell, Jr. Ralph Brown will represent the intramural department and try to move up and challenge for the crown.

The tournament favorites have got to be Dr. Roy D. Moore and Dr. George Simpkins. These two have been discussing the tournament for weeks and now it's time to stop talking and start playing. Moore said, "I don't fear the upset because I know all of my opponents' best moves. I'll never give them the opportunity to use their kill shots and when you get right down to it, I'm in better shape than my opponents."

The tournament will be pressure packed and, more than likely, it will have a few upsets. The majority of the players are evenly matched, but Moore added, "When the matches are close, it takes guts to pull them out and that's why I'll win."

Nobel

(Continued From Page 1)

The prize winning scientist began her career at Hunter College in New York City. She then went to the Veterans Administration Hospital as assistant chief of its radioisotope and nuclear medicine services. In 1970 she became the chief of nuclear medicine there. She has also served as a research professor in the Department of Medicine at Mt. Sinai School of Medicine.

Dr. Yalow is currently the distinguished professor-at-large at the Albert E. Einstein College of Medicine at Yeshiva University; and chairman of the department of clinical sciences at Montefiore Hospital and Medical Center in Bronx, New York.

She has been much honored for her work in the field of research and medicine. She was awarded the Gratum Genus Humanum Gold Medal of the World Federation of Nuclear Medicine and Biology, the Albert Lasker Basic Medical Research Award, the Scientific Achievement Award of the American Medical Association, the Banting Medal of the American Diabetes Association and more than 25 other distinguished awards and prizes.

Dr. Yalow's research is relevant to the fields of gastroenterology, pharmacology, toxicology, biochemistry, bacteriology, virology and enzymology.

COLLEGE ENGINEERS

Earn while you learn (About $900.00 monthly)

The United States Air Force has recently announced a program that can pay you up to $900.00 per month during your senior year. Financial aid is available to students in 13 specific engineering fields.

You may join the program up to 12 months before your graduation. Then you will attend Officer Training School and serve your country as an Air Force Officer. It is one of the most dynamic and challenging engineering careers you can imagine.

Find out if you qualify for the Air Force and for a salary while you're still in school.

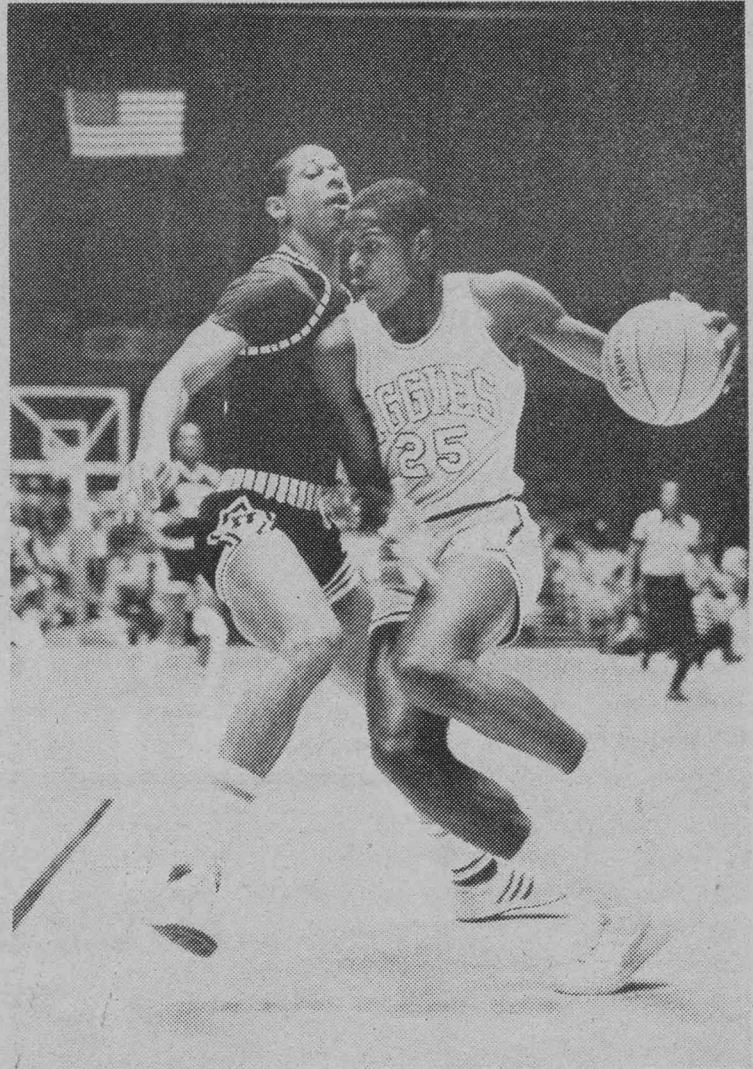

SSgt. Homer Corbett
Box 694
Greensboro, NC 27402
Phone: 378-5962

AIR FORCE

A
G
G
I
E
S

M
E
A
C

Champions

Campus Haps

The Electronic Music Club will present an evening of their Original Works Friday, March 26, at 8:15 p.m. in Frazier Hall Room 107. Admission is free.

Attend! The Organization of Mass Communication students will hold a joint meeting of the officers and the executive committee on Monday, March 29, at 7:00 p.m. in Room 228 of Crosby Hall. The organization will hold a general membership meeting Thursday, April 1, at 6:15 in Room 228 Crosby. Both meetings are open to interested students or faculty.

There will be an important meeting for all Food Science majors and students in and related areas March 24, Room 301 Hines Hall at 5 p.m. It concerns the IFT Convention, which will be held in Las Vegas.

The Gate City Chapter of A&T State University Alumni Association is holding its annual Fund Drive. This year's goal is $25,000. This money will be used to provide scholarships for needy and deserving students. Each faculty member and campus employee is asked to purchase one 32 Oz. bottle of Sunny Dish Detergent and one 32 Oz. bottle of Shiny Pine Bathroom Cleaner at $2.25 each. Orders can be placed by calling 274-9691 or 274-8548 and can be picked up at the Bryan House, 1606 Salem St. on April 2 or 3 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The English Lecture Series will present Mr. Luther Jackson Jr., visiting associate professor of English, on Wednesday, Mar. 24, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 213-215 of the Memorial Student Union. His topic is "On Returning To A Black College After A 32-Year Hiatus."

State Wrestling Champ To Attend A&T In the Fall

By ROBERT MACK

Johnny Coleman, a state high school wrestling champion in the 177 pound weight class from Wilson (N.C.) Hunt High School, has made a commitment to attend A&T this fall, according to Coach Melvin B. Pickney.

At the North Carolina High School Athletic Association State Wrestling Tournament held last month in Winston-Salem, Coleman placed first to take the weight class state title. Jamestown Ragsdale High School won the team title.

A&T has another commitment from Western Guilford's Greg Raliegh, brother of Aggie wrestler, Brian Raliegh, who recently participated for the Aggies in the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference Championships held at the University of Maryland-Eastern Shore in Princess Anne, Maryland.

Greg Raliegh had a fourth place finish in the state tournament this season.

"We believe we can bring in around 15 wrestlers this fall because of the growing popularity of high school wrestling here in the state," noted Coach Pickney.

"We are also in contact with the Schniederman brothers of Greensboro Grimesly, and possibly three prospects from Wilmington (N.C.) Hoggard High School.

"We believe we have made a good start in the recruiting process this spring and to remain competitive with area power South Carolina State and improved Delaware State (that offers 10 full scholarships a year), we are going to have a stronger summer recruiting program," Pinckney explained.

"The growing popularity of high school wrestling will be a positive factor and the attractiveness of our schedule (being in the MEAC and the NCAA Division I), along with the number of tournaments we participate in (6), are also keys to our attracting quality performers for the Aggie wrestling program."

"Last year," according to Pinckney, "we lost up to seven prospects to rival Winston-Salem State University, which had the best small college wrestling team in the state this past season." But Pinckney stressed that "With the amount of contacts we have this year, we believe it is possible for us to reach that plateau."

The Aggies were 8-6 this year in dual meets, along with a fourth place finish in the MEAC. The team returns nearly all wrestlers with the exception of senior Chuck Mac Arthur of the 126 pound weight class.

Besides junior James Mosely of Camden, New Jersey, (who had a 26-0 record, but was ineligible for the MEAC Championships due to academic difficulties), Coach Pinckney noted that John Wirth of the 118 pound weight class did well at the MEAC meets and improved greatly over the season.

Coach Pinckney also noted that Delaware State University is going into its wrestling program (offering 10 full grants in aid) with the same enthusiasm of old MEAC power Morgan State University. Winston-Salem State and Elizabeth City State University are also rebuilding their programs.

SGA President Stephen Kirk (left) and Chancellor Edward B. Fort (right) exchanged many expressions during their meeting Wednesday. (Photo by Randal Taylor)

After a real thrilling first date...

cuddle up with the real taste of beer.

Pabst Blue Ribbon.

©1982 Pabst Brewing Company, Milwaukee, Wisconsin